SANTA CLAUS TO VISIT GEM THEATRE NEXT WEEK

Fine Mid-Week Programme at Cory Theatre — "The Special Officer" - Leading Feature

A highly pleasing mid-week show was offered yesterday at the Gem Theatre, the feature of leading interest being a two-part Lubin production dealing with a get-rich-quick-scheme, a bank robbery and a charming love story with the title of 'The Special Officer', which part is that of an old guardian of a bank, whose son is employed therein, and who has suspicions of a certain city club-man who has come to the town. The story is pleasing and fascinating, and gave much pleasure to those who saw it. Gus Carney in Essau's comedy 'Knickerbocker' New Foreman' scored a big hit and made hearty laughter, Edith Wood the Gem's new singer has already made many friends in her catchy new song hits, and H. W. Burnham directing the orchestra added to the attractiveness of the programme, which is to be repeated this evening. It was announced yesterday that, for the special benefit of the younger patrons, Santa Claus would be at the Gem on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of next week.
