First Sally Cohen is the one I am

First—Sally Cohen is the one I am taking to win from a poor bunch. Silverin will be close up. Gwendolyn F. should be a good price, and be able to cop the small end.

Second—Jeanette M. and Ida May should have a battle for this race. The former is extra good. Ida May will have a good apprentice up, and give the best a run for the money. Crawford is the dangerous one. T. Calhoun was ridden out last time.

Third—Marksman won by himself last out, and is a beautiful fencer. Wilson is overdue with Pagan Bey. Com. Fontaine should hold the balance safe.

Grant Spring Brewery Stakes—Faunieroy should win here to-day. Likes the mud, and will certainly have plenty of it to-day. Young entry has a pretty shifty two-year-old in Fereno; worked well at Latonia. Turf Star is sure to be installed favorite, but third is the best I can make her.

Gibson Handicap—Centre Shot for this one. Is in rare good form just now.

ington may come to life if any scrausitake place.

Seventh—King of Mist under existing conditions should win here to-day. Woolstone is sure to be close up. Petulant is ready. Wilton Lackaye likes this distance, and, if ready, will be heard from.

Try it to-morrow.

A Question of Quality.

You know prominent men who smoke rank five-cent cigars rather than a genuine Havana. Some because they are cheap, others because they cannot scent a difference. Like cigars, cheap meats suit some people. For those who want quality in meat we appeal for patronage, and guarantee satisfaction. — Peebles, Hobson & Co., Limited.

that, if he were not an Anglican still, if all that were Anglican were taken out of him, there would be little left. From that denomination he had received all he could without being one of them. He was one of those who believed in a larger union than has ever been enacted, and believed the ultimate union would be universal in Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The important thing produced by any church was its type of life, and he believed all could become one. He thanked the Synod for their kind reception and extended to them his good will, brotherly love and best wishes for prosperity.

In reply Bishop DuMoulin said that whether Dr. Lyle came as moderator or as pastor, he was glad to see him and hear his words of brotherly love. He had listened to him with deep interest in expressing his kind words of hope, and hardly deserved the compliments paid him, but he accepted them in the spirit in which they had been given, and offered to Dr. Lyle his unfailing friendship, love and affection.

"Go and show that to your business men as an example of a good in-restment," said he. Mr. Ward then went vestment," said he. Mr. Ward then went into the work of the campaign in Montreal where they set out to raise $300,000 and finished up with $320,000. He told how the committees were made up into a central committee, a business men's committee and how they worked. Each team, of which there were ten, was to report every day, and to the honor of Montreal, he said, it was the one city in forty which had carried on similar campaigns, in which not one one city in forty which had carried on similar campaigns, in which not one team missed a day without getting results. He hoped Hamilton would do as well. The raising of $50,000, he said, while a good thing and essential to the welfare of the boys and young men of Hamilton, would not, he believed, be the best result of the campaign. The uniting together of 100 earnest Christian men in the undertaking would, he believed, prove a greater thing than the raising of the money. In Montreal Dr. Johnston, one of the ministers, declared that the campaign there had been the greatest revival the city had ever known.

The resolution introduced by Mr. J.
C. Inglis. "That the Synod books for the M. S. C. C. apportionment be closed on Sept. 30 in each year, commencing 1910,"
was on motion of the Chancellor held over till next year.

Rev. Dr Lyle paid a visit to the Synod and was called to the platform by the Lord Bishop.

Dr. Lyle, in addressing the Synod,
said he supposed he might address them as fathers and brethren. He was not there as moderator of the General Assembly, but as an individual and pastor of one of the city churches. He owed much to the Anglican Church, having been connected with that denomination in the old land, he had rendered considerable service to the Anglicans, but had received more than he imparted. All churches owed much to the scholarship of that body, which they could never repay. He was here to say that, if he were not an Anglican still,
if all that were Anglican were taken out of him, there would he bittle

and extended to them his good will, bro-therly love and best wishes for prosper-the beautami etty, and had to drop in and pay his respects to the Bishop and Synod of Niagara. This was an anniversary of this synod, and when the Synod of Toronto lost Bishop DuMoulin, it lost one of the brightest jewels 'it had ever had. He hoped, as the years go by, the strong constructive work of this synod would go on in increased strength. Bishop DuMoulin replied that it gave him much pleasure to listen to the words of his brother in the work, and was afraid he was not so loyal as he, as had he himself been visiting a city and heard time to sum it all up. He asked Mr. Adam Brown to say a few words on behalf of the laymen.

Mr. Brown thanked the Bishop of Toronto and Dr. Lyle for their kind words, and it afforded him much pleasure to reply to such expressions. For years he had been an intimate friend of the Bishop of Toronto and all their connections had strengthened his attachment to the Bishop. He thanked him for his kind words concerning the beloved Bishop of Niagara, and speaking on behalf of the laymen, he hoped the Bishop of Toronto might be long spared to prosecute the work to which he was consecrated. He was not surprised at the words of Dr. Lyle and the spirit in which he spoke. He is one of the broadest-minded men that it was ever his privilege to know. Dr. Lyle always extended to other religious bodies the right of thought and was not afraid to express his opinion. If the churches had more men like Dr. Lyle the question of union would be much simplified. He was broad enough to open his arms to all and there was no man in Hamilton more respected.

Ottawa, June 23.—Ottawa has no information that the Kistoiy Indians of British Columbia are on the war path, as reported by a despatch from Victoria. It is known that the northern British Columbia Indians are anxious to have their land claims settled, but no grievance is known which would lead to hostilities.
