

PERSONALS.

It speaks well for our College, that our ten graduates of last Session were all settled in a very few months after being licensed. We feel assured that they will not fail to reflect credit upon their Alma Mater. From reports received, we learn that all are doing good work in their respective fields.

ANDREW BOYD, was the choice of the good people of Glenelg. From what we know of this field, he must give them pretty sound doctrine or he would not long remain their minister. The field is large and will require careful attention to achieve success. He is no longer a disciple of St. Paul, for very early in the summer he disobeyed Paul's advice "that all men were even as I myself." We wish him and his partner much happiness and a long life of usefulness.

JOHN CALDER, B. A., is settled over the important charge of Springville, Pictou Co. As in other parts of Pictou Co., the people here are all Presbyterians, and a great many are of Highland descent. When such a class of people choose a man for their minister they do so on account of his sterling qualities and they will stand by him.

J. W. CRAWFORD is settled over the charge of Mahone Bay, where with two sermons a week in addition to other work, he has doubtless little idle time. The reports which we hear of his work show that Mr. Crawford is sustaining his reputation as a pulpit orator, so much so indeed as to be honoured with the title of the "Mahone Bay Spurgeon." His work out of the pulpit is, as those who know him would expect, also highly appreciated. If "they
