The bulk of the transactions were confined to Little Nipissing, which was also the most spectacular mover in the day's dealings. Opening at 10, the Cobalt Central Charles declined rapidly under heavy liquidation as low as 8. Support was in evidence on the reaction, but this was not sufficient to check the movement and it was not sufficient to check the movement and it was not sufficient to check the movement and it was not sufficient to check the movement and it was not sufficient was not sufficient to check the movement and it was not sufficient to check the movement ment, and it was not until 8 cents was reached that a turn took place. A gain of 1 1-2 points was made later while Little Nip was the most active Little Nipissing issue, it was not the only stock to show the effect of the pressure of bear selling. Both Peterson Lake and Chambers lost over a point in the early dealings, and Hargraves dropped a large fraction at 22. Other losses were confined to small fractions of a point. The dividend paying issues were not silver Leaf appreciably influenced by the slump silver Bar in the cheaper stocks, and prices in Silver Queen in the cheaper stocks, and prices in general held firm with the previous day. Crown Reserve gained three points at $2.73.

To-day's market showed plainly the effects of a bear assault on prices, but the recovery which followed the downward movement showed that insiders were still inclined to support values on the declines.

THE SIMPSON COMPANY,

Exchange Your Cobalts

We have tried to advise you to watch the developments of all Cobalt properties very closely and when there does not seem much prospect to the mine you are interested in making good, to exchange your stock for a more likely one. There are many people holding listed Cobalts, which may in the end prove worthless. Why not seize the opportunity of exchanging them now? Let us have a list of your holdings for our opinion as to their respective merits.
