

Death of Mrs. Mary A. Barlow

Well-Known Lady Had Remarkable Career

In the death of Mrs. Mary A. Barlow, widow of the late George Barlow, which occurred early this morning at the home of her daughter Mrs. George Davis, Kingston, a well-known Belleville lady has passed to her reward. She had reached a great age, being in her ninety-third year.

The late Mrs. Barlow was a daughter of the late Johnathan Alcock, and was born in Ringmere, Sussex, England, December 30th, 1827, and came to Belleville with her parents at the age of ten years. She had lived here ever since—until a few years ago when she went to reside with her daughter at Madoc. Some weeks ago she had gone to Kingston to visit with her daughter. She had been three weeks ill.

In the year 1844 she was married to George Barlow, who preceded her to the tomb twenty-six years ago last April. She was a member of Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church and for many years was a faithful worker in the congregation.

She leaves seven children: Johnathan of Tyndinaga; Isaac of Havelock; Jesse W. and R. G. of this city; Mrs. James Nayler, of Madoc; Mrs. Carr, of this city, and Mrs. George Davis, of Kingston.

She has forty-three grandchildren living, seventy-one great grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. Fourteen of her grandsons served in the Great War, two of whom were killed.

Rarely is such a record equaled. Mrs. Barlow a few days ago was able to name the names of her grand children, great-grandchildren and her great-great-grandchildren. Her mental faculties she preserved acute to the last. Recently her eyesight had been poor.

The remains will be brought to the home of her son, Mr. Jesse W. Barlow, 11 Forin street, whence the funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon.

TRENTON

Mr. Dick Spencer, who has spent the last few weeks in Calgary and other western points, attending the meeting of the A.F. and A.M., arrived home Monday noon and reports an enjoyable time.

Mrs. Murdock, Brighton, her sister, Mrs. Butler and two children, motored to Trenton today. Mrs. Anson Whittier accompanied them home.

Mrs. Fred Adams and two children, of Winnipeg, who have been spending a couple of months in Trenton, are leaving Tuesday morning for the west. Her sister, Mrs. Phillips, King St., and two children will accompany them as far as Toronto.

Mr. Phillip Osterhout, of Frankford, was in town on Monday.

The funeral of the late Sergeant-Major Friend was held at the Salvation Army Hall at 2.30 Monday. Long before the hour the Hall was filled by friends and sympathizers. The roll of the drum and the melody of "Shall We Gather at the River" sounded while the casket was being placed. Then the soldiers and officers of the Trenton corps and the visiting officers took their places on the platform. The "union" to which he belonged as a workman on the C.N.R. and the L.O.L. took their places in the centre of the building. Former officers, assisted by Captain White of the Trenton Corps conducted a most impressive service. Mrs. Henly sang "Home, Beautiful Home" during the service. After the service the army, union and L.O.L. marched ahead of the fallen comrade to Mount Evergreen where the burial service was read. Seldom has Trenton been so moved as by the death of Bro. Friend. The long line of cars following in the procession spoke volumes for Bro. Friend. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Friend and her children.

Mrs. Jones, who has been assisting her husband in the gospel meetings held in the park near the Film Factory, left town today.

Lieut. Beatrice Huffman, of Toronto, returned to her home in Trenton to be present and pay tribute to the life and memory of Bro. Geo. Friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Richardson, of Toronto, former resident of Trenton, are visiting here for a week or ten days.

About two hundred feet of curbing on the east end of East Bridge street was damaged last night by children walking on the concrete before it had dried. The police have been notified by the Standard Paying Co. of the vandalism and will investigate.

An Interesting Young Westerner

Is Miss E. G. Bayne.

BORN IN ONTARIO

A Lover of Outdoor Life, She Is Wide Awake to All Around Her

"We have nothing out here but wind and a skyline," wrote Edith G. Bayne on first going to the West. "I don't think I'll ever be able to write anything about the prairie and put any pep into it!"

But she was mistaken. Whether it is because she is one of those happy people who are never bored but find everybody and everything interesting or whether it is an account of that inborn gift for literary expression which will not be denied, she has made the West her own. Not that she loves it any too well even yet. But she understands its problems and its people and right valiantly does her part in helping to interpret it and translate it in terms other than wheat and cattle. Miss Bayne is Ontario born but has lived in eight of the nine Provinces, and has engaged in a number of varying pursuits none of which, however, have proved quite so interesting and so profitable to her as writing. She affords a unique example of a Canadian free-lance able to earn a living by the pen and remain in her native land. For one so young she has already had rather a remarkable career. She began selling her stories when less than twenty, although at first only in a desultory way and then for a time entered business life. She had had an excellent grounding in English and English literature but no special training for authorship. Her early newspaper work had to do with the inevitable society items of course, but soon growing away from this she became dramatic critic on a Chicago daily, doing little bits of literary fragments and book reviews on the side. Her stuff appears to have been well received from the very start.

Keep Children Well During Hot Weather

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevents stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Auto Escapes Cows and Strikes Owner

Mrs. Wm. Beebe, of Morrish, Struck by Automobile and Was Painfully Injured

PORT HOPE, Aug. 25.—Mr. William Beebe, who resides at Morrish, met with an unfortunate accident last Thursday evening. He was driving a car along the road when an automobile driven by Mr. Mutton, of Tyng, happened along. Mr. Beebe was walking in the ditch at the side of the road, unnoticed by the driver of the car, and as Mr. Mutton turned his auto to escape the cows Mr. Beebe stepped to the road to chase the cows to the other side. Before Mr. Mutton could apply the brakes, the car had struck Mr. Beebe but fortunately it was travelling at such a low rate of speed that it was stopped within a few feet of the spot. A small bone in the back of Mr. Beebe's hand was broken and his leg was severely cut. Mr. Mutton drove the injured man to his home, and a doctor was summoned. Mr. Beebe is now recovering nicely, and will be around as usual in a few days. No blame is attached to the driver of the car.

Taylor Statten Has Two Good Jokes

Judge for Yourself Their Quality—Thousands of Boys Have Heard Them

Taylor Statten, secretary of the National Boys' ork Council, has two good jokes. And only he can tell those jokes so that the thousands of boys he addresses at conference throughout Canada laugh till their sides ache.

That jet-black haired, tanned complexioned gentleman tells them with a droll style of his own. The first one goes something like this: "The fond parents stood silently over the cradle of their one and only precious baby boy, peering under the bed clothes. The mother was thinking of her boy. He would grow up to school, to business, get married and build a home. She was happy and proud. She turned to John, her husband. He, too, was gazing quietly at the cradle. "John," the wife said softly, "what are you thinking about?" "I was just wondering," was the reply, "how the mischief the makers can turn out a cradle like that for $3.98."

Harry Brown was dippy about his butterfly hobby. Pinned to cards he had specimens of every description of butterflies and moths. And the story goes on to tell how Harry bought a book from a Yonge street book shop—"Advice to young moth-trappers," and as Harry put it: "I could not see any advice all through the book to young moth-trappers."

But only Taylor Statten can do justice to those two stories.

GREEN POINT

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, from Hyke's Point visited at Mr. Hamby's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McCabe and family, from Hay Bay, spent Sunday at Mr. F. McCabe's.

A number from this vicinity attended quarterly service at Bethesda on Sunday morning.

Mr. W. Hubbie and family and Mr. H. Pletcher and family, of Frankford, were Sunday guests at Mr. J. M. Anderson's.

The annual picnic of Northport circuit which was held at Woodville Grove on Thursday, Aug. 19th, was a decided success. Even though the day was warm, every one seemed to enjoy themselves listening to the speaking and singing, also joining in the races, baseball, etc. Proceeds $380.

A little baby girl has come to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. White. Congratulations. Mrs. Edith Pletcher, of Frankford, has returned home after spending the past week at Mr. Ezra Anderson's.

OBITUARY

JAMES HERBERT RUSSELL.
Death came suddenly to James Herbert Russell, eldest son of the late S. B. Russell of Ameliasburg township on Tuesday afternoon. Angina pectoris was the cause of death. Mr. Russell was born in 1867 on the present homestead and had lived all his life there. He was never married. Mr. Russell by occupation was a farmer and in religion an Anglican. He leaves one brother S. B. Russell. The many friends of the late Mr. Russell mourn his death. He was well and favorably known. To reduce high cost

MRS. D. C. COLEMAN.
A despatch today conveyed the information that Mrs. Coleman of Winnipeg, wife of Vice-President D. C. Coleman, of the G.T.R., had lost her life in a drowning accident. Mr. Coleman was at one time editor of a Belleville daily paper.

JUST A DISTURBANCE.
A man cursing and creating a general disturbance on John street last night required the sending in of a police call. The offender had fled before the constable arrived.
