Reduce The Cost of Living

LET us look into this problem of high cost of living. Let us see if we can whittle it down a bit and extract some of its fangs.

We all agree that the cost of living has gone up. Eggs have gone up, butter has gone up, meat and poultry and vegetables have gone up. Everything we put on our tables has advanced in price from 30 to 50%. Except one item—Flour. Most of us have known this in a way sometime but have we ever for a moment realized that 10 cents spent in good Bread buys more real value than fifteen times that amount spent in Eggs, Beef or Mutton. Just glance at the tables above showing the comparison made by the U.S. Government

The only element of sustenance that it lacks is fat and that you provide for by using butter.

Bread is the one item of food that has not advanced in price, and has advanced in quality. Modern first-class bread made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is vastly superior to the crude bread of our olden times. It is not only better in taste but vastly richer in food elements. It is the result of scientific study and scientific methods of milling. "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" is the highest perfection of flour.

No ordinary flour is comparable with Royal Household for quality and uniformity. One way to reduce household expenses is to eat more bread bulletin. From a food point of view—bread is the most important in our whole bill of fare. Test after test by various Governments has proved that first class bread is in itself almost a complete food and provides most nourishment to the body.

It is a fact that the best bread made from Ogilvie's ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is richer in real food value than anything you may eat. It furnishes more all round food in the shape of carbohydrates than either beef, veal, lamb, pork, fish or vegetables.

and pastry made from Royal Household Flour.

Let us make good, clean, fresh, home-made products from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR—bread and pastry and cookies and muffins and rolls for the youngsters and in that way we will all get better food and be healthier and wealthier in the long run.

AERONAUTS WILL OBSERVE COMET

Charles J. Glidden, with Prof. and Mrs. David Todd, Plan Ascension from Pittsfield Tomorrow Morning.

Pittsfield, May 6.—Weather permitting, tomorrow will see one of the most remarkable ascensions in the history of ballooning—the scientific observation from a balloon of a comet which is chasing around the sun at the rate of 1800 miles a minute.

The participants will be Charles J. Glidden, Boston aeronaut, and Prof. and Mrs. David Todd of Amherst College. They will go up in the big balloon Massachusetts, probably about midnight, and will remain aloft until about eight o'clock Friday morning. They will take up several pieces of apparatus for observing Halley's comet, and remarkable results are expected.

If a south or east wind is blowing, the party will go up about 11 o'clock. If the wind is from the west they will wait until about two o'clock Friday morning. They aim to be at an elevation of about 5,000 feet by 3 o'clock, when they expect to get their first glimpse of the comet. They will have a small telescope capable of magnifying 25 times, and several other glasses. Prof. Todd said tonight that no attempt will be made to photograph the comet as it is still too dim to make much of an impression on the plates, but sketches will be made. An attempt will also be made to observe if the comet sends off any meteors and, if so, their direction.

Prof. Todd will experiment with pieces of apparatus of his own invention, one of which is an automatic parachute, and another, an electrical device for use on balloon voyages to notify the pilot when he is dropping or rising with the wind, his having to consult the staltoscope.

This will make Mrs. Todd's second aerial voyage. Her first was made last August in company with her husband.

PARISIAN DETECTIVE MAKES CLEVER CAPTURE

PARIS, May 6.—M. Hamard, chief of detectives in Paris, has accomplished one of the cleverest pieces of detective work in recent years, in the arrest of the murderer of a poor street girl, whose atrocious murder had baffled the police for six weeks.

The girl's head was found in a sewer, and subsequently her hands, feet and other portions of her body were discovered in different places.

Hamard, with only the vaguest clue, doggedly searched 800 houses and finally found the key to the girl's room in the bureau of an ex-convict named Ferdinand, who had recently escaped from the penal colony in French Guinea. When confronted with the evidence of his guilt, Ferdinand broke down and confessed to cutting up and disposing of the body, but asserts that the girl had died from natural causes in his arms.

The seaman has two knife wounds in his back and one half an inch below the heart. His assistants, McKearney, Rose and Crawford, are at large in Montreal. It is thought they will try to escape to the upper lakes. That an attempt was made on Robinson's life no doubt is felt.
