

for a fishing station. There was a dispute between the Mahmahillikullahe and the Kwickwakaumukw as to the ownership of this place and it was practically immaterial as to which of them got it; he would recommend that the new reserve be for their joint use. The land covered by the application for Dekialia (K11) were on a Rulp Limit on the extreme end of Inlet Point; It would work no harm to the Pulp Company to grant the Indians one acre, and he therefore recommended that this be done. As for Applications K12 and K14, for Kinkiyishakgla and Masug respectively, these were not recommended, the lands applied for being found to be alienated. The land covered by Application K15 (Kwakwakas) was an old village site, not now occupied, but apparently used by the Indians in years gone by. It was recommended that the plot of land marked "L.R." be confirmed, this plot lying to the north of Timber Limit No. 23894 and between that limit and Health Bay. This did not appear as a reserve in the schedule but was locally recognized as an Indian Reserve and so regarded by the Indians. With respect to K16 (Umiagatia) this was recommended for the reason that the Indians appeared to be trying to intelligently conserve for their own use and future benefit the several localities in which shell fish were obtained so that they might derive an assured living when clam canneries, etc. were established. The place asked for included a number of small and rocky islands, with scrubby timber. Application K17 (Dunngwadi) was not recommended. Kiyala (K18) was a place now used by the Indians and this application was recommended -- that there be granted the small island in Retreat Pass marked K18 on the map and including about 10 or 15 acres. This island was not named on the map but was probably Sail Island, lying to the west of Health Bay and to the southwest of Reserve No. 1. Re Application K19 (Kiyala) this place lay
