

EAGER TO RETURN TO ARCTIC HOME

No Taxes, Thieves or Other Adjuncts of Civilization to Bother One

TRAPPER TIRED OF "LIFE" Visiting Edmonton for First Time in 23 Years Seeing the Sights

EDMONTON, Alta., May 6.—After an absence of one year from the top of the map, W. D. Clark, hunter, trapper and prospector, is very anxious to get back to the Arctic where, he says, there is an abundance of all things necessary to a healthy existence, and where taxes, thieves and other adjuncts of modern civilization have no place in the scheme of things. Mr. Clark is re-visiting Edmonton for the first time in 23 years. His home cabin is situated near the head of Peel River, about 180 miles from Herschel Island and 110 miles from Fort McPherson, but on the Yukon side of the mountains. He comes to Fort Yukon once a year for supplies and mail, and to return to his home it is necessary to pole his canoe up stream for 500 miles, the journey occupying forty-five days.

On his trap line Mr. Clark maintains eleven cabins and four tents, the round of the line taking fifteen days travelling. There are practically no lakes in the district. It is rolling country and due to the absence of still water there is no available food supply for the dogs in the shape of fish. Moose and caribou are always available, however, and the caribou never go hungry. He states he has seen herds of caribou which he estimated to number 10,000 in their annual migration. They go to the Arctic coast in the spring where the young are born; and about September they return inland to the edge of the timber where they can obtain shelter and the moose on which they live.

Mr. Clark's nearest neighbor is 56 miles away, and they see each other but once a year when they meet to talk and exchange reading matter. With the exception of this man, Abe Schaefer, of Edmonton, there is no one else in all that wide territory as the Indians do not come up that far while the Eskimos from the Arctic coast do not hunt inland. He states that the winter, although cold is healthy, and he cited the cases of a number of old timers resident in the country who did not know what sickness meant. In winter the thermometer sometimes drops down to 75 degrees below zero, but despite cold he never misses a day on the trap line.

Last year Mr. Clark came out to the Pacific from Fort Yukon in company with the son of Sir Robert Kindersley, governor of the Hudson Bay Company, and after visiting Vancouver finally arrived in Edmonton on route home.

A Splendid Superintendent.

Kingston.—The announcement that Dr. A. E. Ross has consented to continue as medical superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital was received with pleasure by the people of the city. Dr. Ross has been acting as superintendent for the past seven months and has made great improvements in the hospital.

Freight Service Criticized.

Tweed.—The freight service on the C.N.R. south of Tweed is coming in for considerable criticism by those who have occasion to use that line. At present we have only two trains each week, and the result is that orders are frequently held up for several days.

STOP WEARING ARMY CLOTHES MILITIA DEPT. ISSUES ORDERS

Capt. McManus, District Adjutant, Makes Public Official Notice That Will Interest Discharged Men and Members of Non-Permanent Militia.

The practice of many of wearing military uniforms or portions of military uniforms, such as great coats, caps or breeches, is to be stopped absolutely by the Department of Militia and Defence, and this morning Capt. D. Thos. McManus, Adjutant for the district, made public an order drawing attention to charges in the criminal code which make it an offence for wearing of uniforms by anyone not in the militia.

Discharged soldiers who have been permitted to retain their uniforms, and members of the non-permanent active militia, when not on drill, have been wearing their uniforms or part of them, and the changes in the criminal code will put a stop to the practice. According to the order the criminal code amendment provides in brief that any person who, without lawful authority, wears any uniform of His Majesty's Naval, Land or Air Forces, or any uniform which is so similar to the uniform of these forces as to be likely to be mistaken therefor, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $300 and to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months or to both fine and imprisonment.

A warning. The militia department has issued the following: It has been brought to the attention of Militia Headquarters that there are numerous cases of civilians wearing, without authority, Military Uniforms, or portions thereof, mainly Great Coats.

The persons who, without authority, wear uniform, or portions thereof, come within two main classes, viz: (a) Discharged soldiers, who have been permitted to retain their discharge, and persons who have purchased from such discharged soldiers, or other individuals, articles of uniform with the buttons and badges remaining thereon, and (b) Members of Non-Permanent Active Militia units who, when not attending drill, or going to and from drill, or on other occasions not designated in the Militia Act, and the regulations made thereunder, wear their great coats, breeches, etc., which have been issued to them.

It is considered that steps should be taken to prevent as much as possible the unauthorized wearing of uniform, or articles of clothing so nearly similar to military uniform or to the uniform of the militia as to be likely to be mistaken therefor. The Criminal Code (R.S.C. Chap. 146) was amended by the status of 1920 (10 & 11 Geo. V., Chap. 43, section 10 of which Chapter adds a new section to the Criminal Code, viz: 437 (a) lawful. This amendment in brief that any person who, without authority, wears any uniform of His Majesty's Naval, Land or Air Forces or any uniform which is so similar to the said Forces as to be likely to be mistaken therefor, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $300.00 or to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding 12 months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

This section is the authority for proceeding in the above mentioned cases, but, before any proceedings are instituted against persons who commit the above mentioned offence, warnings should be issued throughout the various Military Districts, warning all concerned that the unauthorized wearing of any of H.M. Naval, Land or Air Forces, or any uniform so similar as to be likely to be mistaken therefor, constitutes an offence under the Criminal Code, and that persons committing such offence will render themselves liable to prosecution, and, further, that all persons who wear great coats, tunics, etc., must have the buttons and badges removed, thereby rendering them less liable to be mistaken for Military uniforms.

This is issued as a warning to all concerned, and the instructions herein contained should be most implicitly and carefully complied with. Copy of the amendment of the Criminal Code above are printed below for further information.

D. Thos. McManus, Captain.

Amendments To The Criminal Code. The Amendments to the Criminal Code set forth below were passed at the last session of Parliament. The date on which the Act is to come into operation has been set for the 15th of October, 1920. Therefore, until that date, no steps can be taken to prosecute under the provisions of this Act.

It is considered advisable, however, that this information should be in your possession in order that you may be in a position, when the time comes, to take the necessary steps to bring offenders before a Court of Civil Jurisdiction.

1. Any person, without lawful authority:

(a) Wears any uniform of His Majesty's Naval, Land or Air Forces, or any uniform which is so similar to the uniform of any of the said Forces as to be likely to be mistaken therefor.

(b) Wears any distinctive mark relating to wounds received or service performed in war, or any military medal, ribbon, badge, chevron, or any decoration or order that is awarded for war service, or any imitation thereof, or any mark or device, or thing likely to be mistaken for any such mark, medal, ribbon, badge, chevron, decoration or order.

(c) Has in his possession any certificate of discharge or statement of service from any of His Majesty's Naval, Land or Air Forces, not issued to and belonging to such person, or (d) Has in his possession any commission or warrant or any certificate of discharge or statement of service issued to any officer or person in, or who has been in any of His Majesty's Naval, Land, or Air Forces, which contains any alteration which is not verified by the initials of the officer issuing the same, or by the initials of some other officer thereto lawfully authorized, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding three hundred dollars or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

2. In any prosecution under this section in which it is proved that the accused has worn a uniform, mark, ribbon, badge, chevron, decoration or order aforesaid, or without lawful excuse has in his possession any certificate or statement aforesaid, he shall be deemed to have worn or had the same in his possession without lawful authority, unless he proves that he had such authority. (H.Q. 305-3-33 dated 10th August 1920.) (District Order No. 466, dated 17-8-20).

The First Haul Made.

Kingston.—It is a well-known fact that motor boats have been carrying liquor from Kingston to the American shore for a long time. Only for the prompt action of the police constables one day recently, some more would have crossed the waters.

IN DIAMOND MINES.

JAGERSFONTEIN, SOUTH AFRICA, May 7.—There has been further retrenchment in the diamond mines here and underground work has ceased. It is estimated that the employees will shortly number only 60 Europeans and 800 boys, compared with 900 and 8,000, respectively, before the war.

The men who are leaving will receive two months' pay. Many families have already left the town and business is at a standstill.

La Madeleine. It is a well-known fact that motor boats have been carrying liquor from Kingston to the American shore for a long time. Only for the prompt action of the police constables one day recently, some more would have crossed the waters.

EASIER RULES FOR DRINKING

British Public to See Bars Open Longer Under the Newest Laws

"DRYS" FIGHT PROPOSAL Oppose It Because It Comes From Brewery Interests—Details

LONDON, May 6.—Relaxation from the present regulation of the liquor traffic is provided in the new Licensing bill before Parliament. The act, which lengthens the hours during which public houses may remain open and grants certain other concessions, is said also to represent an effort on the part of the trade itself to reform.

This tendency of the liquor interests, is pointed to by prohibitionists as an effort to appease the moderate temperance elements and to forestall threatened attempts of reformers to bring about a brand of prohibition as severe as that of the United States.

New Features. New features of the measure would impose heavier fines for drunkenness, with imprisonment on the third offence; would permit saloons to remain open from nine to eleven hours a day, instead of the present six and a half hours, and would allow adults to take children into parts of public houses not used chiefly as open drinking bars. Other proposals would make possible "greater freedom for rational enjoyment with special reference to music, dancing and games."

Was Smothered. Colonel Gratton, the father of the present bill, who is a brewer, introduced a similar measure at the last session of Parliament, but it was smothered in the mass of other legislation.

Premier Lloyd-George has been questioned again and again in the House of Commons as to when relief from the present liquor control might be expected. He has consistently replied that the government was giving the matter its closest attention. Spokesmen for the liquor interests have intimated that Mr. Lloyd-George, because of his reputed "dry" propensities, is not in a hurry to abolish the present system of control.

Children and Bars. The bill is being attacked by temperance people because it comes from the brewery interests, because of letting children into bars where they will learn to drink and because of the longer hours.

To Be Ordained. Kingston.—Martin James, Kingston will be ordained into the priesthood at the Montreal Seminary on May 22nd, and will celebrate his first mass in Kingston on May 23rd.

Queen's Degrees. Kingston.—It is expected that the degrees in arts and science will be announced at Queen's university on Saturday. Next week will be the big convocation week held at Queen's in years.

Barn Burned. Pictou.—Percy Smith's barn at Union Vale Cheese factory was burned. Several holes were burned in the roof of Mr. Luther Smith's house which is nearby. The lumber taken from the Union Vale factory with which Mr. Smith intended repairing his house, was stored in the barn, also a wagon, harness, seed corn and grain. Everything in the barn was burned. Mr. Smith was hoeing strawberries when he discovered the fire and has no idea as to how it started. The neighbors turned out quickly and succeeded in saving adjoining property.

HOLD CELEBRATION TO HONOR "LA MADELON" PARIS, May 7.—The anniversary of "La Madeleine," the marching song of the French soldiers in the great war, will be celebrated May 29, at Fontenay-sous-Bois, where the pollux first heard it and immediately adopted it for their own. "La Madeleine" has just been elected by the citizens of Fontenay to unveil a tablet in the Ecole Jules Ferry, where Andre Stout first sang the air to the soldiers of the 12th Artillery.

"La Madeleine" is Miss Louise Beaud, nineteen years old. She will be carried to the school on a triumphal car, attended by two maids of honor, and to the music of the famous song will strip the covering from the tablet. "La Madeleine" written by Louis Bousquet and Camille Robert, wasn't a success when first sung in music halls, probably because the words awakened facetiousness, but as soon as it was heard by the pollux it was immediately adopted as theirs.

BAY OF QUINTE EDITORS MEET

Directing Heads of Papers in These Parts Here to Exchange Views

TORONTO EXPERT SPEAKS Mr. Roy Sayles, Manager of Weekly Section of Canadian Press is Chief Guest

Newspaper men, job printers and pen pushers from the counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Prince Edward foregathered at the Chamber of Commerce building here yesterday afternoon to hold the annual meeting of what is known as the Bay of Quinte Press Association. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. H. Watson; Vice-President, H. W. Sabine; Secretary-Treasurer, A. E. Calnan; members of the Executive, C. G. Young, D. H. Morrison, E. S. Bennett.

Among those present were: Mr. Roy Sayles, Toronto, manager of the Weekly Newspaper Section of the Canadian Press Association; Mr. C. G. Young, representing The Courier, Trenton; Mr. A. H. Watson, The Review, Madoc; Mr. A. E. Calnan, The Gazette, Pictou; Mr. H. W. Sabine, The Herald, Marmora; Mr. D. H. Morrison, The News, Tweed; Mr. A. G. Davis, The Intelligencer, Belleville; Mr. E. S. Bennett, The Leader, Stirling; Mr. J. O. Herity, The Ontario, Belleville.

A motion to affiliate with neighboring press associations was, after some discussion, withdrawn, it being felt that the Bay of Quinte Press Association was doing good work and more benefit could be derived by retaining the smaller association.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Pictou, and it was thought advisable to hold meetings more frequently than once a year.

Mr. Sayles, who was the speaker of the day, delivered a strong, practical address on the work of the Weekly Section of the Canadian Press Association and discussed various problems affecting the printing and publishing trade. He also gave the members particulars of the excursion of weekly newspaper men leaving Toronto on June 2nd for Vancouver at which latter city they will hold their annual meeting.

Mr. Sayles was greatly complimented upon his fine presentation and was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

Mr. Herity delivered an address on "The Editorial in the Country Weekly" following which a round table discussion took place as to the reasons for the practical disappearance of editorial comment and opinion from the papers in the smaller towns and villages.

This meeting was one of the most interesting and beneficial of the annual meetings of the association that have taken place since its organization eight years ago.

MILK CAMPAIGN IS HUGE SUCCESS

Thousands More Cans a Day Drunk in Toronto Says Woman Expert

Toronto, May 7.—As a result of the recent milk campaign there had been an increase of 1,000 cans per day in the amount of milk consumed by Toronto citizens, said Mrs. A. M. Huestis, reporting on the campaign at the annual meeting of the Child Welfare Council, held in the Gage Institute. Mrs. Huestis urged the necessity for having milk served to the children in the schools, expressing the hope that it would soon be done in Toronto.

Mrs. A. D. Fisher, representing the Dependency Section, told of the practical work accomplished at the Infants' Home along the line of having babies placed in private families. In some cases children are adopted outright, and again they are taken without being legally adopted. In some homes the little ones are boarded at the rate of from $17 to $27 a month. Other homes offer an abiding place for babies and their mothers and some again care for the ill-nourished, delicate infants, who rarely live if left in an institution. In ten months, said Mrs. Fisher, 131 families had offered to care for some of the little inmates of the Infants' Home. Sixty-two of these offers had been accepted, and out of this number there had been 39 outright adoptions.
