

With feeble wing, the bee now
roves,
And with unceasing toil,
Murm'ring thro' the breezy groves,
Culls all her flow'ry spoil.

No stormy wind disturbs the waves,
The stream now smoothly glides;
The brook its banks in quiet
laves;
And silently subsides.

The lowing herds range o'er the mead

With flow'rs and verdure drest;
The bleating flocks as happy feed;
And all the plain is blest.

Now swallows wing the dewy
glades

As thwart the lawns they fly;
To rivulets and cooling shades
The rustic sylvans hie.
