

THINGS ARE LIVELY AT CAMP SUSSEX

Soldiers Complete the Wreck of the Merry-Go-Round--Picket Guard and Town Police Kept Busy--Barber's Tent Burns and Adds to the Excitement--Over 2,000 Men Expected in Sunday Church Parade.

Sussex, N. B., June 28--As the days roll by and the weather becomes finer, things are becoming much more lively than they were at the opening of the camp.

The wrecking of the merry-go-round last night was repeated this evening in a different form, the red coats, numbering about 300, again formed about the place of amusement and, after enjoying free rides until they were tired of them, they ordered the merry-go-round stopped.

There was great excitement this evening about 9 o'clock in the vicinity of the depot, and it ended the offender being placed under arrest by the picket men who escorted their prisoner to the pen in camp. A soldier in khaki persisted in remaining on the picket line.

Matters were stirred somewhat in the ranks of the 72nd Regiment this afternoon when the barber's tent was destroyed by fire. The tonorial artist had let an oil stove burning in the tent and the coals had fallen on the floor.

Those in camp are hoping for fine weather on Sunday, as the church parade promises to be a unique affair this year, as there are 2,300 men in camp.

Colonel Drury, O. C. M. P., of Halifax, came into camp today. His presence is a guarantee that the men having to go to the hospital will lose their pay during the time they are there.

Through Marion & Marion, Montreal, a patent for a saw set gauge has been awarded to John S. Scott, Fredericton, and one for a shoe heel attachment to Edward Reine, Halifax.

Three deaths from measles have been reported in St. John this year and about the same number from measles and pneumonia.

KINGSTON CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES

The Prize Winners and Graduates--Farewell Address from Trustees to Principal Hamilton and Associates--Band in Attendance, and Picnic Wound Up a Happy Day.

Kingston, June 29--Splendid weather, a crowd of visitors so large that even the spaciousness of Sir William Macdonald's big building could scarce accommodate them, an excellent programme carried out in a creditable manner by bright boys and young men and women, farewell addresses to the teachers and a happy reply by the retiring principal, and a bounteous specimen of Kingston people's hospitality were the features connected with the closing of the Macdonald Consolidated school here yesterday.

There was a large attendance of pupils who were in the greatest of spirits. The girls, many of whom might well be called young ladies, were beautifully but simply dressed, and bright flowers everywhere that even rivalled the sunshine, made the scene in and out of the school rooms one of attractive beauty.

There was a pleasant break in the programme when the principal and the staff, the trustees of the school and the rector of the parish, Rev. Mr. Wainwright, went to the platform and with a few words of introduction expressive of his regret at the departure of the staff, the rector read the following address:

David W. Hamilton, Esq., Ph. D., principal; Miss I. M. Mersereau, vice-principal; and Miss Anne Darling, Miss Margaret Stewart and Miss Mary Sturrier, members of the teaching staff, were present. The principal, Mr. Hamilton, in his address, expressed his regret that he was leaving the school and his appreciation of the efforts of the staff, and the admiration of their parents.
