Prize Distribution

OF ST. BONAVENTURE'S COLLEGE.

At the T. A. Hall last night the annual distribution of prizes took place. The programme opened with a performance entitled "The Upstart," a comedy in three acts, from Moliere's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme."

Amongst those present were His Grace the Archbishop, the clergy and the Christian Brothers. The comedy was very cleverly performed and received great credit on the pupils and their teachers. Southern Shore Notes.

The staple is now in great demand on the shore, and Mr. M. E. Condon, representing an American firm, is offering fancy prices for it.

An ex-policeman not long since went astray in the woods, and his friends becoming alarmed went in search of him. His sister found him and accompanied him home. He was not much the worse for his experience.

A large number of Southern Shore people will come down to St. John's on the return trip of the Portia to make the usual fall purchases.

Work on the Southern Shore branch line is steadily advancing and the grade has now reached the Quarry near Aquaforte. Much difficulty was met with in a narrow gulch, known as Deep Cove, which considerably delayed operations. The men are now employed filling in this gulch to enable the graders to proceed.

Nurse Colford was recently brought from St. John's to nurse the diphtheria patients, and it is hoped all will soon be on the mending hand.

Building New Shute.

A large number of men are now at work on Bell Island with the two companies, and it is expected there will be a record output of ore there this fall. The Nova Scotia Co. are now engaged at the erection of a second shute for running the ore into the steamers. This is of steel, is of very large dimensions and will be far ahead of the shute previously there, which was of wood. The company are also building a new pier and already have one block completed.

WESLEY CHURCH.

—Outport friends are invited to Wesley Church to-morrow to both the morning and evening services. The subject for the evening service is "An All-conquering Truth."

"ANYTHING IN REASON"

Can Be Cured with Douglas Egyptian Liniment

So thinks Mr. Nathaniel W. Reid, of Enterprise, Ont. Here are his grounds for thinking so:

"Some time ago I was troubled with a lump growing on the side of my neck near the ear. I had consulted several physicians, and tried everything I could hear of, but obtained no beneficial results.

I was told to use Douglas' Egyptian Liniment, which I did and was permanently cured. Since that time I have used this Liniment for everything where an outward application is required, and have yet to learn of anything in reason that I cannot cure with it. No man has any idea of its value until he has used it, and no-one will be without it after once using it.

Mr. Reid is exactly right. No amount of praise impresses one so favorably as a trial of the Liniment itself. Try a bottle.

The Hygienic Aspects of Gas Lighting and Cooking.

Experiments were made at the Lewisham Infirmary during the month of November 1910, with the following in view:—

(1) To compare hygienically the relative values of the open fire and the Gas Radiator as warming agents.

(2) To ascertain if, and to what extent, the quality of the atmosphere of a room is affected by incandescent gas burners and lamps.

(3) To ascertain the hygienic value of the gas fire.

The experiments were carried out by Dr. F. S. Toogood, M.D. London, D.P.H., the Medical Superintendent of the Infirmary, and the full report of the experiments appeared in the London Medical Magazine, February 1911.

The general conclusions arrived were as follows:—

(1) That both large and small apartments which have normal means of ventilation gas consumed in modern incandescent burners can be used for lighting without any detriment to health, being found, in fact, to assist ventilation by the increased circulation of the air.

(2) That a gas fire, properly constructed and fixed, not only does not vitiate the air, but is a valuable adjunct to the ventilation of the room. Its advantages in the sickroom in respect of its reliability, avoidance of noise, freedom from dust producing properties, and saving of both work and anxiety, are obvious to every professional man or woman.

(3) That in large rooms, adequately ventilated, flueless gas stoves can be used for heating without any hygienic disadvantages. The heated products of combustion (mainly CO₂ and water vapour) ascending quickly above breathing level. This method of heating by radiation and convection from flueless gas stoves, is economical, but proper ventilation of the buildings in which it is adopted is essential, which, of course, is also the case whatever means of heating is adopted. A ward or other public building in which gas radiators cannot be used with advantage is improperly ventilated.

Clark-Urban Company.

The repertoire of plays selected by the Clark-Urban Company will appear at the T. A. Hall for a limited engagement, commencing next Monday evening, will select from the following list "Capt. Clay of Missouri," "In the Bishop's Carriage," "Cameo Kirby," "The Belle of Richmond," "The Little Gray Lady," "A Woman's Sacrifice," and "Zeke, the Country Boy." They are all popular and successful plays and it can truthfully be said that there will not be a dull night during the engagement. Every possible effect in the way of scenic and electrical effects are carried by the company, and together with the expensive costumes makes each and every performance as complete a dramatic spectacle as is possible to see no matter what prices are charged. Seats on sale at the Atlantic Bookstore.

Father Curran on "Franz List."

That well known high class magazine, "The Month," published by Longmans, Green & Co. of London, contains a most interesting and exhaustive article from the pen of Rev. E. F. Curran, of Pouch Cove, Nfld. The writer shows a wonderful familiarity with the life of the great Hungarian pianist and must have lost no possible opportunity to glean details of his remarkable career. Father Curran is not carried away so much by admiration for the man's great genius that he is willing to be blind to his faults. He does not, like most writers on Franz List, condone his lapses from virtue, on the contrary he shows him up as he finds him in the records so far available. Father Curran writes in a pleasing and graceful style, and it is easy to understand why some of the leading magazines of the world give his contributions such a prominent place. In the Magnificat Magazine for last month there is an excellent article from his pen on "Bigotry in English Literature," in which the Rev. Pastor of Pouch Cove shows up the absurdities of the great Charles Dickens' "Pictures From Italy," which he says is a volume, containing some of the most offensive passages and grossly false statements possible for a man to write.
