

C 271794

- (3) the importation of minimum quantities of such items as explosives or ingredients of explosives which may be essential for construction, mining and other peaceful purposes;
- (4) the limited provision of merchant, coastal, coastguard and fishing vessels and the necessary facilities thereof; and
- (5) the retention of such military structural installations and establishments as the Contracting Parties may agree can be made available for civil use.

(d) Security Aspects of Territorial Adjustments

Canada's interests in the Pacific are more closely allied to those of the United States than the Commonwealth. She should therefore support the continuation of United States military power in the Pacific as a stabilizing influence and support United States recommendations regarding the disposition of islands.
