CITY ENGINEER GIVES

Residents Petition That Full Investigation Be Held Into Issuing Licenses

Probably the most interesting item of business transacted at Monday's meeting of the city council to those watching the progress of Victoria was the adoption of the city engineer's and city assessor's report respecting the construction of a new permanent sidewalk on Yates street, from Blanchard street to Cadboro Bay road. to a question of privilege. He took ob-jection to a report of the proceedings of a former meeting appearing in the Times respecting the stand taken by the board on the action of ex-Mayor McCandless in the issuance of liquor licenses to Chinese merchants. The ex-Mayor, he believed, did nothing dishonest, and the council considered an investigation was unnecessary, but he thought that the Times had gone a little out of its way to put the report in the way it did. His Worship reminded the alderman that

AN EXCELLENT RECITAL

Tuesday Evening. The popularity of Miss Underhill as an entertainer was never more in evidence than it was Tuesday night, when Calvary Baptist church was crowded with an en-thusiastic and appreciative audience to hear the talented young lady in a recital.

Assisting Miss Underhill were Mrs. Wm. Gregson, the well known soprane, who sang two numbers, "Ah, 'Tis a Dream," and to the 24th at Esquimalt. "The Flight of Ages." Mrs. Gregson sang in a very finished and artistic manner and received a hearty encore. J. G. Brown, the ever-popular baritone, delighted the audience by his rendering of Piccolimini's "Whisper and I Shall Hear." Mr. Brown also responded to an encore. G. F.
