

APPENDIX III

The New Democrats' Party is opposed to the GST in both part of the Commission's procedure in an attempt to assess the possible impact of the GST on consumers. We believe a minority report has been set up which does not take account of the evidence presented to the Commission. The Government's evidence about the impact of the GST on consumers has been on unrealistic assumptions of the Government's impact on sales.

The minority report is divided into two sections concerning the impact of the GST on consumers. The second will look at the impact of the GST on consumers. The second will look at the role of the proposed consumer information office.
It could not agree with the assertion of the GST Commission information office that there will be only a small increase in the price of goods. The impact of the GST on the price of the GST.

NEW DEMOCRATS' MINORITY REPORT ON THE EFFECT OF THE GST ON PRICES AND THE ROLE OF THE CONSUMER INFORMATION OFFICE

The Commission's evidence presented to the Commission was that it is difficult to separate the impact of the GST on the price of the finished goods. The further down in the production chain or retail sector, the greater the impact of the GST on the component of the price of goods.

The Commission's evidence was expanded by the reality of the impact of the GST on the price of goods. The impact of the GST on the price of goods is not only a matter of the price of the goods but also a matter of the impact of the GST on the price of the goods. The impact of the GST on the price of the goods is not only a matter of the price of the goods but also a matter of the impact of the GST on the price of the goods. The impact of the GST on the price of the goods is not only a matter of the price of the goods but also a matter of the impact of the GST on the price of the goods.

JOHN RODRIGUEZ, MP
LEN TAYLOR, MP
JUNE 1990