The match announced to be played at the rink on Wednesday did not come off, but if the ice permits the Gowans, Kent & Co.'s hockey team will play against the Eglinton Hockey Club this evening, and a good match may be looked for.

The Eglinton Methodist S. S. anniversary will take place on Sunday and Monday next. On Sunday the special preachers will be Rev. Dr. German at the morning service, Rev. Mr. Pickett in the afternoon and the pastor will preach at the evening service. An efficient orchestra will accompany the choir, and special musis will be given.

Dr. Jackes of Eglinton, who is in attendance, has pronounced the indisposition a case of acute indigestion. Under his care the patent will doubtless soon regain his usual good health. Mr. William Mabbit, foreman for Mr. St. Germain on his Yongestreet farm, became till with quinsy on Saturday also, and is laid aside from his work. A strange coincident is that on this same-farm, a tenant of Mr. St. Germain was stricken with illness the following day, affording another example that a great deal in this life goes by the "rule of three."

Brother Orbanus, the superintendent, says the school is doing excellent work, and the boys are now taught four trades, viz., tailoring, carpentering, shoemaking and gardening. There are six brothers in charge of the school. The boys are well peased with their surroundings. About 28 of them were allowed to go home for a few days at Xmas and every one of 28 of them were allowed to go home for a few days at Xmas and every one of them returned without being sent for. When they leave the school they can always find employment, and, as a rule, get along very well, as they get a good training at the school.
