The above letters stand for the High Cost of Sugar, as warning has been issued by the gentlemen who comprise the Food Control Board that at some hour, when we know not, the price of Sugar will be advanced. Isn't it cheerful to contemplate the equanimity with which these good souls, who are filled with such solicitude for the welfare of the people, caution the public to make provision against the rise, which is in contemplation, by laying in a bountiful stock of this commodity, thus protecting themselves against any subsequent accusations that they failed to issue due and unaccompanied and moved at will timely notice of a further aero- through the various departments, planing of an article which is a examining here, suggesting there, and household necessity. However, it may be supposed that the latter is too far pledged to obligations of purchase to withdraw gracefully, and let the sugar business go back into the hands of regular importers, a course which would show exceeding wisdom, and could not possibly have any worse fesults than those already ensuing from control. With the Sugar price set at Thirty Cents per pound, people were told that per pound, people were told that the Board had saved huge sums of money for them, the amount being set in price saving at a quarter million of dollars. Governor Visits Museum

Yesterday afternoon, His Excellency the Governor paid an informal visit to the Museum. Sir Charles was in general exhibiting a thorough in-Being almost a Newfoundlander it is not at all astonishing that the Goverdominion, its people, no less than its products, and the welfare of the population is his chief care. He has a distinct recollection of the days in who chased the seals to the far north and dared the dangers of the frozen

Quite a number of trophies and relics have been recently added to the Museum's collection, among which may be mentioned several war specimens donated by that popular officer German gun-pistol, German soldier's clasp-knife, English Army Service Revolver (used by himself), and a cope presented by his sister Miss March, of the East End Post Office, all of which are well worth seeing.

Alas! Poor Fellow.

Br'er Squires is particularly unhappy, being no doubt considerably distiffued over the criticism delivered by His Excellency at the Memorial Service on Sunday last. We would remind our genial brother that we are in no way responsible for the attitude of His Excellency on this memorable occasion. We are not admitted into his confidence and are not permitted to suggest any line of action. If we were we would have attempted to coach His Excellency on the trend of public opinion on the Woodford-Squires-Gibbs embroglio, and impress bs embroglio, and impres on him the wisdom of placing those itlemen before an honest and impockets of the people, and thus they will be led to look upon the Food Control (Sugar) Board as one of the greatest institutions ever created and one that in its benefactions to the population of this dominion was without equal anywhere.

Fact of one who has the best interest of the country at heart and who realizing that the pruning knife was necessary in regard to the sectarian outbursts of the 'Star,' did not hesitate to speak out liainly and forcibly. We anticipated this attack by the 'Star' upon the Governor. We are surprised that it is not more venemous, but there is yet time for the 'Star' to go the whole hog and refer to this Excellency in the Cashin-Higgins-Harris bunch of hang-er-downs.—Com.

Obituary. THOMAS KENNEDY, HOLVEOOD. "Death loveth the young and the brave" was brought home to us all very forcibly when the sad news of Thomas Kennedy's death was flashed from Grand Falls on Wednesday evening last, and from our own feelings we could well estimate the grief of his relatives by whom he was dearly loved. Tom graduated from the High School in 1917, in his 14th year, and was a great favorite with his fellow pupils, who looked upon him as clever, humorous, and gamesome, and these characteristics appealed to his brave young heart. The spirit of work and adventure was in his blood. Starting out to seek his for-tune early in youth, he first emigrated to Sydney and worked a season there. Returning home he proceeded to Grand/Falls, where he obtained a position in the A.N.D. Co. industries. Early in February last he met with an accident, which seriously injured his arm and confined him for some months in the Company's Hospital. He ecovered from his injuries, but late was stricken with Diphtheria, which developed into paralysis, and other though fatal struggle to combat the repeated attacks of disease. Every-thing possible was done to save his life at the Company's Hospital by Drs. Scott and Moore; Nurses Dawe and Parsons; and Rev. Wm. Finn and the

But on it seems so long
Since our dear cousin left us
To join the heavenly throng;
The heavenly gates were open wide,
The gentle voice said Come,

Welcomed our loved one home.
You suffered much, you murmured not
We watched you day by day,
Until at last, with broken heart
We saw you pass away."
