

PICKING JURY TO TRY HAINS

Later's Plea Likely To Be One of Self Defense—Sure of Acquittal.

Flushing, N. Y., Dec. 15.—When court adjourned last night after two long sessions consumed in wearisome examinations of talesmen, six jurors sat in the jury box competent to try Thornton J. Hains, a short story writer, on charges of being an accessory to the killing of William E. Annis, an editor, shot down at the Bayview Yacht Club last summer by Captain Peter C. Hains, jun., of the United States army. Difficulties of securing a jury because of opinions formed of the case were apparent in the examination of talesmen, and Justice Crane directed a new panel of 100 talesmen to be drawn, and a night session to be held. Justice Crane hopes that the trial may be concluded by the end of the week.

Interrogations of talesmen by Hains counsel indicate that the defense will be based principally on the proposition that Thornton Hains, fearing that his brother's life was in jeopardy from the crowd at the club house, because of the shooting of Annis, drew his revolver, and held the crowd back. His act was one of defense and not offense, according to his counsel.

Author Will Testify.
John F. McIntyre, of counsel for Hains, announced last night, that Hains would take the witness stand in his own defense. He will likely tell of those events at Fort Hamilton, which led up to the separation of Captain Hains and his wife, and to the tragedy at the Bayview Yacht Club. Mr. McIntyre will offer in evidence the alleged confession made by Mrs. Claudia Hains to her husband. All of the counsel for the defense were subpoenaed by District Attorney Darrin to appear as witnesses on the case. Mr. Darrin desired to secure the possession of letters written by Thornton J. Hains to Captain Hains last spring asking him to return from the Philippines.

Thornton J. Hains took a lively interest in the examination of talesmen yesterday, and frequently chatted and smiled with his counsel over some of the answers of prospective jury men. Whenever the state's attorney asked a talesman if he knew the defendant, Hains would smile, and point to himself to indicate that he was the defendant, and not one of the numerous counsel who were grouped about him. Hains said he had every confidence that he would get Christmas dinner at home. After the adjournment of court he was accompanied to a deputy sheriff and taken in an automobile to the Long Island Jail. General Peter Hains and Mrs. Hains, father and mother of the defendant, returned to New York following the afternoon session of court.

The six jurors selected were: William Hill, foreman; Thomas Walsh, builder; Henry Hecker, shipping clerk; Samuel Johnson, builders' supplies dealer; John Benham, former stable man; Frederick Richmond, broker's cashier.

When court adjourned last night Justice Crane told the six jurors that he felt they could be trusted to go back and forth to their homes, and he did not believe any one would be so dishonorable as to approach them.

Justice Crane said: "I do not believe you will slander the jury system, and I am going to let you go to your homes, and if anyone approaches you, let me know."

HARRIMAN WINS

Cannot Be Compelled to Tell of Union Pacific Stock Deals.

Washington, Dec. 15.—In deciding yesterday the cases of Edward H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn, vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission, the supreme court of the United States held that the commission is not entitled under the interstate commerce law to press questions relative to private transactions, even though they involve dealings in the securities of interstate railroads, when the investigation of such questions is a part that has been begun on the commission's initiative.

The opinion of the court was announced by Justice Holmes and dealt with the refusal of Messrs. Harriman and Kahn to make reply to questions put by the commission in the course of an inquiry concerning the dealings of Mr. Harriman as president of the Union Pacific Railway in the stocks of other railroad companies, many of which are competing lines. In the course of his opinion Justice Holmes said that the commission's inquiries should be confined to cases in which complaint had been made. He said that privacy should be properly regarded in proceedings begun by the commission for its own purposes. He also said that the powers conferred in the interstate commerce law exceed any which have ever been delegated by an executive body of lawmakers.

AUSTRIA PACIFIC UNDER PRESSURE

Francis Joseph Resolved to Close His Reign Without Balkan War.

London, Dec. 14.—After two months' obstinacy and dangerous delay there are signs now visible that Austria-Hungary may show herself amenable to the first principles of international law. Her repentance is of that unsatisfactory kind which is produced only by compulsion. Still she is giving way under the pressure, and that is considered the main thing.

There has been practical confirmation of last week's report that Francis Joseph is determined to reassess his authority at least on the point of maintenance of peace. His future successor may pursue an adventurous policy if he chooses, but not to the extent of war during the life of the present sovereign.

Germany also, while publicly proclaiming her dutiful loyalty to her ally, privately has been urging moderation at Vienna and pointing out the obvious untenability of the Austrian attitude towards Turkey.

Troops' Suffering a Factor.
Domestic protests throughout the dual monarchy against a reckless policy of government continue to grow stronger. A more insistent national sympathy has been excited also by the severe sufferings from cold and hunger among the 200,000 troops which have been rushed to the southern frontier without adequate provision against the severe climate.

All these influences, combined with the Emperor's stern veto, have compelled even Aehrenthal's intolerance to give way and he is preparing in a sulky spirit to reopen negotiations with Turkey.

His consent to discuss the question of the annexed provinces by written correspondence with the powers as preliminary to a possible conference of the powers is said to say the least, a graceful concession. It means indefinite delay. English, French and Russian diplomats agree that failure to reach a definite agreement before campaign weather comes again would involve great perils. All depends therefore on the spirit wherewith Austria enters upon the execution of her latest suggestion.

Where Delay Imperils Peace.
If the war party in Austria is simply playing for time and its possible contingencies, then the present concession is more apparent than real. The usual rule that delay makes for peace is reversed in the present situation.

There has been some talk this week, especially in the French press, of transmitting the present triple entente into a full Anglo-Franco-Russian alliance. The chief virtue of the present understanding between these powers is that its terms are not technically binding. There is more moral value and more practical strength in these days in voluntary entente than in a formal treaty. A treaty binds governments only and sometimes its bonds are irksome. An entente binds governments and peoples, and when its essential element of friendship disappears then a treaty would be of little value.

Europe has furnished two striking demonstrations of both points within a month. The bitterness now existing between Austria and Italy is an example of the negative value of treaty obligations. When France feared she was to become a victim of German aggression a month ago the British Government offered to support her with all the resources of the empire, and the British people, if they had been consulted, would have approved unanimously.

SHORT SHRIFF FOR REBELS

Indian Council Proposes to Expedite Trials of Anti-English Plotters.

Calcutta, Dec. 14.—The council passed a bill today providing for a speedy trial of persons implicated in plots and political offenses against the British Government in India. Sir Harry Adamson, ordinary member of the council, when introducing the measure, referred to a far-reaching conspiracy, the object of which was to subvert the British rule.

Many seditious organizations, he stated, have lately sprung up throughout India to boycott foreign goods and to terrorize communities in which they exist with a view to bringing about a general revolution against British rule.

These organizations, the members of which number some 15,000, are the nurseries for young anarchists, many of whom come of respectable parents.

FOOTPRINTS OF VANISHED

Evidence of Inter-Glacial People in the Vicinity of Toronto.

Toronto, Dec. 15.—What is declared by Prof. Coleman, of the University of Toronto, to be the footprints of a people of the inter-glacial period, dating back from fifty to one hundred thousand years, distinctly marked in a strata of blue clay, has been unearthed by workmen on the waterworks tunnel of Toronto Bay.

On Nov. 13, in the morning, the concreting gang in Haney & Miller's waterworks tunnel laid bare, for over thirty feet, a strata of blue clay six feet wide, in which there were over a hundred footprints of human feet encased in moccasins.

At the same level, near the footprints, a piece of inter-glacial wood, 12 inches long, was also found. These footprints were found 1,000 feet from shaft No. 2, and at a place 70 feet below the water level of the bay.

Nature a Very Skillful Physician

PUTS UP HER MEDICINES IN MOST TEMPTING FORM.

Have you ever tasted anything more delicious than the fresh, ripe, luscious fruits? These are nature's medicines.

A regular diet without fruit is positively dangerous, for the system soon gets clogged with waste matter and the blood poisoned. Fruit juices stir up bowels, kidneys and skin, making them work vigorously to throw off the dead tissue and indigestible food which if retained, soon poisons the blood and causes indigestion, headaches, rheumatism, neuritis and a host of other distressing troubles.

But there is a quicker way to stimulate the organs to do their work properly. Take one or two "Fruit-A-Lives" tablets every night, besides eating some fresh fruit every day. "Fruit-A-Lives" combine the medicinal properties—many times intensified—of oranges, apples, prunes and figs, with the best tonics and internal disinfectants added.

Their action on bowels, liver, kidneys and skin is as natural as nature's own, but quicker and more effective. Sold by all dealers—25 cents for trial box—50 cents for regular size, 6 boxes for $2.50. Fruit-A-Lives Limited, Ontario, Canada.

find at the same level some imperfect footprints were discovered.

All the footprints, excepting a few which went sideways, were pointing towards Toronto. They varied from slight depressions to two inches in depth.

The markings have been shown to many who have pronounced them as probably genuine.

PARIS WILL DRIVE APACHE FROM CITY

Old Fortifications Where Criminals Live and Hide Are To Be Razed.

Paris, Dec. 14.—Before next summer rolls around, the demolition of the famous fortifications of Paris will have begun. For ten years the Government has been talking of such an action, and now it has been definitely decided upon.

The fortifications are being razed because of the curious race of people which inhabits them, made up of a conglomerate of Apaches and honest citizens, and known under the general name of "belle-épave." It is estimated that they number something like 10,000, and they are a people apart from the rest of Paris. The native French have been joined by the riff-raff of Spain, Italy and other European countries, and an amateur soldier more than is necessary to make what is in their opinion a tidy frontier, and thereupon to retire to their own country.

Whether you leave Paris by the north, south, east or west, you are bound to pass through this strange land, for it encircles Paris, shutting out the great meat which was part of the old-time defenses of the city. It is a quarter of a mile wide, and its circumference is said to be indefinite, for it is a complete circle.

The fortifications are first and foremost a asylum and hiding place for the undesirable and criminal elements of Paris. More than 3,000 of the Apache live there, and the police of Paris leave him practically undisturbed so long as he remains there and does not enter the gates of the city. Even the boys develop a criminal instinct, and it is a common occurrence to find the streets of the district filled with a greedy, lawless, and sometimes fatal knife play.

The single doctor, who, by the way, is a rag-picker by profession, and an amateur doctor in his spare time, says that the majority of his cases among both the children and the grown-ups are of knives, pistols and guns.

The habitations take the form, principally, of caravans, which can be easily moved about the country, but many of the more wretched citizens are not above living in holes in the ground, and upon dragging the man out of his hole, he had been living in that same hole for the last ten years, sleeping away the days and nights, and eating vegetables in the evening for his food.

Rent, however, is not high enough in the fortifications, one would think, to be beyond the pocket of anyone. For $4 a year one can obtain a respectable piece of ground, and a cabin thereon. For $1 a year it is easy to obtain a quite pretentious house, and for $10 one can obtain a considerable garage. Should these prices, by any chance, seem exorbitant, one can lodge free of charge in the fortifications, which runs along the moat, where the ground belongs to the state. There is, however, much of the state-owned ground which remains unoccupied at the present moment. Some of the more astute of the early settlers, with a dozen stakes and some wire netting, marked out considerable domains, and now offer portions of them for rent at from $1 to $2 a year, payable in weekly installments.

The prices that prevail in this curious country are probably as reasonable as are to be found in any place in the world. For instance, it is possible to have one's hair cut or one's face shaved for the best of a crust of bread or a cigar end on the delighted barber. Many of the inhabitants who have some trade, such as carpet beaters or tattooers, are wise enough not to ply them in the fortifications, but make day journeys into Paris and obtain the better prices there possible.

PARIS AIRED BY STEINHEIL CASE

Tragedy Sole Topic in Gatherings of All the Classes.

Paris, Dec. 15.—How closely the Parisians are following the Steinheil case is shown by a skit published yesterday by Adrien Vely, who tells of a dinner invitation which he received at the bottom of which were the words, "on ne parle pas" the idea, of course, being that the affair should not be the topic of conversation at the table.

When the guests gathered at the dinner they all congratulated the hostess on her splendid idea and then found they had nothing else to talk about. All attempts to keep the conversation going were vain and finally each guest turned to the neighbor and began to whisper about the Steinheil case.

At this point newsmen were heard howling about the tenth special extra of the evening paper in the streets, and the host in desperation ordered the butler to fetch in enough copies to go around. The ban was raised, the table commenced talking about Mme. Steinheil and the dinner became a great success.

"Mythomania" Is One Result.
As a result of the successive and contradictory inventions of the widow the word mythomania has been coined. The word is used to describe a tendency to a special kind of lying. Homer was one of the first mythomanees. The mythomania tells a lie, but it is spontaneous and an expression of interior truth. The lie comes from the abysses of subconscious personality. The mythomania believes he is telling the truth, and he is telling in any case his truth, that which he believes for the moment.

Those who believe Mme. Steinheil is a mythomania, and it was they who coined the word, believe she is innocent and sincere.

Every second day Mme. Steinheil has been forced to go through examination, and on Thursday she went through a particularly pitiless one. On this occasion she reverted to her original story of the three Levites and the red woman. Again she told the story of how she was awakened at 11, and in fact rehearsed the details of the story much as she had done at the beginning.

Judge Angered by Stories.
As she has denied all this story once since her arrest she is beginning to incense the judge, who is not a believer in mythomania. Question after question he hurled at her sternly and without pity for six hours, and he did succeed in making her contradict herself more than once.

On the streets boys are selling portraits of the house in Impasse Roquette of the artist's family, and of the beautiful Mme. Steinheil as she was several years ago. These last portraits are attracting the most attention, and dealers who have them find it difficult to keep enough in stock to satisfy the public demand.

TO WED AN EARL

Betrothal of Daughter of Ogden Mills to Lord Granard Announced.

London, Dec. 15.—The betrothal is announced of Beatrice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills, of New York, and Bernard Arthur William Patrick Hastings Forbes, eighth Earl of Granard of Castle Forbes, County Longford, Ireland.

The engagement of Miss Mills was practically foretold when the Earl of Granard came to this country in August with her parents as their guest.

Miss Mills, who is a niece of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and granddaughter of D. O. Mills, is one of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills. The sisters made their entrance into society about five years ago, and Miss Gladys Mills became Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phillips last December.

The Earl of Granard was born in 1874. He entered the army in the Scots Guards, a crack infantry regiment, and became a captain, serving in the South African campaign of 1900 and 1902. He is master of the horse and lord-in-waiting to the King, and deputy lieutenant for the County of Longford, Ireland. The earldom is in the Irish peerage, but the holder sits in the House of Lords as Baron Granard in the peerage of the United Kingdom. He has a fine seat, Castle Forbes, at Newtownforbes, Longford, with about 21,300 acres of land.

Many orders have been bestowed upon the earl. The King of Spain has conferred on him the Grand Cross of the Order of Charles III, and the Grand Cross of Isabella the Catholic, and has also made him a companion of the Spanish order of military merit. For his services in the field he has received from the British crown the Queen's Medal with three clasps, and the King's medal with two.

EVANS ON DREADNAUGHTS
Says U. S. Ships Are Vastly Superior to Those of Britain.

New York, Dec. 15.—That the latest battleships built by this country are vastly superior to England's Dreadnaught is emphatically stated by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, in an article in the latest number of Hampton's Broadway Magazine, wherein he and relies to criticism of it made some time ago by Henry Reuter and others.

"I do not for a moment claim that the Indiana and her sister ships are equal to the Dreadnaughts of the English navy," says Admiral Evans, "only that she is the equal to the English ships designed at the same time. But I do claim that our latest ships are vastly superior to the Dreadnaught."

Admiral Evans urges the superiority of the 12-inch gun over the 10-inch, and asserts that the change to the lesser calibre to conform to England's type was a most serious blunder. He also declares that "after many weeks of close observation, I am sure that the lower edge of the armor belt is too high rather than too low."

Admiral Evans continues: "Of all the inaccuracies and misleading statements in the wonderful Reuter's criticism, the most incorrect is that the battleships of the United States are in exactly the same condition as were the Russian ships after the Russo-Japanese fight in the Sea of Japan—not temporarily, but permanently. I assert that the battle fleet of the United States never was, and never will be, never can be, in the condition of that Russian fleet when it went into action for the last time."

London Sends Its Tribute.
London, Ont., Dec. 15.—Miss Clare C. Colley, Clarence street, has experienced such remarkable benefit from "Catarthozone," she makes the following public statement: "For two years I had a continuous cold in the head, and never used anything giving such quick results as Catarthozone. It positively cures colds, consequently, I advocate Catarthozone strongly." No remedy can possibly clear away catarrh and colds like Catarthozone, because it's the only direct cure. Treatment for two months costs $1, and is guaranteed; sample size, 25 cents at all dealers in medicine. Don't fail to get "Catarthozone."

This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases, of which cold, croup and whooping cough are the most common. Those who have used it for years and are in a position to know its real value, assert that it is without equal for the treatment of these diseases. It not only cures colds and whooping cough, but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia.

It has come into almost universal use as a preventive and cure for croup, and has never been known to fail.

In cases of whooping cough it keeps the cough loose, expectation easy and renders the paroxysms of coughing less frequent and less severe, depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is pleasant to take, which is of much importance, when the medicine must be given to small children, and it is a substance, and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult.

It is an ideal remedy for adults and children, and we think the most perfect and most effective yet produced in any country.

Remarkable Record of the Heintzman & Co. PIANOS

From the days when Mr. T. A. Heintzman founded this firm in 1854 to the present day, the Heintzman & Co. Piano has been continuously without a peer or equal in musical Canada.

ARE YOU AWARE
That over 95 per cent of all the great artists, orchestras and musical organizations that have visited Canada, all the leading musicians in Canada and all the leading families in Canada have used or purchased Heintzman & Co. Pianos in preference to all others in Canada?

It was also a source of gratification to ourselves that their royal highnesses, THE PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES selected one of our HEINTZMAN & CO. PIANOS for their exclusive use and HON. S. N. PARENT, Premier of Quebec, Ordered specially from us a very handsome Louis Grand Piano, finished in 22-Karat Gold. The price being $3,000, and being the highest priced piano ever made or sold in Canada. It was exhibited at Toronto Exhibition in a glass case.

Surely the above is evidence of the superiority of our Pianos above all others.

Some special bargains in used Pianos at $100, $150, $175 and $200, payable $3 to $5 per month.
