MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Strict prohibition laws are to be enforced in Regina, Sask., after June 30.

Newton Jennings, of Janesville, N. B., while canoeing some miles from Bathurst yesterday, was drowned when a heavy gale upset his little craft.

At yesterday's session of the Manitoba Royal Commission in Winnipeg, Hon. G. R. Colwell gave a denial to stories told by Horwood and Wm. Salt at Minneapolis, which connected him with an endeavor to raise money for keeping Salt out of Canada. He said he had no suspicion of wrong-doing when the legissiture was prorogued. A new commission will probably be appointed to take up the Fullerton charges, as one of the members of the present commission is to be a witness.

Bedieved I and accomplished much, he said, the infantry had excelled them-selves and they were regarded by many British officers as the best division in action with the British army.

It is said at Ottawa that during General Hughes' absence in England Hon. J. A. Lougheed wil be acting minister of militia.

Pte. Lester C. Johnson, of P. E. Island, is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Sergt. H. R. Woods has been promoted to company sergeant major; and Corporals J. B. Amos, R. B. Beach and J. R. Lobbon, to be sergeants in the 55th at Sussex.

It is computed by a motion picture expert that the American public paid $275,000,000 last year to see the "movies."

GEM'S NEW SERIAL,

First Instalment Yesterday and Today — War Views of Especial viceable colors, at $1.00. Interest — Lively Comedy Fills

One of the new serials billed for the Gem Theatre, "The Exploits of Elaine," was opened yesterday with the showing of the first episode, "The Clutching Hand." Many have been asking themselves what was meant by the title and it was proven that it was applied to one of the greatest criminal minds of the age—a mind which baffled the efforts of Craig Kennedy, noted detective, to fathom its depths. The first installment proved of keen popular interest. It was in two parts, and thrilled and charmed those who witnessed it. "The Clutching Hand" will be repeated for the last time today, while another chapter in the serial will be presented next Wednesday and Thursday.

Much interest centered in the showing of the Pathe War Gazette, as it con-and Thursday.

Much interest centered in the showing of the Pathe War Gazette, as it contained many scenes bearing upon life in the zone of war. The showing of a view of the "Canadians who distinguished themselves at Ypres" was received with hearty acclaim, while other views of moment were "Torpedo Boat Destroyers in the North Sea," "Briton's Might Keeps German Liners in Port," "Boys' Brigade, 7,000 strong, in Review in Glasgow," "Old Boys' Corps on Route March," and others. The show which was most entertaining was closed with an Essanay comedy, "Swedie in Vaudeville," while a programme of good music by the orchestra added to the general attractiveness.
