The last meeting of the cabinet council of the Laurier administration convened at eleven o'clock this morning, with practically all the ministers in attendance. They continued in session until one o'clock Shortly after the ministers dispersed, Sir Witfrid Laurier drove down to Government House and handed in the resignations of the members of the defeated government.

The majority of the prospective cabinet ministers saw Mr. B. L. Eorden at his residence this morning, but the finishing touches will not be put on the cabinet-framing job for a day or two. No definite decision as to the representative from British Columbia has yet been reached, it is said.
