But only keen and discerning observers anticipated that the other Teuton offensive would have its protagonists in Canada, even in the limits of the French city of Montreal.

Recent occurrences however, have justified the predictions and prophecies of these newspaper observers. But to fill the cup to the brim the Peace Offensive has been launching an open propaganda of band as the other Teuton offensity in the proposal of a peace conference.

SOLL COAL-TAR MAGIC.

Pow Material.

Valuable Products Made From This

The modern magician's favorite raw material is coal tar. He waves his wand over it, and lo! all soris of marvels spring into being.

Coal tar (a cheap by-product in the manufacture of illuminating gas) is an exceedingly complex organic compound, out of which the chemist ms to be able to dig almost anything he wants, from a dye to a per-fume, from a disinfectant to a grease-spot eradicator and from a pain-quelling drug to a war explosive. It is almost exactly a century since (in 1826) naphthalene was first de-freed from coal tar. We are most liar with it to-day as the sub-familiar with it to-day as the substance out of which mothballs are made. But from it have also been obtained some beautiful colors—buttefcup yellow and a variety of scarlets, pinks and greens.

Next came benzine—discovered in 1825 by Michael Faraday. There is a little bottle of it in every household. It has the property of dissolving fats, and therefore is highly effective as a remover of grease spots. What is known as the "dry-cleaning" process (a mystery to most folks) is simply washing with a mixture of gasoline and benzine soap.

Many years ago a clever chemist was trying to make an artificial quinine from benzine treated with nitric acid. In this attempt he failed, but to his great surprise his process yielded cheaply and in quantity 'aniline' -- the stuff that is to-day

"aniline"—the stuff that is to-day the source of a whole rainbow of wonderful dyes.

From bensine, also, is derived an artificial oil of bitter almonds, used by the hundreds of tons for the scenting of soaps. And likewise obtained from coal-tar (black and ill smelling) are many exquisite perfumes, such as "white heliotrope," for my lady's tollette.

Anthracene (from coal-tar) furnishes the gorgeous color for fabrics known as "turkey red," which formerly was extracted from the root of the madder pinnt. The discovery that the veritable color stuff of the madder root could be chemically produced revolutionised the dyeing and calleo-printing industries.
