

Be Alive With Power

Now as any time, we might just as well get down to it and think out if we are getting all that is coming to us of life.

Call it what you like—health, energy, pep—the fact remains that we were born with bodies intended to abound with the power to live—power to get all our right in the world, to live a full life in full force and high spirit.

If we don't get it every day we must find out why, and soon see that we do. When a motor is not hitting trimly on every cylinder the owner gets out and makes sure it will. Otherwise it falters on the journey; a loss of time, a loss of money, of comfort and happiness. A loss in the lifespan of the machine.

The best machine in the world—the human body—deserves every care, to get the most out of it, now and later. Nurse it, keep it trim and spruced up.

DRECO is a patent medicine, a next-to-nature prescription entirely out of herbs. It jacks you up when run down, clears the machinery, clears the blood, tones them up and sends pure health through the blood—the stream of life. Depend on Dreco for a happier hold on life.

ST. JOHN SHIVERED AT 10 BELOW AS THE WIND BLEW FIFTY MILES

Old King Winter Asserted Himself Today All Over Country.

Old King Winter, who up to the present, has been traveling about disguised by bright spring-like days, balmy breezes and very much out-of-season buds, blossoms and butterflies, came from behind his mask last night and chilled the country to the marrow. Ushered in on the gusts of a forty-five to fifty miles an hour gale, he scattered frosts and biting blasts to right and left. The populace shivered and turned its collar about its ears, heaped the fuel higher, and came to the conclusion that there was really nothing wrong with the Gulf Stream after all.

Ten Below is Official

The mercury, which was playing hide-and-seek with the freezing point for the last two or three weeks, was taken suddenly unawares and started in haste to take cover. Down, down, it went with startling rapidity—at midnight it waved "cherio" as it flung the past the zero mark, and before the cold light of dawn illumined the figures which flanked its downward path, it had reached 10 below the cipher. The cheerful day, however, brought its warming influence, and although still hesitant, the silver thread started slowly to expand again. At nine o'clock it stood at 8 below.

Reports from other parts of the province and in fact from all over Canada bring news of similar climatic conditions.

20 at Glen Falls

At Sand Point the mercury hovered around 18 below; at Reed's Point it was 10 below, and at ten o'clock had risen to 4 below; at Fennell, in a sheltered spot, it was 10 below; at Glen Falls it dropped to 20 below; at W. A. Quinton's, Manawagash road, it was 18 below, and in Fairville it was 18 below; at the Kennedy House, Rothesay, it dropped to 6 below, but the glass there is in a sheltered spot.

Grand Falls Says 25.

It was 10 below at Union Point and 10 below at Mowatt's drug store. Hampton reported 15 to 18 below. Reports gathered for The Times from outside places follow:

Grand Falls—Clear, 25 below.

Edmundston—Fine, 25 below.

Woodstock—Fine, 22 below, wind, N. W.

St. Stephen—Clear, 18 below.

Sussex—Fine, 18 below.

Charlottetown—Clear, 12 below.

Moncton—Fine, 18 below, N. W. gale.

Campbellton—Clear, 18 below.

Halifax—Fine, 5 above.

Sydney—Fine, 5 above.

Fredericton reported 15, Montreal, 14, Amherst, 12.

Elsewhere

A 40 miles an hour gale, and the mercury falling to 15 degrees below zero, made yesterday the coldest of the year in Montreal. The change was as sudden as it was sharp. At 11 Sunday morning the temperature was 80 above, Sunday midnight it was ten above and at eight o'clock yesterday morning it was two above. Early in the afternoon the zero level was reached and thereafter the descent was rapid until at nine last night it was 15 below. Here the bottom of the cold spell seemed to have been reached.

Boston shivered today in the first severe cold wave of the winter. From a maximum of 26 degrees early yesterday there was a steady drop to a minimum of four early today. It was accompanied by a strong northerly wind.

Elsewhere in New England the mercury fell far below zero.

In New York City the mercury hovered about five and a half degrees above zero while an icy wind whistled through the streets.

GET MEDALS FOR SAVING A KITTEN

Sailor Jumped Overboard in Harbor and Rescued Little Animal.

For their humane act in rescuing a tiny kitten from the waters of the harbor in last September, two sailors of the Canadian Government steamer Aberdeen, which was wrecked this winter in the Bay of Fundy, will receive medals from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty here, so S. M. Wetmore, agent, announced this morning.

On September 2, the tiny animal was playing about the decks of the Aberdeen when it fell overboard. Without hesitation one of the sailors, Karl Clarence Potter, of Yarmouth, N. S., jumped after it and after some difficulty landed it on the deck of the steamer. The immersion had left the kitten in bad condition, so that it appeared to be almost dead. Thereupon, another sailor, Alfred Richards, who is now residing in St. John, started to work over the little body and after nearly two hours, his efforts were rewarded and the kitten was restored to life.

Captain Kenny reported the matter to Mr. Wetmore and recommended some recognition of the kindly spirit of the two men. Mr. Wetmore agreed that their example was worth much in the community and the medals were decided upon.

The medal for Mr. Potter will be sent to the Mayor of Yarmouth for presentation to the recipient, while Mr. Wetmore is planning to have Mr. Richards' officially presented to him by the Mayor of St. John.

WORK IS BEGUN FOR NEW HOTEL

Contractors Tearing Down the Dufferin—Last Day in Barber Shop.

The first actual work in connection with the erection of the big new Admiral Beatty Hotel, which will be constructed on the Dufferin street site, corner of King square and Charlotte street, commenced this afternoon, when a large crew of men, employed by the purchase of the material and the demolition of the structures had been awarded the Flood concern, their first job in Prince street have been besieged by a steady stream of men looking for employment and the telephone hardly an idle minute.

The demolishing crews will first remove the plumbing and heating fixtures, window glass and frames, doors and trim from the interior of the buildings and then proceed with the razing of the walls. It is expected that the site will be cleared in about a month and a half.

The clearing will extend from the Imperial Theatre on one side around the corner of Charlotte street as far as the church rectory, which is not to be touched for the present.

The Last To Go

The last tenant of the historic property to pull up stakes and escape the demolishing of the old building is G. Brown, barber. Though open for business as usual today the tonsorial establishment is in a rather feverish state of transition. Mr. Brown expects to make his move tomorrow, setting up shop in Canterbury street, near King street, once familiar as a barber location under the management of the Hodges brothers.

In the removal of the barber shop from the Dufferin building a landmark has been lost. For generations the hole has graced the exterior of the front and many of the city's most notable visitors have been entertained in a rather festive manner. The shop has been in operation there for many years.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "It looks as if the King of Greece would soon be looking for a job."

"Well," said Hiram, "the king find lots of 'shinin' examples."

"You are very disrespectful," said the reporter.

"Who to?" demanded Hiram—"that fellow king—or the fellow that shines for a livin'?"

"Really," said the reporter, "that is an embarrassing question."

"If there were Greeks," said Hiram, "was like us Britishers they could get along fine with a king, an' he'd hev lots to do an' nobody hollerin' fer a change. I've lived under Victory—an' Edward—an' George—and the other chip o' the old block comin' along—an' I want to say not one of 'em ever tried to run the show fer themselves. We got the best government—by Hen!—they is to be found in the hull world. An' if it ain't better than it is it's our own fault—yes, sir."

Art in Furnishing the Home

Where An End Table Fits In

Because they are very useful and perform a definite function in the modern scheme of interior decoration, the end table of walnut or mahogany has found great favor. At the end of the davenport or beside the big, easy chair, the end table holds a cheerful lamp, your favorite book, or perhaps a box of candy or smoking things.

Some in our stock have drop leaves which transform them into long davenport tables, some have one drop leaf, next the chair when in that position, which can be raised to make a card or tea table, some have book trough underneath, and still another includes a full sized smoker's cabinet, which does not interfere with its use as a very handsome end table.
