A NEW CANADIAN BOOK.
STORIES FROM INDIAN WIGWAMS AND NORTHERN CAMP-FIRES.
BY
REV. EGERTON R. YOUNG,
AUTHOR OF
"By Canoe and Dog-Train"
"Oowickapun" etc.
Cloth, bevelled boards, design in ink and gold, 293 pages; 43 original illustrations.
... Price $1.25. ...

The Canadian public will hail with pleasure a new book from the pen of the well-known missionary author. His former work "By Canoe and Dog-Train" among the Cree and Saulteaux Indians" has already obtained a sale of 50,000 copies. This new book is full of thrilling incident and adventure in that field of missionary toil, trial and triumph, the Great Lone Land.

PERSONAL AND PRESS OPINIONS.

From the Christian Age.—"Without doubt the most fascinating record of missionary enterprise ever published."

From the Methodist Temperance Magazine.—"Here we have a story of romantic adventure and of noble Christian self-denial such as it would be difficult to match. The romance of fiction is nowhere beside this enchanting narrative, which is told in a style that enchains the reader."

Bishop Hurst writes:—"I have read your latest work with intense interest. It is magnificent, entirely new in material, full of information and ought to go everywhere—from Hudson's Bay to Patagonia, and from New York around the world, and back again to New York."

From the Free Methodist:—"We have read this book with admiration and delight. We cannot use weaker terms in describing what we have felt in its perusal. Again and again have we marvelled at the power of physical endurance displayed by the missionary author."
