"It's quite contentious. The post-secondary community proper is not well-represented at all," said Sheena Weir, chair of the Ontario Federation of Students.

"...less than 10 per cent of the 600 people..."

Students represent less than ten per cent of the 600 people invited to participate in the Forum.

"There was also some concern that the students chosen to attend the forum would be Young Conservatives. Though CFS and SUNS were assured that would not happen, there is some indication that it has," said Trainor.

There are five students from Nova Scotia attending the conference. They include Graham Flack, Mathai Mammen, and Caroline Zayid, Dalhousie Student Union president.

Also attending from Nova Scotia will be SUNS chair Trainor and Cassie Hallet, a King's College student. No representatives from other Nova Scotia universities will attend.

Flack, who was chosen to be on the organizing committee, wants to see a "full and frank" discussion of tuition fees.

Flack wants the forum to discuss new ideas like doubling tuition fees for wealthier students and using the extra revenue for bursaries and loans to students from lower-income backgrounds.

"We have to look at new ideas and many of them will be trashed, but if we can get just a few good ones out of this forum, we will have succeeded," said Flack.

The 13 Ontario student delegates to the Ontario Federation of Students will meet this Saturday to "set out what we'd like to see accomplished and what our priorities are," said Weir, head of the Federation.

Weir said plans are underway for a lobby session of provincial MPs October 20-22 as well as some sort of activity on the campus of Ontario's colleges and universities to coincide with the forum itself.

"The best thing that could happen," said Trainor, "is that this forum will become a permanent inter-provincial structure for discussing post-secondary education issues."

and a little nervous. If I ever lost that edge, I don't think I'd perform as well. I look forward to every show. Whatever energy I generate or the audience feeds me, it's an open feeling and a generally positive attitude as opposed to, 'Ah, shit, another show.'"

Valdy is a very active performer: his calendar showed dates in Canada, America and Mexico. "I want to get around the world a bit more. I'm 42 now. I figure the first half of my life is getting used up. I want the second half to change hats. I want to keep seeing the world. I figure you can't live your life on auto-pilot. You've gotta try new things."
