District and General.

Of the Ontario Masonic membership of 63,500, there are 12,000 in khaki. A. D. McGugan of Rodney has made a donation of $300 to the Patriotic Fund.

A Shelden farmer has been fined $25 for sending watered milk to the Shelden cheese factory.

John A. McDonald of Coldwater has been engaged as principal of the Wardsville public school.

Many farmers who were not advised beforehand through the press were in Strathroy to do business on civic holiday.

At Chatham a lad between the ages of 10 and 11 was driving a car without having the necessary license.

For conducting a junk business in Wheatley without a license, Isaac Fox was recently fined $20 and costs in a Chatham court.

Construction work on the hydro-electric line to Watford has been completed and the power was turned on for the first time last week.

A Moore township farmer was fined $30 and costs for brutally beating a horse with a pitchfork and leaving it helpless in the field for two days.

It is likely that the exodus to the West this fall will be much lighter than in previous years, as the harvest is late and it will be difficult to spare many from this province.

Fred Wilson of Camlachie took a load of wool to Sarnia, which he sold for $1,320.22. Just three years ago Wilson received 20¢ a pound for wool. Last week he got 78¢ a pound.

School children in Kent county, numbering 340, of whom 108 are girls, between the ages of 10 and 14, are engaged at work in the sugar beet fields, relieving in no small measure the labor shortage problem.

The first settler of Inwood passed away last week in the death of William Warren at the age of seventy years. Mr. Warren, settled by Mr. Collier, now of Michigan, cut the first tree on the site of which later became known as Inwood.

Dr. R. J. McMillan of Toronto, who leaves for England tomorrow where he will join the Royal Medical Corps, spent several days at his old home in Dunwich. His brother, Daniel J. McMillan of Rochester, N. Y., also spent a week at the home.

Definite regulations, to come into effect at once, for restricting the use of beef, bacon and white bread in public eating places, and prohibiting the use of wheat in the distillation or manufacture of alcohol have been promulgated by order-in-council at the instance of the Food Controller. The serving of beef and bacon is prohibited on Tuesdays and Fridays, and more than one meal on any other day.

Funeral services of the late Mrs. Jean Noble Laughton were held at her residence in Bothwell on Thursday. Mrs. Laughton, who was 70 years old, was one of the most prominent and highly esteemed residents of the town. Her husband, who was a prominent merchant, died several years ago, and the only children, twin daughters, Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Costello, died about three years ago within six weeks of each other.

Wherever one drives through the country, the scarcity of farm laborers impresses itself, as is indicated by the few men seen working in the fields. Nearly every other place one man is trying to do the work which two formerly did. In many places boys and girls have been pressed into service, in order to get the hay and wheat crop in the barn. In some places as many as four farmers have combined to assist each other in harvesting their crops.

Instructions are being issued this week by the Ontario License Board to the benefit of their inspectors governing the delivery of packages containing liquors. These must be plainly labelled so as to show their actual contents and address of the consignee. Section No. 3 of the act provides a penalty of from $50 to $200 or imprisonment up to six months, or both for sending liquor to a person not entitled to a fictitious person or address.

The Petrolia Flax Company has 350 acres of flax ready for pulling, and has closed its factory in town so that all hands may be released for the fields. Petrolia, Alvinston, Oil Springs and Forest are now important flax centres in Lambton. The farmers get about $15 an acre rent for the land on which flax is grown. The farmer prepares the ground in the spring, and draws the flax straw to the factory, the flax company does the rest of the work and furnishes the seed.

Serious suggestions are coming from different quarters that during the period of the war municipalities should suspend the working of by-laws forbidding sheep and cattle and other animals running at large, so that the weed nuisance might be kept under control. Owing to the great scarcity of labor it is next to impossible to have the matter of weed cutting properly attended to, and where the by-laws are disregarded the roads are kept comparatively clean and free from noxious weeds.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, the Dominion Food Controller, has adopted the idea of a pledge to be taken in a housewife in Canada to do her best to prevent food waste and to encourage thrift and economy in the home. Where pledges are given the Food Controller will give a card to be placed in windows, showing that the housewife is pledged to save food for the Canadian soldiers and the allies. The Institute of the Department of Agriculture will send a demonstrator in canning to any centre upon application.

"COME OVER AND HELP US"

Soldier at the Battle Front Gives His Views on Conscription.

France, July 11, 1917.

To the Editor of The Transcript:
Dear Sir,—In answer to a letter of yours to me, which I highly appreciated, I professed a knowledge of the value of your time and space, and promised I would not impose. I had the good fortune, or misfortune, to read "Subscriber's" article, opposed to Conscription. I read it with a great deal of interest, and I am sure that it will be of great value to you. I have heard remarked more than once, that this is an Englishman's fight, so let them go to it; or that the Germans are putting up a good fight. As to the German's putting up a good fight, we have drawn from the farthest north, south, east and west. We have had supplies from all over the world. We have practically put the German navy out of action. We have, more or less, shut Germany in from the outside world.

That Germany is still fighting only proves the more how mightily she was prepared when she shot her bolt and declared war—a war of premeditated world conquest. How in the name of all that's holy or unholy, the soldiers of Belgium, France and Great Britain held her in check in the first place beats me. Our soldiers were quite unprepared, when Holy Willie's soldiers, fully prepared and guns wheel to wheel, hurled hell's delight into their ranks. Then, with little or no training, came our Canadian volunteers, or first contingent. We reverse those first fighters of a great war—those glorious heroes, who checked a great power in its first great rush.

I should like those who, thoughtlessly perhaps, think Germany put up a great fight, to think again, when a nation's destiny hangs in the balance, so to speak, who it was that put up a good fight. We have been gathering strength, day by day, ever since the first great shock of battle. We have been forced to, for since then hundreds of thousands have been sacrificed for the liberty we have been enjoying and hope to enjoy.

Now, with victory for which our brave boys fought and died almost in sight, we talk of conscription. "Subscriber" even talks of discouraging it. Young men of Canada, do you not see the accusing finger of your glorious dead looking at you? Do you not hear the call of blood to blood? Since creation, right down through the ages, no greater call has come to any man.

If you could see, as I can see right now from my dugout, ruined buildings that were once fine houses and barns, the inhabitants gone God knows where, possibly you would have a different call looking at you? Do you not hear the call of blood to blood? Since creation, right down through the ages, no greater call has come to any man.

man has managed to burn one of our balloons. Fortunately the observers are out, dropping to safety with their parachutes.

Heavy explosive shells are dropping not a great distance from me. I know not the minute or hour my time may come. Comrades around me share this same uncertainty as to their fate. So, under these circumstances, Sir, believe me when I say what I have written: I have written not in a spirit of cant or humbug, but with a heart full of feeling for our dead comrades, for our wounded and crippled soldiers, for our comrades in khaki, and our allied comrades, who at present are doing their bit in the great war.

I see men out here who have been wounded not once but three or four times. Each time they got better they went back to fight. They are getting tired and battle worn. They want a rest. They want you, young man. It can't be said possibly be as bad for you as it was for them. Fritz is beaten; but he is hanging on, hoping against hope that something will happen to lighten the punishment that is bound to come to him. Don't let this hope of his materialize.

Soldiers, sailors, farmers, munitioners, doctors, nurses, (pardon me, Sir, and editors), are doing the lion's share in winning the war. Old age and young age are giving a helping hand. Civilians in thousands, in their own way, are doing their bit. Now, young men, we want you. Who knows but what you may be one of the favored ones to march into Berlin. The cards are against it. The World is in the game. We have taken our lives. Now, we call you.

This article has not been written with the express purpose of humiliating young men who up till now have been found wanting, but rather to encourage them to emulate, and follow, the example of the brave lads who have preceded them.

Sir, I have the honor to be, yours for victory, with unconditional surrender.

Appin Garden Party.

The fourth annual garden party of the Appin Park Association, held on Wednesday evening of last week, was a great success in every respect—in fact the best yet held. In the neighborhood of three thousand people were present, and the proceeds totalled more than $800, which is a handsome amount for the Red Cross.

The program was one of exceptional merit and delighted the large audience. Peter MacArthur, the well-known Canadian writer, presided and opened the proceedings with a short address, in which he spoke feelingly of the sacrifices of the war. Splendid music was furnished by the Marconi band of London, and Sergt. McDonald and his band of young pipers and dancers won the admiration of all. The Fox Wilson Fun Company furnished no end of amusement.

The grounds were electrically illuminated, and decorations in red, white and blue bunting and flags completed a picture of beauty and gaiety that was enrapturing.

Great credit is being given different committees and all who worked so faithfully to make this annual affair such a success.

Died in Alberta.

The death occurred at Lethbridge, Alberta, on Tuesday, August 7th, of Hugh McTavish, a former well-known and popular resident of the township of Mossa. Mr. McTavish was born on the old homestead, lot 5, concession 5, 60 years ago January 3rd last, and resided there continuously up to seven years ago, when he went to Alberta to make his home with two of his daughters and his son. He was in his general good health up to last winter, when he experienced a breakdown of the system, the immediate cause of his death being asthma of the heart.

Mr. McTavish leaves four daughters and one son—Mrs. H. G. Russell, Mrs. Nichols and John H. McTavish of Lethbridge, Alberta, and Mrs. T. H. Millar and Mrs. Lesley of Detroit. He also leaves six sisters and two brothers. His wife died in October, 1900, in her 63rd year. The sisters, who live at different points in the States, were present at the funeral, but the brothers, who reside in the West, were unable to attend owing to the long distance they would have to travel.

The remains of the late Mr. McTavish arrived from Lethbridge on Sunday, and the funeral was held on Monday from the residence of his cousin, John F. McTavish. Service was conducted in Burns' church by Mr. Slauson of St. Thomas, a pastor of the Old School Baptists, of whom Mr. McTavish was a member, and interment was made in Kilmartin cemetery.

Funeral of Mossa Pioneer.

The funeral of Isabel, relict of the late Angus McLean, who passed away on Thursday, took place from the residence of her son, Neil A. of Brockton, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. McLean was in her 85th year and was one of the pioneers of Mossa township. She leaves three sons and two daughters: though a new life. This great chattering of the world, which I believe God has allowed, will bring about a new reformation, a new era of peace. In the reflected light of the great human sacrifice of man for man, the shadow of man's injustice, soulless greed and hypocrisy will disappear. Love for a loving, eternal God will replace the old selfish love for a perishable golden god. Man's new humanity to man will make God and countless thousands glad. Sir, while I am writing, a Fritz air

GLENCOE'S BUSY INDUSTRY

Fletcher Manufacturing Company Reports an Active Season.

Few people even in Glencoe realize the extent of the business carried on here by the Fletcher Manufacturing Company of Toronto. The June number of the Canadian Baker and Confectioner reports that this company had at that time installed within the past few weeks the following equipment, all of which was manufactured at the factory in Glencoe and shipped from here:

Gilgour & Son, Peterboro, flour sifter and blender, twelve-foot elevator, hand-pump machine; loose shelf portable proofer and steel trough.

P. A. Risto, Pembroke, improved Wonder dough divider.

Jas. Strachan, Limited, Montreal, flour sifter and blender, and electric mixer, connected.

S. G. Zarbrigg, Ingersoll, 6½-inch double action and single drop dough divider.

Ideal Bread Co., Toronto, in addition to their already large Fletcher equipment—eighteen ten-foot steel troughs.

W. H. Gilbert, Belleville, three-barrel double action dough mixer; steel troughs.

Wells & Son, Lindsay, one-barrel dough mixer.

J. A. Brosseau, Montreal, revolving proofer.

R. Loiselle, Montreal, two-barrel dough mixer, with cut gears and hand dump attachment.

Walter Allatt, Sherbrooke, Que., patent dough moulder.

Hudson Bay Co., Vancouver, B. C., two-barrel dough mixer, with cut gears and hand dump attachment.

Brown's Bread, Limited, Toronto, improved Wonder single drop dough divider.

Victor Phaneuf, St. Hyacinthe, two-pocket dough divider.

Robert Bros., Cornwall, three-barrel dough mixer, with cut gears and hand dumping attachment.

S. E. Van Horne, Picton, six-inch single roll dough moulder.

Wm. Christie, Moncton, N. B., three-barrel double action dough mixer.

Teller Bros., Limited, Toronto, dough mixer, with cut gears and hand dumping attachment.

The First Division Royal Canadian Engineers, Halifax, three-barrel dough mixer, with electric motor, direct connected, and power dumping attachment.

A. Thibault, Hull, Que., additional four-shelf wooden bread racks.

Canada Bread Co., Montreal, additional four-shelf wooden bread racks.

Harry Webb Co., Toronto, improved Wonder dough divider, with electric motor, direct connected.

Sifton Baking Co., Ottawa, additional seven-shelf wooden bread racks.

A. T. Waghorn, Woodstock, additional four-shelf bread racks.

G. C. Howison, Brockville, Ont., seven-foot wooden dough troughs.

M. F. Davidson, Smith's Falls, twenty-foot bag elevator.

M. J. Rochon, Hawkesbury, three-barrel dough mixer, cut gears and hand dumping attachment.

Laura Secord Candy Co., Montreal, have entirely equipped their new factory with Fletcher's candy making machinery, including two improved combination cream beaters and coolers.

Prohibit Liquor Ads.

Hon. C. J. Doherty's bill amending the prohibition legislation of last session, passed in committee and given third reading. Its principal provision gives the prohibition provinces the right to stop liquor advertising in local papers or through the mails, and to refuse newspapers of other provinces carrying liquor advertisements the right to circulate in the prohibition provinces.

Union Picnic Announced.

A basket picnic under the auspices of the Battle Hill Relief Society and the Union of Glencoe will be held in the grove of Herbert Weekes, Mossa, on Wednesday, August 22. An attractive program for the occasion will consist of music by the First Presbyterian Church Orchestra of London, 14 players, of which George Lethbridge, the noted organist of that church and a native of this section, is the leader; miscellaneous numbers by Miss Frances Cullis, contralto soloist of the same church, and Wm. Chater, bass soloist of the First Methodist Church, London, together with selections by a popular reader.

Miss Cullis has a voice, it is safe to say, not excelled in sweetness and power by any in Western Ontario. Her work at all times is finished, and in the lighter or heavier numbers never fails to delight. The press wherever she appears speaks of her in the highest terms.

Mr. Chater has a voice of excellent quality and is occupying a leading place among the soloists of the city of London.

A baseball game between the Woodgown team and the Oddfellows team of Glencoe will be a feature of the afternoon.

Lunches and refreshments will be sold on the grounds.

Nights of Agony come in the train of Asthma. The victim cannot lie down and sleep is driven from his brain. What grateful relief is the immediate effect of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. It banishes the frightful condition of the lungs, soothes the inflamed membranes, and enables the afflicted one to again sleep as soundly and restfully as a child. Insist on the genuine at your nearby druggist.
