

CHURCH WILL BE OPPOSED NEXT TUESDAY

EXPECT HOT FIGHT ON CHURCH UNION AT PRESBYTERY

Antis Claim Overture to General Assembly Drawn by Unionists Only.

AMENDMENT IS MADE

Opposition Will Ask That Matter Be Submitted to People Again.

Although the opinion was expressed yesterday by local Presbyterian unionists that the Presbytery of London was in the majority favorable to union, interviews with anti-unionists this morning would indicate that they possess a supporting element which may upset confidence on the part of unionists.

Anti-unionists declare that the overture to the general assembly published yesterday was drawn up by a gathering of unionists only and cannot be forwarded to the general assembly without facing considerable opposition within the court of presbytery opens next Tuesday in the First Presbyterian Church.

Strong Backing.

With the backing of the leaders of two of the largest Presbyterian churches in the presbytery, Rev. James McKay of New St. James', London, and Rev. C. J. M. McGillivray of Knox Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas, an amendment to the overture will be presented to the court, in effect as follows:

That the general assembly be overruled to present the matter again to the people, together with the proposed enabling legislation and if the vote taken is practically unanimous in declaration for organic union, such union be consummated.

Fervent opposition to union comes from the anti-unionist group, one of the leaders of which is Rev. James McKay.

Never Spoken on Union.

"I have been in the pulpit of New St. James' now for seven years, and in spite of repeated requests, never once have I spoken to my flock on church union. In 1917, a covenant was formed between the denominations concerned in the matter, but not again referred to until 1921. I am of the opinion that in the local presbytery at least there was no reference made to it."

There is absolutely no means of ascertaining whether or not the majority of the Presbyterian Church are in favor of church union. There are no figures up to 1917 to indicate that they had an overwhelming majority, and since that date over one hundred thousand persons have been added to our membership who have had no opportunity whatever to express themselves.

The largest vote ever polled for church union was 115, when out of 338,332 votes, 113,600 were yes, amounting scarcely one-third of the whole.

Is Indignant.

"I can't find terms sufficiently forceful to express my indignation at what I consider the propaganda policy of the unionists."

Due to a misunderstanding, the overture published yesterday followed the statement that "it had been forwarded to general assembly." The reading should have been that it would be forwarded to general assembly once the sanction of the local presbytery had been obtained.

And before such sanction is obtained, all indications are that unionists and anti-unionists will be engaged in a vigorous campaign at Tuesday's meeting, the result of which will be a vote on whether or not the London Presbytery in the majority stands behind union.

OWNERS NAME THREE TO ATTEND BUS PROBE

Will Confer With Members of Police Commission Monday Night.

London omnibus owners and operators at a special meeting at A. L. A. headquarters last night, appointed a committee of four to meet the police commission Monday and settle matters relating to the new commission bylaw governing the operation of buses, which are in dispute. The committee is composed of Harvey Johnston, Bert Johnston, Harry Alford and Walter Boyd.

Chief among the questions to be discussed at the round table conference will be the fees and insurance for the coming year. The buses have been granted temporary licenses, while these matters remain unsettled. At present the fee is $5 per year, or half the original tax the commission decided to impose. The insurance to be taken out is in the neighborhood of $15,000. This amount is regarded as high by the owners.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

SHOCKS AT BUENOS AIRES.

Associated Press Despatch.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 13.—Advices received from Mendoza, on the Andean slopes, report that earth shocks of a slight nature were felt there at 10 o'clock Friday evening, and at 12:30 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

Kidnap Senator Of the Free State

Associated Press Despatch. Dublin, Jan. 13.—There is a well founded rumor, says the Press Association today, that the regulars kidnapped at least one member of the Irish Free State senate last night. It is believed he is being held as a hostage for Ernest O'Malley.

PROPOSES PEOPLE VOTE ON QUESTION OF ENTERING WAR

American Woman Member of Congress Presents Interesting Suggestion.

FOR ALL NATIONS

U. S. Would Seek Agreements With Other Governments.

Special to The Advertiser.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—With the peace of the world again threatened by the situation in Europe a representative of the American womanhood rose up in Congress with a proposal that the United States shall seek agreements with other governments, providing that there shall be no more war except as it shall be approved by national referendums.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, congresswoman from Illinois, said she would introduce Monday a resolution directing the president to inform all the nations that the United States will delegate to the people the sole power to declare war against any country that will give the same power to its people. She calls it the "Plan of an American woman for securing lasting world peace."

The lady from Illinois said she does not expect that Congress will vote approval of her resolution tomorrow.

"It may not be for five years, or ten," she said, "but approval will come some day, and I think this is a psychological time to start taking it up, in view of what is now happening in Europe."

Mrs. Huck said she plans to speak for her resolution in the house Monday. "I want to emphasize," said the congresswoman, "that I am not proposing that the United States take up arms, unless it can get the other nations to do likewise. This plan would apply only to countries who would agree to refer the question to a referendum of the people."

WELFARE OFFICIALS WILL SEEK $125,000

Committee Will Meet on Monday to Discuss Ways and Means.

With an objective of $125,000, officials of the United Welfare Fund will meet Monday to arrange ways and means of acquiring sufficient money from citizens to provide for the various charitable institutions of London.

Three years ago it was decided to conduct one large campaign for all the fourteen welfare institutions in London and general disaffection of individual campaigns for each separate fund. The requirements of the endowment fund would be in the neighborhood of $15,000. This amount is regarded as high by the owners.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

ONE-MAN CARS ARRIVE.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Jan. 13.—Advices received from Mendoza, on the Andean slopes, report that earth shocks of a slight nature were felt there at 10 o'clock Friday evening, and at 12:30 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

At this inaugural meeting of the 1923 commission, Mayor George Wenige will preside, and the commissioners, Judge Talbot Macbeth and Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, appointing him chairman before any other business is transacted. Each year it is the custom to elect the mayor chairman, and to make him responsible for all matters of finance, such as the financing of the police department.

GRANTS GERMANY STILL MORE TIME TO MEET DEMAND

Allied Council Now Place the Date For Payment at January 31.

FRENCH HAVE PLAN

Representatives Meet to Decide Whether Punitive Measures Necessary.

By WEBB MILLER.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Paris, Jan. 13.—While French and Belgian troops hold the Ruhr grip of steel, the Allied reparations commission meets today, to decide if further punitive measures against Germany may be taken.

Luis Barthou, French representative, had a plan to propose, that Germany be given until January 31 to meet the next cash payment of 500,000,000 gold marks, due Monday.

The committee adopted the French plan, and voted to postpone until January 31, the date the next payment due.

Mr. John Bradbury, British representative, abstained from voting.

American Observer Boyden asked permission to publish the text of his remarks before the last session on the subject of "America's attitude towards the Ruhr invasion," explaining there had been conflicting reports concerning them, permission was granted.

Germany is expected to ask a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.

Two reasons are given for the advance circulated semi-official report that Barthou will ask postponement of action if Germany defaults Monday. One is that France wishes more time to reach agreement with Italy and persuade Mussolini to approve the French plan; another is that the postponement is designed to offset a possible German manoeuvre of paying the installment at the last moment, thereby putting France, with the proposition of coercion, in a bad light.

It is expected that the commission will meet again on Monday, to discuss the question of a moratorium, and it is to decide upon this that the commission was called together two days in advance of expected default on the next payment.

Out of the meeting may come a united "European entente"—France, Belgium and Italy, with a common policy towards collecting reparations from Germany.

Britain, although she still has a number on the commission, is not expected to agree to anything in the way of guarantees, such as Foincare proposes to take.