

POTASH

Potash as Necessary as Rain

The quality and quantity of the crops depend on a sufficiency of in the soil. Fertilizers which are low in Potash will never produce satisfactory results.

Every farmer should be familiar with the proper proportions of ingredients that go to make the best fertilizers for every kind of crop. We have published a series of books, containing the latest researches on this important subject, which we will send free if you ask. Write now while you think of it to the

Bone Spavin

Know it by the lump and the limp—a hard, bony growth on the inner side of the hock joint, usually low down and a little forward of the center of the leg—a quick hitch with the sound leg, and a stiff movement of the lame leg, bearing the weight on the toe, most noticeable in starting.

New cases, old and bad cases, the very worst cases, cases where firing has failed, are cured by

Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste

Guaranteed to cure the lameness for good—may or may not take off the lump. Easily used by anybody, and a single 45-minute application usually does the work—occasionally two required. Write for Free Horse Book before ordering. It gives all the particulars, and tells you what to do for other kinds of blemishes.

THE SPICE OF LIFE.

Denmark is a country of intensive farming. Every available foot of ground is under cultivation. Cattle are not allowed to roam at will and trample down the pasture, but are either tethered in the field or fed in the stables, and even sheep are to be seen tethered to stakes and disconsolately tugging at their ropes. As for the pigs, they are not tethered, but are kept closely confined, except the breeding sows, which are given a rather limited amount of exercise.—Day.

Sunlight is not only the cheapest, but also one of the most efficient agents known for the destruction of disease germs. It follows, then, that the windows should be of good size and numerous. In a wall twelve inches thick, with the rays of the sun striking it at an angle of forty degrees, a window sixty inches wide will admit nearly three times as wide a stream of sunlight as another that is only thirty inches wide; and if the wall be twenty inches thick, the one will admit, under the same conditions, more than four times as great a stream of sunshine as the other. Hence the economy of large windows and thin walls.—Ketchen.

An enterprising salesman from one of the large cities went to a certain rural community and endeavored to sell an incubator to a farmer. His arguments did not make any impression upon the agriculturist. Finally, as a clincher in favor of his up-to-date improvement, he exclaimed:

"Look at the time it will save!"

The farmer squirted a mouthful of tobacco juice on the ground before replying, and then said, with provoking calmness:

"Oh, what's time to a settin' hen?"

That settled the question. No incubator was sold.

Judge Poland, of Vermont, was a member of Congress, and in demand as a campaign speaker. He was not a strict temperance man, though by no means intemperate. He was to make a speech in Maine, where the temperance laws were stringent. The chief committeeman knew the Judge, so he placed two mugs, supposed to be filled with milk, on a table near where the Judge stood. Slyly the committeeman intimated to the Judge which mug he should drink from.

The Judge had not gotten far in his discourse before he became thirsty. He raised the mug, quaffed it to the bottom, then exclaimed: "Ye gods, what a cow."

When Davy Crockett sat in the National Legislature as a representative of the State of Texas he had many clashes with men of more education, but less-wit than himself. It is told of him that one day while standing in front of his hotel on Pennsylvania Avenue, a swarm of mules trotted by under the custody of an overseer from one of the stock farms in Virginia. A Congressman from Boston, who was standing near by, attracted Crockett's attention to the unusual sight, saying:

"Hello, there, Crockett! here's a lot of your constituents on parade. Where are they going?"

The celebrated hunter looked at the animals with a quizzical glance, and then turning to the other, said quietly, but with great emphasis, "They are going to Massachusetts to teach school."

A Mobile man tells the following story of an old character in that town who for many years has done a thriving business in hauling ashes. One day, says the Mobile man, he chanced to be in the rear of his house when the darky in question was preparing to depart with the customary load. "I've seen you haul many a load of ashes," said the owner of the house, "but, my good man, during all these years I've never had the least idea of your name. What is it?"

"Mah name is George Washin'ton, sah," replied the old man, with a duck of his head.

"George Washington, eh!" reiterated the questioner. "It seems to me," he added, with a smile, "that I've heard that name before."

"Reckon you have, sah," came the answer, in all seriousness, "'cause Ise been haulin' 'way ashes from yo' house for more'n ten years."
