The opening exercises were led by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Claris. The meeting was called to order by the president, Rev. W. J. Hindley, Guelph. After the usual committees were appointed and the routine business transacted, Rev. T. R. Forbes, of Listowel, read a scholarly paper on The Canonicity of the Song of Songs, discussing the subject under four divisions—the historic, artistic, scientific and ethical aspects of the canonicity of the book.

The paper provoked a warm diecussion of the whole subject of higher criticism Rev. E. D. Silcox called attention to the lack of reverence for the Bible and religion, and claimed that it was due to the fact that so many ministers preached that the whole Bible was not the inspired word of God. Rev. J. Morton admitted the irrever but denied that it was the result of the preaching of the newer theology. The unrest and doubt came from the

The last item of the afternoon programme was a discussion of "Some Recent Sermon Plans." Rev. W. T. Gunn led the discussion, and he was followed by Revs. C. E. Bolton, T. R. Forbes, George Skinner and others.
Mr. Andrew Imrie conducted the opening exercises of the evening meely ing, which was well attended. The choir of the Southern Church was also present and rendered appropriate music. Rev. A. Second, of Forest, sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." Rev. A. F. Pollock, of Speedside, discussed "The Minister in His Study and Pulpit." He held that while in their studies the ministers should be methodical-that if they were ever to become potent forces of truth and righteousness, they must have time for everything while there. In the pulpit, the power of prayer did not lie in a multitude of words. From pastoral prayer the people should receive as much help as from the sermon itself. What was wanted was positive

Rev. W. McIntosh, of Ottawa, secretary of the Canadian Home Mission Society, gave an address, in which he held that the most effective work could be done by the representatives meeting together and presenting re-ports of their respective churches. It was well enough to discuss criticism at the association meetings, but it was not as good as to find out if a church is in trouble, if it has the wrong pastor, if it has taken a wrong step, is overwhelmed with debt, has made a mistake. The associations should be so organized that no individual church would take an important step without consulting at least a committee of the association. The great cause of the weakness of the churches was their failure to stand by one another.

Rev. E. D. Silcox gave an interesting address on "Congregationalism in the Old Land," showing the great strength of the church in England
