

I will love thee, O Lord, for thou art kind to me in all thy ways; day by day will I sing to thee. I will not play with them that take thy name in vain.

Keep me, O Lord, from them who love thee not, and who walk not in thy ways. Thou, O Lord, wilt do them good that fear thee,
and wilt love them all the day long.

God made man of the dust.
He made the sun to rule the day, and the moon to rule the night.
God is our God, and he is King of all men; they are kept by him:
and all men will come un-to him;
for he is God o-ver all.
