

But we must not dwell in a Dreamland
When the work of the world's to do,
For tho' our part seem trivial,
It must be carried thro';
So up and arm for the battle!
Into the vanguard go,
Refreshed by fragrant memories
From the Land of the Firelight Glow.