UNCLE SAM'S BACK DOWN TO GERMANY

In the Matter of Armed Merchantmen is the Subject of Comment by the British Press.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Feb. 12.—The Manchester Guardian in an editorial on the German memorandum regarding armed merchantmen, says: "Germany's announcement of her intention to treat armed merchantmen as warships after March 1, is to be taken in connection with the proposals which the United States Government recently made to the belligerents."

The editorial argues that Washington proposes a bargain, the Entente side of which is clear, namely the surrender of the right to arm merchantmen, but the German side of which is not clear. "If the United States," it says, "can only think it reasonable if we ask by what means it will guarantee that Germany and her allies will carry out their part of a bargain. Presumably the United States has made or will make suggestions to meet this difficulty."

The Daily Graphic says: "We must henceforth take care that every merchantman is adequately armed, so that our sailors may at least have set at naught the rules of civilization, built up by centuries of civilization. We must make them pay a bitter lesson, if they do not follow their example."

The standard says: "It is no part of our business to make the work of the Germans easy for them. Therefore we shall continue to entertain our proposals, but solely for the purpose of defence, and in such a way that no ground can be afforded neutrals to deny them the rights of war in their ports."

"If the United States thinks it well to warn Americans not to travel on armed ships from a desire to stay out of the war, it is not fair to complain. It is a matter solely for President Wilson and his cabinet. But we shall not abate one jot or provide our traders with means of defence."

"The memorandum is a palpable dodge to get around the existing law which has been complied with by the United States not to sink peaceful vessels without warning. Really the most interesting point is the fresh revelation of the peculiar psychology of the German mind."

The Times' naval correspondent says: "The American Government in its note to the belligerent powers, published January 29, afforded the Germans an excellent opportunity and a plausible pretext for fresh declarations of war upon mercantile marine. The authors of the new memorandum hope it will have the effect of rendering neutral vessels liable to being captured by the belligerent powers generally and creating another source of difficulty between the United States and England."

"The American note declares that neutral vessels are not always to be so. What a situation they are creating for themselves should they persist in this. They appear to be laying up a note, they appear to be laying up a note, they appear to be laying up a note."

GERMAN PRESS ON SUBJECT.
Berlin, Feb. 11.—Via London, Feb. 12.—The Berlin newspapers publish despatches from the United States announcing that it is expected that the Washington administration will issue a warning to immediate armament. The newspapers say that this announcement comes at a timely moment in Germany that the new policy enunciated in the German memorandum will be treated by armament after February 29 as warships, would be found to conform to the revised ideas of the American department of state on the conduct of submarine warfare and hence tend to simplify in the future the situation between Germany and America.

Official circles felt but little apprehension regarding the rejection of the memorandum by the American Government or the possibility of the Lusitania issue. It is stated that the report from Baron Zwiédnek Von Suden, president of the Austro-Hungarian charge d'affaires at Washington, describing a conversation with Secretary Lansing regarding the disarmament proposals, has given the German and the Austrian Governments a definite idea of the American position. The main anxiety felt by the German authorities has been with regard to the reception which would be accorded to the memorandum by the press and public.

DYSPEPSIA OVERCOME

Tone Up the Stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffiness, headache, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are great and quick. Improvement begins immediately.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, makes the rich, red blood that is needed for perfect digestion, and builds up the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's, for no other medicine can take its place.

The newspapers of Germany agree in saying that it is scarcely correct to refer to the policy announced in the memorandum as new since Germany even before the war, officially had taken the position that ships armed in accordance with Mr. Churchill's plan, lose their penal, non-combatant privileges and that their crews should be treated not even as belligerents, but as pirates. They say that an amendment was incorporated in German prize regulations on June 22, 1914, before the war broke out, which provided that every hostile act of an armed merchantman, was to be regarded as piracy and that the crews should be dealt with according to the regulations covering extraordinary military law and procedure.

The newspapers point out that the memorandum does not go to extremes, but allows armed merchantmen the privileges of warships, that is the crews, if captured, are to be treated as prisoners of war and the ships, although liable to be attacked and sunk without warning, are entitled to certain rights of surrender.

The naval experts quote certain British newspapers as opposed to the Churchill measure, to indicate that even in England, the dangers for crews and passengers on armed merchantmen was recognized before the war.

The German press is unanimous in expressing commendation of the memorandum, which, however, does not go far enough to satisfy some of the writers. Count von Helldorf, for instance, says that insistence should be made on the "inherent right of the German nation to make use of any weapon which is necessary in the struggle for existence."

It is more important for the German Empire and its people that a restricted use be made of the submarine, than that good relations should be conserved with the United States.

YOUNGEST SON OF THE KAISER

Is to be Married by Decision of His Dad on March 11th.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 12.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Amsterdam says that Emperor William has announced his decision that the marriage of Prince Joachim is to take place at Potsdam on March 11th.

The engagement of Prince Joachim, and Princess Marie Augustine, daughter of Prince Edward of Anhalt, was officially announced in Berlin on October 11, 1915. It has since then been stated unofficially that the wedding would take place during the present month and that the ceremony would be extremely simple.

Prince Joachim, who was 25 years old last December 17, is a captain in the fourteenth regiment of Hussars, in the foot guards, the Grenadier Guards and several other military organizations and is the only unmarried one of the Emperor's six sons. Princess Marie Augustine is a niece of the reigning duke, Frederick II, of Anhalt, and was born on June 10, 1898. It has been reported that her father is fighting under Crown Prince Frederick William, brother of the prospective bridegroom, on the Argonne front.
