

CHINA.

PROGRESS OF THE INSURRECTION.

The want of steam communication with the northward, has kept us in comparative darkness respecting the movements of the insurgent and imperial forces, in the struggle now going on for the dominion of the vast Empire of China.

The principal news from Shanghai by these vessels, is the failure of the attack made by the imperial forces, aided by their fleet of European rigged vessels, on Chin-Keang-foo, a city distant half a mile from the south bank of the Yang-tze River, and strongly fortified.

The Taoutse fleet has returned from Chin-Keang, and as the foreigners who were employed do not seem to approve of the Chinese service, we may expect that the ships will be of no further use against the insurgents.

The numbers of The North China Herald recently to hand, furnish several interesting particulars respecting the rebellion. Dr. Charles Taylor, an American Missionary, had made his way into the patriot camp, and was there during the time of the attack by the Taoutse fleet.

PROCLAMATION BY THE INSURGENT CHIEFS. Yang, the eastern Prince, Generalissimo of the army, and Prime Minister of State, as well as religious Instructor and Deliverer of the People: and Season, the western Prince, second Minister of State, also Generalissimo of the army.

Both servants of the Celestial Dynasty of T'haeping, which has received the veritable decree of heaven to rule, together issue the following proclamation to all classes of people, requiring them each and all to follow peacefully their peculiar vocations.

When the will of heaven is determined, the minds of men should be compliant: heaven having now produced the true sovereign to rule the people, they ought to yield their minds to his renovating influence.

Whoever will of heaven is determined, the minds of men should be compliant: heaven having now produced the true sovereign to rule the people, they ought to yield their minds to his renovating influence.

Given in the 3rd year of the colonial dynasty of T'haeping, on the 1st day of the 6th moon (August, 1853).

The friends of China are of opinion that the fruitless attack on Chin-Keang-foo decides the fate of the Empire, since the Tartars, with all the foreign aid they are likely to get, have been fairly obliged to give it up.

the news of its fall reached the Imperial ears, an overture of peace was at once made. The Hong-Kong Register terms the attack "a Vauxhall kind of bombardment."

The foreign politicians are doing all in their power to prevent their subjects from visiting the disturbed districts, but the eagerness to gain information is such that all attempts to prevent them are comparatively futile.

Four Days later from Europe. The English papers fill pages with the report of the Queen's visit to the Exhibition at Dublin.

The Queen had terminated her visit to Ireland and gone to her residence at Balmoral Scotland. The weavers of domestic power looms in Manchester, have struck.

Liverpool three emigrant ships sailed from Liverpool during the month of August, carrying 20,340 passengers.

THE ROMAN GOVERNMENT AND APPRECIATION. The collection of the tax upon industry becomes, as may be well imagined, more difficult than ever during a period of scarcity, and the general resistance made to it is embarrassing to the government.

LADY SALE.—Our arrivals from the Cape of Good Hope announce the demise of Lady Sale, the widow of Sir Robert Sale, and authoress of an account of the captivity of the officers and ladies in Afghanistan.

GREAT BRITAIN. Among the bills which have just received the sanction of Parliament, there is one for the purpose of making a railway under ground from the river of Edgware near London, to the King's Cross.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA. Mr. Jennings, Book Auctioneer, says the Toronto Leader, passed from his own premises across the street to an inn to get his accustomed glass of beer at noon, which he took, and the landlord being at hand, played a single game and beat his antagonist; whereupon he rubbed his hands in satisfaction, and was stepping back to return to his office when he fell.

BERMUDA. The Bermuda mail brings intelligence that the Yellow Fever had appeared at St. George's, and had already carried off the inhabitants.
