DENIES THAT ANY SHOTS WERE FIRED

Allegation is Made in Complaint Over an Automobile Matter.

Alleging that he had been assaulted and that two shots were fired after him by Edward A. Farren, a complaint was lodged by George Thomas with Detective Saunders last night. This morning the complainant appeared at police headquarters and told his story to Sergeant Detective Power and Chief of Police Smith. The former said he could not give out any of the facts at this stage, but that it would come before the court tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Farren, in conversation with a Times reporter this afternoon, made the following statement: "My car was missing last night, and when I heard it coming in towards the garage I went out and saw a strange man in it. I tried to see who it was and then tried to grab hold of him. He jumped and ran away."

Asked if it was true that he had fired two shots after the man, as alleged, he absolutely denied having done so, saying he had a gun of his kind. He said members of his family were present and could swear to this.

Denies Shots.

Mr. Farren, in conversation with a Times reporter this afternoon, made the following statement: "My car was missing last night, and when I heard it coming in towards the garage I went out and saw a strange man in it. I tried to see who it was and then tried to grab hold of him. He jumped and ran away."

Mr. Marcus' object in taking this long hike is purely for pleasure and his health. He is not selling any souvenirs but is paying his own way. From Windsor he was to cross over to Detroit and from there planned on going to Indianapolis where he will strike the Lincoln highway, which runs right through to Los Angeles.

Mr. Marcus is a veteran of the World War having joined the D. A. C. in this city in 1915 and going overseas on the S. S. Caledonia. In France he was transferred to the trench mortars and while in that branch of the service was shell shocked, gassed and buried alive. On his return from France his health was impaired and while resting with his mother he was frequently on long hikes which he considered highly beneficial. He is the son of Mrs. Ethel Marcus. Many friends in this city will watch his progress with interest as he is well known and popular.

ARE AT WORK FOR THE EXHIBITION

Directors Had Meeting Last Evening - Prize List Ready Soon.

Preliminary arrangements for the St. John Exhibition this fall were well advanced at a meeting of the directors held last evening with the president, F. A. Dykeman, in the chair. It was reported that the prize list was in the hands of the printer and would be ready for distribution soon. Advertising had been arranged for and some matter had been received and distributed, including some 300,000 envelopes. An enquiry was received today from an Ottawa man who had received a communication in one of the envelopes, asking for information and indicating that he was a possible exhibitor.

The industrial exhibits committee reported several applications for space. Only six of last year's exhibitors had expressed their decision not to take space this year. Several applications for concessions were received and were referred to a committee handling these matters. A delegation from the N. B. Kennel club discussed conditions for holding a show in connection with the exhibition as usual. The committee on dairy exhibits reported that they planned making this year's an outstanding one.

FINE IS IMPOSED

Stamp Must be Affixed When a Receipt is Given.

A case against Miss Elizabeth Graham, who was charged with violating the stamp act, was concluded in the police court this morning before Magistrate Henderson. When the case was heard the defendant acknowledged giving a receipt without affixing the excise stamp. Mr. Davidson, who appeared on her behalf, explained that her act had resulted from ignorance of the law and inexperience in business dealings. He asked that if a fine was struck the circumstances be taken into consideration.

E. J. Henneberry, who appeared on behalf of the Federal Department, explained that he had received two telegrams from the department in connection with the prosecution of the case and the authorities were willing to leave the matter to the discretion of the Magistrate. The maximum fine is $100, but Magistrate Henderson announced that he would take into consideration the facts of the case and make the fine $10.

NEW HOTEL AND CONVENTIONS

Large Gatherings New Enterprise Will Attract—Big Stride Forward.

St. John's next long stride forward will be the building of the new hotel. It will give this city at once a new and higher rank in Canada and beyond the Dominion's borders. And it will bring not only prestige but business. The more the plan is examined the more it appeals to St. John's spirit of pride and enterprise. Every year, both winter and summer, scores of organizations in Canada hold national conventions and a strong bid is made by the representatives of all cities to have the meetings held in their respective home towns. The bringing of large numbers of prominent business and professional men and women from all over the country cannot but be redound to the benefit of any city. The more of these conventions that are brought to St. Andrews, where the benefit will that community derive in the way of publicity, to say nothing of the actual money which each one of these gatherings must bring, and that is a large factor.

St. John has not been in a position to care for the large influx of people that results from such meetings in a manner which scores of the other places. The city has been up against strong competition, particularly from the standpoint of concentrated hotel accommodation. Many of the conventions held in the east in recent years have gone to St. Andrews, where the Algonquin is able to house all the delegates and provide them with sufficient accommodation to carry out the business and social features of the programme under one roof.

St. John has not had a big hotel to bring such conventions, but the Beatty will supply that need, among many others. According to the plans of St. John's new hostelry, the house will afford sleeping accommodation for a great number of its commodious public rooms will provide the necessary space for the holding of large meetings, and the banquet, which is usually an outstanding feature of all such occasions, can easily be taken care of in the large banquet room which is planned. Through the instrumentality of national conventions, much can be done, and the success of the Admiral Beatty will go a long way towards achieving this end. St. John has a great deal of civic patriots, of justified pride in the city. Also it has many residents who can do a great deal directly to forward the hotel project. In doing so they will be showing public spirit and pushing the city ahead. It is good work.

HAMPTON WRITER HAS WON PLACE

The Saginaw, Michigan, News Courier of May 6 contains this reference to a former resident of Hampton, N. B.: "Two readers of The News Courier have won their way into the Fun Shop, the new humor column that is appearing daily on the editorial page of this paper, as well as in about 80 other daily newspapers in this country, and within the next few days will experience the thrill of their own 'collyrin' contributors when they see their lines in print. They already have experienced the preliminary thrill in the form of Fun Shop checks—of this humor column is unusual in many ways, one of which is that it pays its contributors. The contributions, literally thousands of them, are sent by the various papers to the Fun Shop headquarters in New York City, where the selections are made by a board of judges.

The two who have "made" the Fun Shop column with their contributions are Mrs. Muriel Alden, 507 Genesee avenue, and LeRoy Whitney of Farwell, Clare county. Mrs. Alden was formerly Miss A. Muriel de Mille of Hampton.

BRITISH LUMBER REPORT

It is noted that the stock on hand is now larger than it was two years ago, it is very much smaller than in 1920 and 1921. The largest stocks on April 30 were in Manchester, being 6,340 standards, compared with 2,780 standards in Liverpool. Stocks of birch logs at the two ports were 560 loads, compared with 720 a year before and the stock of birch planks was 860 standards, compared with 1,024.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I heard a lady last evening teach an audience of Christian children, and men and women and honor and service from an exhibit of a little Japanese girl's collection of misen dolls. She took us to Japan, and gave us most engaging glimpses of a life so foreign to our own, and yet of a human nature so very like that we could easily detect ourselves about ourselves in that environment. Hiram, the world is small."

"Yes, sir," said Hiram, "an' with these here flyin' fellers turnin' days into minutes it's gittin' smaller all the time. I s'pose it won't be long till they'll be makin' daily calls on the Grand Lama an' sendin' us radio stories about what he had for breakfast. An' the more we mix the more we'll find out human nature is just about the same everywheres. An' when we get where we kin figger out that even the heathen has his good p'ints mebbe we'll have a little more respect fer him an' not quite so much conceit about ourselves an' what the Good Lord thinks about some of our doin's."
