is the case, and we have admired—as every to the case, and we have admired—as every body sust—the noble use Mr. Lord has made of the wealth of his owe carning, in advancing his young relations, and furthering their prospects in the world. W. W. Lord, Merchant, and the Hon. W. W. Lord, Mr. P. P., Ercentive Councillor, &c., &c., &c., are two very different beings, in our eyes. We do not think ourselves bound to pay the same respect to the asyings and doings of the politician that we willingly account to those of the man.

Bank Bill.—We are sorry to learn that this important measure has been refused the royal allowance, owing to the insertion of the clause, we understand, which provides that 12 per cent. may be exacted from the bank whea it refuses to cash its own paper. This clause is the one which gave rise to most opposition in the Legislature.—Erm

According to previous announcement, John G. Daly, Emp., delivered a lecture upon the "Beign of George the Third." Having such a wide field, Mr. Daly feld much difficultly in compressing his subject-matter within the compass of an hour,—but he did it ably, and he did it of the sum of the lands of an historical view of Europe, during the long and suppressed as death of the lot so day's paper has been unavoidably crowded out. Committee Reside, pass elected, by hallot, to fill the state of the state and handed over to the Treasury of the Island the portion of the proceeds of sale that the government was entitled to, according to Law.

The parties who smuggled these goods were, in no case, prosecuted for the penalties; the reason why I do not know, as the crown officers were the proper persons to enforce penalties in such rectangle of the proper persons to enforce penalties in such rectangle of the proper persons to enforce penalties in reason why I do not know, as the crown officers were the proper persons to enforce penalties in such matters; on one occasion I was selling two casks of rum at public auction and W. W. Lord, a member of the self-styled liberal Government, was present and told the parties who were bidding for the rum that they could get stronger, better, and cheaper Liquor at Barry's than that which I was selling, his reason for so doing must be, I presume, that Mr. Barry is a tenant of his, and he would therefore prefer putting money into Mr. Barry's pockets, than into the public chest, or perhaps the liquor that I was selling belonged to some of Lord's friends. On another, occasion when I made a seizure, the party who was unlawfully possessed of the goods, threatened me by saying, that he would get Cole to fix me for what I had done, that is seizing any goods which were annealed to the on the subject of the Patriotic Fund, which having been read by the Clerk, the Hon. Secretary moved that the matter be referred to the Committee of Supply. In doing so, he presumed that the House would readily contribute to the object of the Commission, as had been done in the other Colonies.

Mr. Coopen opposed the motion, arguing that it was prematury, the House having not as yet ascertained the amount which would accrue to the Fund from the various Public Meetings which had been held in aid of the object. The District which he represented had contributed liberally from private means, and it would be unfair to tax those who had already paid, by an apprepriation of the Public Funds.

How. Mn. Whelan in reply to Mr. Cooperalladed to the public meetings held on the subject throughout the Island and in the Hon. Member's (Mr.Cooper's) own district and could state with confidence, that it was the will of the people that the Legislature should make such appropriation to the fund, as the state of the revenue and the exigencies of the public service would allow. Although the voluntary subscriptions in the Island had been liberal, it would never do for us to fall behind the example set by Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunewick.

Ma. Coopen thought that as the session had but just commenced, it would be advisable to postpone any setion until the aggregate amount of voluntary contributions had been ascertained.

How. Cot. Secretary explained that no particular sum was now demanded. His motion being merely for a reference to the Committee of supply, that the various meetings manifested clearly the feelings of the people on the subject. That the returns of the different collections would shortly be before the Hon. Members, but that he hoped and believed, that the aum granted by the House, would be voted irrespectively of such returns. That the revenue this year exceeded that of the last by £10000, and that the people of the Island feeling that the brave men engaged in the war, were fighting their battles, although not paid

Hon. Cor. Secretary laid on the table a classified statement of the public accounts, by which is appeare, that the actual expenditure for the last year was £52806 5a 81d including the amount of £18000 paid for the Worrel Estate, against the receipt of £48003 166 51d, deducting burgers the £18000 paid for the Worrel Estate, against the receipt of £46033 16s 61d, deducting, however, the purchase money of the Worrel Estate, which earnot be fairly charged against the expenditure for the year, would leave a surplus of £1135 5s 161d over the expenditure, and after paying the balance of the previous year against the Colony of £3028 11s 6d, would leave the sum of £8106 13d 4dd, clear of Treasury Notes, Debentures and unpaid Warrents.

Hon. Mr. Warsuraron laid on the Table the Treasurer's accounts for the last Year.—Mr.
