

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

THIRD CHILD.

Two ears that ne'er a sound have heard ;
Hands that for work have never stirred ;
Each has a nose that cannot smell,
A throat through which no note doth swell.

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

FOURTH CHILD.

So every one that trusteth them,
These worthless idols wrought by men—
They, too, who make them with their hands
Are like these gods of heathen lands.

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

Recitation, with motions, of Isaiah xlv: 12-20.

SINGLE VOICE.

Now folded be your little hands,
Then, altogether, you may tell
How unlike the gods of heathen lands
Is our great God we love so well.

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

CLASS.

If we our love to Him confess,
He will be mindful us to bless.
He has enough to spare for all,
Holds wide His arms to great and small.

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

What priceless blessings thus are given
By Him who made both earth and heaven ;
The earth for man to dwell on gave ;
In heaven He waits our souls to save

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

Oh, let us praise Him with each breath,
Before our eyelids close in death ;
E'en now begin to sing His praise,
E'en now to Him glad songs we'll raise

Chorus.

Our God is in the heavens above, etc.

Good Tim. 5

A RIDDLE.

BY DEAN SWIFT.

We are little airy creatures,
All of different voice and features :
One of us in glass is set,
One of us you'll find in jet ;
T'other you may see in tin,
And the fourth a box within :
If the fifth you should pursue,
It can never fly from you :

[How many of our young friends can send correct answers to this ?]
