corld will follow Balkan peace.
Copper will be one of the greatest eneficiaries and already shows impulse of the new start. Exports of opper since March 1st show 38,205 ons, over 12,000 tons more than a car ago. This is 76,410,000 pounds or 28 days, as against 72,000,000 onunds for February. Copper stocks should not be neglected. The industry has not completed its boom.

The benefit of the mild winter to the railroads is shown in the good conditions in business and large increases over January a year ago a month that was characterized by severe weather, impeding railway operacion. The Bureau of Railway Economics gives the operating income for each mile of line at average $7.66 for every day in January. This average for the severe month in 1912 was $5.09. But it points out that January is always relatively a poor month for railway traffic. The corresponding average per mile per day for the eleven months of the current fiscal year was $11.45.

Market advances must wait for actual settlement abroad and a better money supply. The speculative interests are slowly swinging to confirmed expectation of a rise.
