START YOUR CHILD RIGHT. By William Lee Howard, M.D.

These confidential talks to parents and teachers point out clearly what they themselves should know and what the children themselves should know of their physical power if they are to be best fitted to cope with conditions as they grow up. While Dr. Howard writes as a medical man, his language is stripped of all technical phraseology, and throughout all he says is felt his deep conviction of the necessity and urgency of his message. Price, 75c.
