MAINE LEGISLATURE RAISES BIG WAR FUND

Million Dollars — Both Branches Take Favorable Action on Emergency Resolve — Chief Executive Addresses Joint Convention

Augusta, Me., April 3.—The so-called war bond issue of $1,000,000 was provided for by the senate and house in an expeditious manner on Tuesday morning and the act went to the governor and received his signature. This order was introduced by Rep. Barnes of Houlton, who, in reading the bill, said in part: "The occasion which we face calls for more than it seems on the surface. To many the occasion recalls that April so many years ago when the men in the north were called to arms. It also recalls that April in which the steel of the valiant Revere brought to the people of Middlesex warning of war. All over the country telegrams have brought to the ears of older people as well as to the school boys word that congress is in session and considering serious matters. Many are the changes that have taken place."

such. The young man who is earning $50 to $75 a month should not be asked or expected to give up his employment and serve the government for $15 a month. We all know that $15 a month is a mere pittance and will not begin to keep a family in these days of high prices. There is plenty of money and the young men who enlist should not be called upon to offer their services to the country and at the same time know that their dependents are without proper means of support or are compelled to seek their subsistence from some commission.

In an editorial a few days ago we mentioned the policy of Germany how when a German enlists he draws from the government a certain sum for each dependent upon him. He knows that they will be cared for and that the government recognizes his services. The state of Maine cannot afford to do less. Let Maine meet this issue fairly and let it pay a proper sum to the soldiers. Let them not be made paupers at the start by providing that their dependents must have their livelihood doled out to them by some commission. Let the soldiers be paid a proper wage and let them know that they are supporting their families by their efforts and that their state recognizes the value of their services instead of assessing them at $15 a month. The legislature should act to regulate this by law so that every young man who enlists will know that those dependent upon him are still dependent upon him and that his state is not ungrateful but is appreciative of his services and is willing to pay him a fair wage for them.

Not only is this the fair and proper method for the state to pursue but it is the one way that will encourage enlistment.

CUTTING MASTS AND "KNEES"

Moncton Times.—Every local freight train on the N. T. R. is bringing down in carload lots spars and other special timbers needed in the construction of wooden ships, an industry which is experiencing a great revival at various points in the maritime provinces. Some of the shipments consist of heavy timbers to be used for masts and spars of wooden vessels. There is also considerable shipment of planking and wooden ribs for the vessels. The most curious part of the shipments, however, are the wooden "knees" which are really the crooked roots of trees, sawed into sizes suitable to shipbuilding purposes. These "knees" can be made from ordinary timber, but builders prefer the natural bend of the roots, which are very fibrous and tough. Quite an important part of present day lumbering operations is the digging up and cutting out of crooked roots suitable for this purpose. The small knees are used for bracing stem and stern posts and similar parts exposed to heavy strains.

Indisputable Authority

The young husband laid down his piece of cake and regarded his wife across the table.

"Denier," he began, diplomatically, "I suggest that there is something wrong with this cake. It really doesn't taste very good."

"That's your imagination," said the wife, with a triumphant smile. "I made it exactly as set forth in the cookbook, and the cookbook says it's delicious."

happen to be the only civil war veteran in the house. I was old enough to go to war at 15 years of age and I am young enough to go again if needed." This brought forth a burst of applause.

The bill was then passed to be engrossed and sent to the senate. A little later it came back and was then enacted. The passage of the war bond issue was the occasion of a very enthusiastic outburst of applause from all over the house and it was passed by a unanimous vote of 118. The war bond measure was passed as an emergency measure and becomes immediately effective.

Members of the house will join members of the senate in a trip to Bangor Wednesday to participate in the preparedness demonstration in that city.

SOLDIERS' FAMILIES MUST BE CARED FOR

(Bangor Commercial)

Governor Milliken on Tuesday morning called upon the legislature to authorize the issuance of bonds to the extent of $1,000,000 to be expended by the governor and council for military purposes. In his address he said that provision should be made for the dependent families of soldiers and thought that this should not be regulated by statute but looked after under the direction of the governor and council.

We believe that in the last provision the governor is wrong. The state of Maine should regulate the help to be given to the dependents of soldiers by law. Then if special cases arise they could be handled by the governor and council.

This is an all-important matter and one that should be managed right from the start. There should not be any smack of charity in the relation of the soldier to the state and no pittance should be doled out by any commission. The mothers, wives and children of the enlisted men should not be obliged to ask for aid of any commission or association.

The soldier goes to serve his country and the country is his debtor. He is entitled to fair pay and should be given
