

Wall Paper
NEWEST COLORS
AND DESIGNS...
O. B. GRAVES
222 DUNDAS STREET.

Your Old Bicycle Made New.
How? Bring it to us. Cost much? No. Very little. When? Now, while the weather is bad. Bearings need cleaning, perhaps fresh enamel. Some few parts should be reworked. Fires might need repairs. Any sickness we will doctor. Do a good job for little money.
GURD'S
185 Dundas Street.

LADIES' FINE TAILORING.
Riding, Walking, Travelling and Cycling Outfits at BOWDEN'S, 432 Park Avenue, Opp. Bell Tel. Co.
WORK WE DO
AND DO IT WELL.

MANUFACTURE
Rubber Stamps,
Notary, Society and Corporation Seals,
Wax Seals,
Burning Brands,
Steel Stamps,
Key Tags, Hotel and Baggage Checks.

BROCK'S GUN STORE,
192 Dundas St., London, Ont.
R. J. PIERCEY
PHOTOGRAPHY
Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refund
664 DUNDAS STREET.

Hunt's Diamond Flour
HUNT BROS.
R. K. COWAN, Barrister County Bldg., next Court House, London
John T. Stephenson,
The leading undertaker. Residence on the premises, 115 Dundas street. Telephone 469

TRY THE PUNCH CIGAR STORE.
Choice Cigars and Tobaccos. Pleasant smoking room in connection.
THOMAS JENKINS.
(Ex-Sergeant of Police) 133 Dundas St. (Under Molsons Bank).

PATENTS
R. J. EDMUNDS, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, Mechanical and Patent Law Expert, 361 1-2 Richmond, corner of King, London, Ont. Telephone 391.
If you contemplate lighting your RESIDENCE WITH
ELECTRICITY,
better get estimates now so that the work can be done during spring housecleaning. Call or drop a postal.
LONDON ELECTRIC CO., Ltd.
359 Richmond St., L.

THE Whyte Pork Packing Co., Stratford, has no longer a strike on its hands. The striking employees went back on Tuesday unconditionally, and will continue to serve under the foreman to whom they objected. The work at the factory has not been seriously inconvenienced by the strike, which fortunately has proved of short duration. A committee of the Trade and Labor Council had an interview with Mr. Whyte Monday night, and this resulted in the strikers being advised to capitulate.

A CARD
We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.
ANDERSON & NEWMAN, L. W. BOYLE

A PLAIN FACE
Is made attractive by a clear, pure skin. BALM-ZOIN, a harmless and delightful preparation, gives the skin a soft, smooth, white and healthy appearance. Chapped hands, face and lips are not known where this lotion is used.
W. T. STRONG & CO.,
Dispensing Chemists. - - - 184 Dundas Street.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY.
ASTRONOMICAL.
London, Thursday, Feb. 28.
Sun rises, 6:57 a. m. Moon rises, 1:41 p. m.
Sun sets, 6:45 p. m. Moon sets, 3:53 a. m.
Fair and Milcer.
Toronto, Feb. 27, 8 p. m.—The weather continues cold from Ontario to the Mar-time Provinces but in the Northwest Territories the temperature has become considerably higher and milder conditions are now indicated for Ontario. Minimum and maximum temperatures:—Victoria, 50 —45; Calgary, 20—22; Qu'Appelle, 2 below —36; Winnipeg, 14 below—18; Port Arthur, zero—18; Parry Sound, 16 below—16; Toronto, 8—22; Ottawa, 2 below—18; Montréal, 2—14; Québec, 4—14; Halifax, 28—32.
Probabilities:—Lower lakes and Georgian Bay—Moderate winds; fair and a little milder to-day; still milder on Friday.
Local temperatures:—Highest, 19 above; lowest, 4 above.

Dr. Chester N. Abbott
DENTIST.
OFFICE—169 DUNDAS STREET.

Does Style Count
In a Garment?
IF SO
LET
Tillmann
Be Your Tailor.
415 Richmond Street.
PHONE 730.

OTTY NEWS.
They also serve who sit down and wait.
There is danger in the icicle; see the point?
Unreciprocated love can't kill a man who has a healthy liver.
Wealth is a pleasing condition of always having street car fare.
For active and prolonged exercise set out to run down a rumor.
The world has two kinds of people to be afraid of—the clever and the stupid.
Men who have been in office awhile tend to have so much more wisdom than they had while in office.
When a girl is sent away to break off a love affair she generally meets another attractive man on the train.
The coal dealers have cut more ice this season than for many years past.
This remark can be taken in a double sense.
Mrs. W. F. Boughner, of this city, is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. King, 13 Forest avenue, at St.
Thomas.
Mrs. P. Overholt, of Alisa Craig, is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Taylor, of Erie street, Port Huron.
Miss Tedford and Miss Yoder, who have been visiting in St. Thomas, have left for Winnipeg. Miss Yoder, who lost a valuable valise here, has not yet recovered it.
The W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting in Somerset Hall Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was fairly well attended. Mrs. Thuley, president, occupied the chair, and a most interesting and helpful programme was taken part in by several of the members.

PURE BAKING POWDER
200 POUND.

N. W. EMERSON, Druggist,
... 120 Dundas Street ...
WE GIVE TRADING TICKETS.

DRS. PIPER & PIPER.
W. A. PIPER, D. D. S. D. H. PIPER, M. D.
Dental and Medical. 332 Dundas St., Cor. Waterloo.
Telephone 804. x London.

Lenten Goods.
Shrimps,
Lobster,
Mackerel,
Sardines,
Soft Shell Crabs,
Marinated Pilchards,
Kipperd Herring,
Fresh Herring,
Calf Herring,
Herring in Tomato
Sauce,
Herring in Shrimp
Sauce,
Herring in Mustard
Sauce,
Herring in Anchovy
Sauce,
Baltimore Oysters,
—AT—
Fitzgerald, Scandrett & Co
169 Dundas Street.

Everybody looked at her when she entered the Belt Line car at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets.
She was pretty and wore the kind of clothes one associates with carriages and coachmen. She swept to a vacant seat and sat down. Then she planted both hands on the vacant seat on either side of her. The passengers eyed her furtively; perhaps she was introducing a new style, so they held their peace. Gradually the car filled up till every seat was taken. The empty spots were taken by the young lady's hands alone remained vacant, and interest grew. Several people got on, eyed her uneasily, but she remained unmoved. Finally the car stopped to let on a huge son of toil going home from a hard day's work. He carried a tin dinner pail and his overalls were grimy with plaster and dust. He stood six feet high, his face was red and honest, his eyes met the observers squarely, and there was humor lurking in the corners of his mouth. Without the slightest hesitation, after one rapid glance, he sat down next the young lady. As she had disdained to remove her hand, he also sat down on that. She jerked it away in anger and her eyes flashed as she remarked:—"Sir!!" Serving these seats for two gentlemen." It was cutting, but he did not melt. He settled himself back comfortably, and said affably:—"That's all right. I'll be one of them."

$3.00
HATS
HERE
Means the best possible Hat value you can get at any price. A lot of the new spring shapes to choose from already.

Boughner.

An event of unusual interest came off at "Lyndhurst," the beautiful residence of Mrs. Sifton, St. John's, London township, yesterday, when Miss Prudence C. E. Sifton, daughter of the late Squire B. E. Sifton, was married to Mr. Walter S. Johnson, an extensive lumber dealer of Milwaukee, Wis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. T. Canon Richardson, only immediate member of the family being present. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. J. W. Sifton, and was attired in a harmonious and becoming brown broadcloth, the bodice being of white silk, handsomely trimmed with brown applique. She carried a large bouquet of handsome white roses and carnations. Among the many bridal presents was a costly diamond pendant from the groom. After refreshments, when the health of the bride and groom was duly toasted, the happy couple left by the O. T. R. for a honeymoon tour, which will take in several points of the Western States.
Numerous telegrams of congratulations have been forwarded to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson by their many friends.
The first carfare given by the Westminster Rink management this season was held in the rink last evening. About 600 people were in attendance. The ice was in splendid condition.
In fact it could be said to be the best of the season. Among some of the most noted characters who passed through the doors of admission dressed in costume were B. G. Parker, comic; H. Norris, Prince; Ellis, McKinley, and Watson. The prize winners are as follows:—Best dressed gent, C. Charlton; best dressed lady, Miss Tell; best "Reube," F.
Allen; negro, F. Daniels; best clown, William Wright. A leghair feature of the evening was the sports, consisting of an obstacle race, which brought J. Allen first place and F.
Thompson second. Three-legged race won by F. Brien and J. Allen; 2nd, Shears and Kenny; roller skates, Reeves. Music was furnished by Cortess's full orchestra, and which greatly enlivened the proceedings.

The death of Mrs. Janet McIntosh, which occurred yesterday morning, will cause sincere sorrow among old-time Londoners. She had suffered for a long time, but her illness was borne with Christian fortitude. Mrs.
McIntosh was a wife of Scotland, and when a child came to Canada with her parents. The family subsequently moved to this city, where she had since lived. Her husband, the late Alexander McIntosh, predeceased her four years ago, leaving a family of two daughters and three sons.
Among the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, of which she was an esteemed member for many years, her loss will be keenly felt.

According to probate papers filed yesterday in the Surrogate Court by Messrs. Meredith & Fisher, on behalf of the executors of the estate of the late Edward Daly, who died on Feb.
15, the value of the estate is shown to be upwards of $50,000. After making ample provision for the widow, who receives also the family residence, the balance of the estate is divided equally between the six surviving children, who are: Mrs. A. W.
Grange, Nanapan; Mrs. S. F. Richardson, Nanapan; Mrs. Arthur Peeler, Toronto; Mrs. C. B. Keweyman, London; Fred W. Daly, city; Reginald A. Daly, Harvard University.

At the last meeting of the Board of Examiners of the Ontario Land Surveyors, at the office of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, the following gentlemen passed their examinations, and were granted certificates:—Final examination for admission to practice, Jas. Herbert Jackson, city of Preliminary examination for admission as apprentice, Michael Edward Brian, Windsor; Alexander Hunter Greenlees, London; Richard Stanley Code, Alvinston, Ont.; Charles E. Clark, London; Johnship; Charles F. Adams, Brantford.

When the lady of the house breaks a piece of china herself she always says she never did like it very well, anyway. But if any person else does the damage—well!

Four drunks passed the night in the police cells, namely, Henry Green, Stewart McCallum, John Warwick and John Lemon.
With spring only a little more than a month away, the backbone of winter will not stand many thaws like that of yesterday.
Evangelist Sam Grigg, of this city, is assisting the Rev. Mr. Blatchford in the revival services in the Methodist Church at Wheatley.
Mr. Harry Hudson, who left for St.
Louis two months ago to accept a position with a wholesale millinery firm, returned home on account of sickness Tuesday night.

Nothing less than June warmth today could bring the average temperature of February up to the normal level. And there is no sign of June weather just at present.

Woodstock Times:—The W. A. A. whistlers are now thinking of challenging London. They should stand a good chance of winning, headed by genial Mr. John Hall, one of the veteran whist players of Canada.

The second of the course of recitals in Knox Church, Stratford, will be given to-morrow evening. The programme will be furnished by Mr. W.
H. Hewlett, organist of this city, and Mr. Harold Jarvis, soloist of Detroit, assisted by the choir and organist.

Mr. Peter McEwen, who has been for several years connected with the Dresden Times, will sever his connection with that paper on Saturday next, to accept a position on the Chatham Banner-News. Mr. Harry Colville will take his position on the Dresden Times.

Miss Brooks, missionary from Chen-tau, China, gave an interesting account of her work abroad in Dundas Centre Methodist Church last evening. The attendance was good and all seemed to enjoy the meeting very much. The prayer portion of her address was a description of the home life of women as in China and the taking care of the orphans there.

OLIVES.
We carry a complete range of all kinds of the finest Spanish Queen Olives, in a dozen different styles and sizes, ranging in price from 15c to 75c bottle.
Bulk Olives, 60c quart.

T. A. ROWAT & CO.,
284 Dundas St., Phone 217.

BICYCLE ENAMELING
and Repairing at Lowest Prices.
D. McKENZIE & CO., 298 Richmond St
1 door south G. T. R.

The choir of First Methodist Church will give a grand sacred concert tonight, assisted by Miss Beatrice Mc-Donald and the Male Quartette. They will sing for the first time here a new cantata, "For Christ and the Church." Mr. Wolcott will give a new fantasia, the description of a concert on a lake, interpreted by a storm, for the first time here.

Berlin Record:—On Wednesday, the 20th inst., a quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. C. M.
Smith, Dutton. Her only daughter, Miss M. Smith, was married to Mr. Chas. Baker, of Berlin. The ceremony being performed by Rev. C. S.
G. Boone, pastor of the Maitland St.
Baptist Church, London, and Rev. R.
Scott, of Dutton, assisted.

THE CANADIAN PACKING CO. LIMITED
TELEPHONE 909.
VERY CHOICE
OX TONGUE
READY FOR USE.

The London Times of the 16th inst. contains the following announcement:—"The King has been pleased, by several letters patent under the Great Seal, to appoint and declare: "That the persons who were appointed by Her late Majesty to be of His Majesty's counsel, learned in the law, shall be of His Majesty's counsel, learned in the law, with all such prerogative, power and authority as were originally granted to them."

"The Process of Christ's Life" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Murphy's address in St. James' Church, South London, last evening. Two quartettes, "Drifting from God" and "Come to Jesus," were rendered by the Misses Wilson, and were a pleasing addition to the musical part of the service.
There is a growing interest in these services, as is evidenced by the daily increasing attendance. To-night the subject of Mr. Murphy's address will be "The Three Resurrections."

*George Bartlett, of Windsor, has received a letter from P. S. Evans, of Toronto, which states that the writer is interested in a proposed steel foundry, and that the promoters will locate in Windsor if the inducements offered by the city are satisfactory.
The matter has been referred to the Board of Trade, and will be discussed by that body at its next meeting. Mr.
Evans was formerly a resident of Windsor, having managed the Canadian Typograph Co. and the E. & D.
Bicycle Co.

*Mrs. Phoebe Woodford, relict of the late George Woodford, of Bin-brook, died on Monday at her home, 1000 St. George Street, Windsor.
M. C. R. engineer, St. Thomas. Deceased had been ill for some time with the grippe, which developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Woodford was born in England 89 years ago, and has resided in Canada for the past 71 years.
She leaves to mourn her loss eight children.

"That's a good cigar you smoke."
"Yes; it's the Pan-American." tf

The Gerhard Heintzman Piano Has lived and grown in the most highly artistic atmosphere for a quarter of a century. Masters of composition and musical expression have praised the perfection of tone and action in the Gerhard - Heintzman.
Hear this instrument played in our store.
W. McPHILLIPS
189 Dundas St., London.

The Ontario Loan and Debenture Co.
PAID-UP CAPITAL, - $1,200,000
RESERVE FUND, - - - 535,000
Deposits Received.
Interest 3 1/2 per cent. per annum, half-yearly.
Debentures Issued
For one year and upwards. Coupons attached for interest half-yearly.
WILLIAM F. BULLEN,
Manager.
Offices—Cor. Dundas St. and Market Lane, London. x

UNDER THE UNION JACK.
Marriage of Mr. John W. Cockburn and Miss Maude M. Leathorne Celebrated at the Residence of Mr.
A. J. Denney Last Night.
The residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. J.
Denney, 610 Dundas street, was last night the scene of a very pleasant event, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Denney's sister, Miss Maude May Leathorne, to Mr. John W.
Cockburn, of the Wolseley Barracks force. Only the relatives and a few of the immediate friends of the young couple were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. S.
Johnson, pastor of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, at 8:30 o'clock. The wedding march was played by Miss Jeanie Leathorne as the bride entered, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on Oxford street, followed by the best wishes of their friends. The esteem in which the bride (who is the youngest daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of gifts which they received. Among the number was a marble clock, with brass mountings, from the bride entered, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the
company partook of the wedding
breakfast, and Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn
subsequently left for their home on
Oxford street, followed by the best
wishes of their friends. The esteem
in which the bride (who is the young-
est daughter of Mrs. T. Leathorne, of 673 King street) and groom are held
was evidenced by the large array of
gifts which they received. Among
the number was a marble clock, with
brass mountings, from the bride enter-
ed, leaning on the arm of Mr. Denney,
and took her place under a large
British flag. She was assisted by her
sister, Miss Ada Leathorne, while the
groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto. At
the conclusion of the ceremony the