ON HUNT FOR HIS FATHER.

Homeless Boy Beat His Way From Pittsburg.

Gentle as a Girl But Used to Hardship

Found an Uncle Who Will Care For Him.

Homeless in a big city, and not know ing where he could find shelter from the cold night blasts, little 14-year-old Jay was found by the police late las night on Barton street east. Tears streamed down the little fellow's cheeke which were blue and pinched by the cold and over his ears he held a pair of numb hands. He was a pitiable sight when P. C. Robson found him. Forthwith th officer notified Truancy Officer Hunter who had the boy taken to Bethel Mis sion.

The boy's story as told to Mr. Hunter was that he came here in search of his father, Edwin Barr. From somebody he heard that there was a man named Edwin Barr living at 29 Smith avenue, so there he went in search of his parent. This morning a Times reporter called at 29 Smith avenue, and tearned that Mr. James Barr lives there, and Mrs. Barr said last night, after 10 o'clock, a faint knocking was heard at the door. She and Mr. Barr had retired for the night. said het night, after 10 octoos, knocking was heard at the door. She and Mr. Barr had retired for the night, but, hearing the knocking continued, Mr. Barr went down, and, on opening the door, there stood a mite of a boy, who wanted to know if Edwin Barr lived there. On being told no, he was told there was a man of that name at 29 St. Matthew avenue. The boy gave no account of himself, but went away. Sa deligate was the boy and so gentle account of himself, but went away.

So delicate was the boy and so gentle bis voice that Mr. Barr, when he went back to bed, told his wife he at first thought the caller was a girl.

Mrs. Barr presumes that after he left her house the policeman must have found the boy, who is not related to her.

This morning Magistrate Jelfs say lad, and to a man who was near b the lad, and to a man who was near by the magistrate pointed and asked the boy if he was his father, "I don't know, sir." was the answer.

Subsequent investigation proved that Mr. Henry Barr. 29 St. Matthew avenue, is the lad's uncle, and up to a short time ago Edwin Barr lived with his brother, both coming here from Pittsburg, and from Henry Barr the following story was learned: When Edwin Barr lived in Pittsburg with his wife differences known only to themselves led to them living apart. The mother kept the boy. Three years ago she died. The father was then in this city, employed in the Westinghouse works. Since her death the boy went to live with her death the boy went to live with various relatives. A desire to see his father, whom he believed to be in sather, whom he believed to be in Hamilton prompted him to come here. Not having enough money for his fare, he jumped a freight train at Pittsburg, and, after a few days' travel, fraught with many experiences, he arrived here resterday. Mr. Henry Barr says that is not the first time he has "made" a freight train, for he beat his way when he was eight years old from Pittsburg to Georgetown, Pa., where his mother was thought to'be dying in the höspital. Henry Barr says his brother Edwin is in Cleveland, and while the boy is here he (his uncle) will look after him.

Washington, Dec. 2 .- There is rejoicing to-day in the ranks of the Nicaraguan insurrectionary party, and corresponding gloom among the friends of President Zelava over the ultimatum handed down yesterday by the United States to the Nicaraguan Government in the note which accompanied the passports delivered by Secretary of State on the note which accompanied the passports delivered by Secretary of State Knox to Felipe Rodriguez, Charge d'Affaires of the Nicaraguan Legation.

The strength of the note and its personal tone are the subjects of comment in diplomatic circles. It is generally recognized that the United States has decided the time has come to put an end to further attacks on American life and interests in Central America:
The far-reaching effect of the note is a matter of especial comment. The fact that President Zelaya is apparently to be held responsible for the murder, socalled, of Grace and Cannon, put a sting to the entire matter.
Concealed in the note is seen a warning to the Central American republics that they must behave like republics
that they must behave like republics in the western hemisphere. This indirect announcement that the United States intends to see that the family of western republic lives harmoniously, is believed by diplomats to be epochal.
The Monroe doctrine in their eyes has attained a new dignity.

CHEAP POWER.

Pacadena Energy Sold at 3c a Kilowatt Hour.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.-The Paca dena Council has established a low record price for electrical energy, fixing cord price for electrical energy, fixing the rate of municipal electricity to users of over 2,000 kilowath hours a month at three cents for each kilowath hour. "Although this is the lowest rate in the United States," declared Manager Koeiner, of the Municipal Lighting Sys-tem, "We can make money at this fig-ure, pay interest on the bonds, and es-tablish a sinking fund. It is a triumph for municipal ownership of an electric generating plant."

THE DEATH OF MRS. SNEAD.

Police of Three Cities Baffled to Find Solution of It.

Was Three Months at the Mercy of Some One.

Left $20,000 to Woman Now Under Arrest.

New York, Dec. 2 .- Police of three cities confessed themselves baffled to-day in their search for a solution of the Snead, the young Brooklyn woman found dead in a bath tub in a house in Fast Orange, N. J. Although the detectives declare themselves satisfied that several persons were involved in a murder, but one arrest has been made.

The lone prisoner is Virginia Wardlaw, a gray-haired spinster, of excellent connection in Nashville and other Tennesee cities, who was Mrs. Snead's companion in the lonely East Orange house, and a dweller with her and two other aged women in a house in Flatbush, Brooklyn. In this Flatbush house the detectives say they have learned Mrs. Snead had been ill and kept in strict seclusion for a long time before she was clusion for a long time before she taken for some mysterious reason to the house of death in New Jersey. That Mrs. Snead was practically at the mercy of whoever was in charge of her during these months is one theory the detectives entertain. In this connection they to-day giving careful consideration he will left by Mrs. Snead, in which are to-day giving careful consideration of the will left by Mrs. Snead, in which all her property was bequeathed to her grandwother. Martha Eliza Wardlaw, and two insurance policies, aggregating $20,000, on the victim's life in favor of Mrs. Virginia Wardlaw.

LIB.-CAUCUS

Want to End Work of Parliamen by Easter.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Ottawa, Dec. 2.-There was a caucu of the Liberal members and senators this morning, presided over by John Tolmie, M.P. There was a general discussion on the state of business before the House and the parliamentbefore the House and the parliamentary programme for the remainder of the session. The thing chiefly in evidence was a general desire to push work in the House and to reach prorogation at the earliest date possible. The more optimistic of the members expressed the belief that the work of Parliament might be finished by Easter, which this year comes on March 27. However, it is doubtful ir this can be done.

OUR CHILDREN.

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—Surely "Civic" (a correspondent of November 30 in one of our evening papers) cannot be correct in thinking that the travelling public would desire that many, very many, children should be compelled to sleep on hard, cold, com-fortless beds every night with only rags for a covering, as the writer has seen; starved from both cold and hunger and their little hearts trembling at the for a covering, as the writer has seen; starved from both cold and hunger and their little hearts trembling at the sound of their father's step, in order that the revenue derived from the money their fathers spend in hotels may afford them (the travelling public, including the strong, manly, well fed, well clothed commercial) a warm, comfortable "bed for 40c instead of $1?" What say the commercial travellers? We feel sure that they have heart enough and clever enough to devise some other means of attaining their necessary and earned comfort. Seeing that it is an inevitable effect of this sale of liquor that many innocent (blameless of even "driving men to drink!") little ones are deprived of the necessities of daily life, which their Creator has provided for them, and seeing that in this 20th century every community, in our country at least, has the right or local option. them, and seeing that in this 20th century every community, in our country at least, has the right, or local option, to say whether "the devil in solution" shall be sold in their boundaries or not, then every community which votes "wet" (that is, "cold," "hunger" and "fear" for the helpless babes), ought to be held responsible for providing the means whereby the children. In their community shall at least be fed and clothed; our law ought to be amended to make such compulsory.

Justice. Justice.

KING DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT.

a week that whole fabric had been thrown to the ground by a body which admittedly had no power to increase or decrease a single tax. With much em-phasis, Premier Asquith declared that admittedly had no power to increase or decrease a single tax. With much emphasis, Premier Asquith declared that the House of Commons would prove unworthy of its traditions if it allowed a single day to pass without making clear that it did not mean to brook this grave indignity and arrogant usurpation of its rights.

The session of Parliament was closing, the Premier said, without a financial act and until fresh provision could be made, the necessity of state it is believed supplied only through borrowing.

He expressed the hope that the ultimate losps to the Government would not be very great, but added that so far as the present financial year was concerned it was obvious that the result of the action of the House of Lords must be the largest deficit yet faced. His warnings, he said, had been unheaded and the responsibility of the chaos, confusion and loss must rest with the lards.

In view of the fact that the Government could not continue the collection of taxes after the prorogation of Parliament the Premier said it had been suggested that the lower chamber bring in a new budget, but he thought affairs would have come to a pretty pass when the House of Commons had to stoop to the humiliation of presenting to the House of Lords an amended budget, trimmed to meet their scruples. To adopt such a suggestion would be a recognition of the Lords' right to amend a finance bill.

It is understood the parliament will be dissolved so as to-permit the holding of elections between January 10 and 20. The prorogation will take place to-morrow.
