PARNELL'S POLITICAL PAPERS.

A Proposal to Destroy Them Calls Forth Strong Protests From His Friends.

London, June 10.—The executors of the will of the late Charles Stewart Parnell have decided to destroy his political correspondence. The decision called forth vehement protests from friends of the deceased statesman against wiping out valuable historical records. The letters cover the time from the rising of Fenianism to the Home Rule agitation, and include reports of interviews with and communications from Mr. Gladstone, Lord Randolph Churchill, the Earl of Carnarvon and Archbishops Walsh and Croke. The friends maintain that the letters would be certain to reveal many state secrets which would justify the executors in sealing them up for fifty years, but they hold that they have no right to destroy them. Mr. Parnell's estate promises to pay 10s. in the pound.

MASSACRED BY THE CHINESE.

English, French and American Missionaries Slain at Cheng-Tu.

London, June 10.—The Telegraph publishes a Shanghai despatch saying it is almost certain that all persons connected with the English, French and American missions at Cheng-Tu have been massacred. The Chinese admit that telegrams have been stopped by Government orders. A French gunboat has gone to Wu-Chang on the Yang-Tse-Kiang to inquire into the matter. Virtually the whole Province of Canton is in a state of anarchy, the rival factions raiding each other.

The Jack Tied Up.

Port Huron, June 10.—The Canadian steamer Jack, which was wanted on a libel for $164,000 for the sinking of the steamer Norman off Alpena, and which got away from that port before the papers could be served, slipped past the folks at Port Huron on Saturday morning, still keeping in Canadian waters, but Deputy Marshal Pettit chased after her in the fast tug Thompson. When she was finally compelled to get into American waters he was right at her heels, and clapped the libel on her. The Jack was brought to this port and tied up. Her owner, Calvin, of Kingston, is a wealthy man, and will undoubtedly have her released on bond.

An inquest was held on the body of an infant found dead at Hamilton. The verdict was death from neglect and starvation, but the jury could not decide whether the child was alive or not when left on the mountain side.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

1. Mr. Hustlemuch—I dink dese sign vill catch der people, and make a hit.

2. And so it did.

The Worst That Could Befall.

The following is a story of an incident that actually took place at the marine barracks at the Charlestown Navy-Yard:

A soldier was one morning brought before the commanding officer, charged with the offense of telling a lie to one of the other officers. After the Major had heard the evidence he said to the culprit: "Do you know what will become of you if you tell lies to your officers?"

The soldier quickly replied: "Yes, sir; I shall go to hell."

"Worse than that, sir; worse than that," said the commanding officer. "You will be tried by a paval court martial."—Boston Globe.

AN ARMED CRANK.

Arrested Near Balmoral With a Loaded Revolver and a Bag of Cartridges.

Aberdeen, June 7.—An unknown man was arraigned in court here to-day charged with having fired a revolver on the Balmoral road, near Balmoral. The hearing was adjourned pending inquiry for additional evidence. The man is suspected of being a crank, and of loitering about Balmoral watching his chance to make an attack upon some member of the royal family.

The man proved to be Thoman Don, son of a farmer living at Crieff. When he was arrested he said he was on his way to Balmoral to obtain an interview with the Queen. He had in his pocket a paper headed, "To the Queen," and a letter addressed to Mr. Gladstone, in which the writer said he was about to become King of Britain. He also had a letter addressed to Mr. Vanderbilt, offering to marry the millionaire's daughter. Six chambers of his revolver were loaded, and he had besides fifty cartridges in a bag. His arrest was due to information lodged by two men who met him on the road to Balmoral, and observed him practising with his revolver. He resisted arrest and fought desperately before he was overpowered.
