A LIBRARY EVERYWHERE.

SOMETHING FOR WORKERS AND CAN

 VASSERS TO PONDER OVER.an opportuntyy for forming lending LIDRARIES IN CONNECTION WITH SODOOLS OR MEOLANICS INSTITU

Like, probably, most other great English apeaking oities, Montreal owes much to the town of Paisley where the weavers many yeare ago were noted for their intelligence through the londing and reading of news. papers and boolss and the discussions of allim portant subjects in public debate. Among other thage Canad Every town in Canada might in tarn become a centre of blessing to the world by possessing itself, The Witness is ansious to contribute itsell. to thiss end chame by which every family in offers a scheme by which every faliny tibada may become a member of a leading library. la doing so we count on ain rom. have assisted us zo nobly in our endeavor, which many of them hava informed us bas been successful, to promoto the study of CanaWe base our proposit that every day school should hare a lendion that every day school should bare a lending library. Many of the best and most progres sive schools have such libraries. We want each one to be so prorided. We think it is not too much to assume also, that every ested by reading the Witness every week.
Wo now auggest how both of those de sirable objects may be accomplished. Let some influential person in "cuch school section or in each neighborhood in which a library is desirablo, either on his own responsibility or with the sanction of a committee who will work with him, organize a eystematic canya for subscriptions to the Witress. every subscription of theee dollars to th Daily Witness forwarded to us he will ba credited with seventy.five cents on behal of the library fur which he is working; on every subscription of a doilar to the Ceeki Wieness forwarded to us he will be credite with twenty five cents for this purpose; an or every subscription of thily cents to th Norther five cent. When he fall moant that can be obtained in the neighb hood is reached and we ard no with him may seleot to the amount of the commission to his credit the nucleus of a lending library which will be open to overy subscriber in this library club or to overy family represented in the school. In overy iamily represented in the school. In addition, we engage to purchase at the lowest price, for which we have special facilities, any other boolse not on our catalogue that may be chosen, if procurable, and eend them in place of the others. A library so formed and by other volumes oltained in the same manier as above indicated by a still further addition to the list. By this means the choicest books in the English languag may ve placed in the hands of the residents of cevery section of the country at cost o nothing to those who interestghemselvesin it. See how this plan works, Say that fifty subsoriptions are sent in for the Weehly Wit ness. Thut would ensure twelve and a halt dollars' worth of books, as a starter, which can be added to as time goes on. This would mean, say, twenty-five standard works would mean, say, twenty-five etandard works to be read by these fifty families during the to be read by these gifty families during the year. Thus, by the unselfish system of coyear. Thus, by the unselish system oceives the Wcekiy Witness for a year, which is ridiculously cheap at the price, and the reading of twenty five worls, while these will remain in the possession of the librery nssocistion untll worn out.
The great essontial for this work is one, two or three generous, patriotio, energetic nstio in the formation er encest aud entausi ticularly for the young, whose taste for read ing may be correctly formed. They should not have much difficulty in gathering to their assistance others like them, and the work once well begun Is more than half completed. To etimulate the ardor of the promoters of those libraries to think of large things, we will give a bonus of $$ 1.25$ when twenty-five list and $$ 1.75$ in addition when the list awells to fifty dollars, $$ 2$ further when it growe to seventy-five dollars, and $$ 2.25$ more when it grows to one hundred dollars, Thus, for a list of one hundred names and one hundred dollary we will give books to the value o $$ 32.25$ at wholesale prices, or to very nearly

Gifty dollars at retail prices.'

the papers in neffounland. Newfoundland and Canada at the present are foreign countries, according to the postal union regulations, which theoretically controls the foreign postage rates between the differ countries affected by it. Under these Weekly Witnesg going to Newfoundland is two cents a copy, it being a shade heavier than the single rate weight. The postal authorities of the two countrios, however; tacitly ace cept tha paper at one rate, being one cent an issue cr fifty-two cents a year. We, therefore, require to add fifty cents to the price of the Weekly Witness going to Newfoundland the Weekly Witness going to Newfoundland
