Joe Houston of Kentucky Lassies Opportunity in Alaska

Tacoma, Feb. 13.—Two years ago Joseph Houston, aged fifty, had only $240 after life time spent in mining camps of Colorado, Nevada, Klondike and Tanana. He had made several small strikes, but lost them on new deals. Today he is worth several millions. He is on his way to New York. On Feb. 21 he will sail on the Olympic for London, not to interest new capital, but to confer with the partners. Even in Paris, Mr. Houston speaks with southern drawl. His mining camp sobriquet for years has been "Fossilful Joe" Houston. From Fairbanks he went to Kenai peninsula, southwestern Alaska, and as a beginning "gathered in" 3000 acres of good hydraulic placer ground. Tempted by the Katalla oil prospect he and associates secured 200 acres of oil lands, since transferred to a company controlled in London. His next biggest lot $8,000 a quartz ledge that will soon produce that much monthly. One evening he became a quartermaster of the Juneau Douglas Island telephone system. He has other interests.

Next June Houston will ship north, stamp mills for the quartz property, oil rigs for Katalla and a hydraulic placer plant. His Katalla oil tests up to 350 degrees. Centigrade, producing highest grades of kerosene, naphtha, gasoline and white vaseline.

Houston says:

"I have good opportunity. There's 'pov'ahful' chances up there for experienced men."

Last year, in Paris, he made the acquaintance of Charles M. Schwab, who is his friend.

AWAKENING IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Canadian Finance, Winnipeg,
Takes Notice of The Boom Here

CONDITIONS WELL STATED

Great Prospects for St. John—The Rise in Real Estate Values and the Outside Interest in This City

(Canadian Finance, Winnipeg.)

The province of New Brunswick is experiencing an awakening without parallel in its history. Premier Bennett, in a speech at Newcastle this week that $25,000,000 would be expended in development work in the province, the next five years. This work includes the construction of a railway down the St. John Valley 200 miles, from Grand Falls to St. John, and its connection near Fredericton, with the Grand Trunk Pacific, the total cost being about $10,000,000; the construction of great harbor works at St. John, at a cost of nearly $10,000,000; the construction of a branch railway from Fredericton to Minto in Queen's county, and the development of the coal fields there, which will then be connected with the Canadian Pacific as well as the Grand Trunk Pacific system; the development of natural gas and oil in Albert county, of vast and valuable deposits of oil shales in that vicinity, the further development by the Canada Iron Corporation, of the iron ore in Gloucester county, the establishment of large new industries, and a general expansion along all lines of agriculture, industry and trade.

A provincial immigration congress will be held in Fredericton in March, while the legislature is in session, and boards of trade, municipal organizations, farmers' associations and other interests are uniting to establish a large sheep farm on the well-drained lands of the province with desirable immigrants. Six boards of trade have each subscribed funds to establish in their vicinity a large commercial orchard, under the direction of the provincial horticulturist, and a policy has been adopted which within ten years will make New Brunswick a great apple exporting province. The federal government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have each announced that they will establish an experimental farm in the province, and a group of St. John business men have decided to provide funds to establish a large sheep farm on scientific principles, for which the province is especially suited.

Great Prospects for Canada's Winter Port

Coming now to St. John, the assurance of great expenditure to provide harbor and terminal facilities, not only for the Canadian Pacific but for the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways, making it a great summer as well as a winter port, has electrified the business atmosphere, and a period of rapid growth and expansion has been entered on. Real estate is rapidly rising in value, new industries are materializing, and the New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Company, with capital of $1,500,000 will harness the water power and provide the city with electricity, heat, light and power. A number of Montreal and English capitalists have lately invested in property at St. John, and a very decided forward movement is in progress.

During the present year the armory will be completed, a new post office modelled somewhat after that at Winnipeg, will be begun. A large new theatre and the largest brush and broom factory in Canada will be erected; a beginning will probably be made on a new house building, besides the large expenditures to be made on the water front by the federal government and Canadian Pacific Railway. Naturally, also, St. John will reap great benefit from the unparalleled forward movement throughout the province.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. James M. Hallett, aged 84, one of the oldest and best known residents of St. John, died at her home alone on Sunday morning. She is survived by five sons and one daughter.

She looked at him sadly after she had promised to be his wife. "Why do you gaze at me like that?" he asked. "You look as if you were unhappy."

QUEBEC ADVANCING IN POULTRY ENCOURAGEMENT

Reports Show That Forward Step is Being Taken—A Government
Grant

In the Quebec legislature last week, in asking for the sum of $3,000 for the encouragement of poultry raising, Hon. Mr. Curran, minister of agriculture, referred to the two years' campaign which had been made. The lecturers of the department, especially Brother Ligouri, and J. L. Brown, manager of the poultry department of Gunn, Langlois & Co. of Montreal, had gone to different parts of the province with the object of encouraging the farmers to build cold-ben coops for the production of eggs and the fattening of poultry. They had been especially successful in the latter direction, as they had made arrangements with the C. P. R. and the Allan Steamship Company to supply them with chickens, and now it was possible to see on the bills of fare of the C. P. R. buffet service, "Quebec milk-fed poultry."

In this they had been assisted by Mr. Cooper, of the C. P. R., and Sir Andrew Allan had also shown great interest in the results obtained, and had assured Mr. Curran that they could count on all the patronage and support of his company.

Mr. Curran gave a few statistics showing that the C. P. R. consumed no less than 200,000 broilers a year on its cars apart from other poultry, and they required 500 dozen eggs a day. Besides this the private car of the governor-general was now supplied with milk-fed poultry.

During the fall Gunn, Langlois & Co. had sent a special car of pure bred pullets for reproduction at the demonstration farms of Alberta. Mr. Alfred, one of the professors of Macdonald College, had said that the Province of Quebec could have no better advertisement than this carload of poultry. Some of this pure stock had been purchased at the government farm at Foster, and the remainder of La Trappe, Ste. Scholastique, St. Agapit, and other places in the neighborhood of Quebec and Montreal.

The sum of $3,000 was readily voted unanimously.

CITY SCHOOL MATTERS

The Board of School Trustees decided at a meeting last night to hold a special meeting next Monday evening to meet a committee from the board of trade to discuss the establishment of night trade schools.

H. H. Mott, architect, reported that the King Edward school is completed and that he was ready to pass the bills for the final payment. The bills were referred to the building committee.

The teachers of grade nine wrote asking that the increase in their salaries take place at once instead of in September.

Miss P. Williams asked for a place on the teaching staff.

Dr. W. S. Carter, superintendent of education, wrote congratulating the board on its annual report.

As the local government had reported that there were no objections to establishing savings banks in the schools and the cost was reported to be only $25 a school at first and $2 a year afterwards a committee was given power to proceed with the arrangements.

It was decided to grant the janitor of Alexandra school $15 a month, and to deduct the amount from the estimate for repairs.
