"MADE-IN-CALGARY" FAIR A HUGE SUCCESS

As Result of Labors of Women's Alliance, $1,500 Will Be Devoted to Charities in Calgary

The "Made-in-Calgary" fair has been called a success, and industrially and socially it certainly was successful while the latest figures prove that financially in far exceeded the anticipations of its organizers. While a few bills are not yet in, it may be taken as correct that the profits were $1,500, the bulk of which will go to the Woman's Alliance and the remainder to be divided between other charitable societies.

This is most encouraging, as the expenses of rental, lighting, insurance and decorating were tremendously high.

In the first place the idea was to boost Calgary as a manufacturing center, the Woman's Alliance hardly figuring on having more than a slight balance. As the manufacturers, however, turned out to rent booths, and the public took great and greater interest in the fair, the idea broadened, and now the women, though unwilling to run the show into this week, are enthusiastic over making it an annual affair.

Each year, it is hoped, there will be more and more manufacturers in the city with goods to exhibit, and in this way the city itself will grow and prosper.

That the affair was the idea and work of women it is significant of the larger place which women are taking in the world's affairs.

THE MILITANT SUFFRAGETTE

You can talk of life on the ocean wave
Or sing of the roaring gale,
Of the trumpet's call as the billows fall
Like demons upon the sail;
But give me the life of the suffragette,
With powder and torch and fuse.
And I'll guarantee, as I wander free,
To cut a swath in the news.

I'll burn a castle, a house or a shed,
And slip away in the dark;
As a matter of pride I'll stand aside
To laugh at my midnight lark.
I'll fill a mail box with acid or oil;
I'll blow up a bridge with glee;
And I'll say to the judge: "What, ho! oh, fudge!
Now what can you do to me?

"If you send me to jail I'll hunger-strike,
And when I get out once more
I'll join in the fray in the same old way,
But worse than I did before."
Oh, the life of a Suffragette for me,
It's out of the beaten track,
And the thing I like when I war and strike
The gentlemen can't hit back.

—Warry Shaw.

THE THEATRES

"LITTLE MISS BROWN" AT SHERMAN GRAND

"Little Miss Brown" dropped off in Calgary yesterday for a three days' visit on the return journey of a transcontinental trip which has been most pleasant, to say nothing of the remunerative features. The billposter and the press agent called her the "cutest girl that ever came to town," and everybody who saw the performance last night will admit that the compliment is no misnomer. It is questionable if the stage of the Sherman Grand has ever been occupied by a more charming little actress than Madge Kennedy; for natural winsomeness and thorough appreciation of the requirements of her role, nothing approaching her performance has been seen in Calgary. It is the absolute simplicity and natural manners of the girl which gives her work such a charm in the part of the innocent country girl.

"Little Miss Brown" is a sparkling little farce comedy, something along the lines of "Over Night," another farce by the same author seen here last spring. The scenes are laid in a hotel, where little Miss Brown, an unsophisticated maiden, wanders after she has been robbed of her purse. Refused admission by one clerk, she takes the advice of a slangy telephone girl and pretends to the night clerk that she is a Mrs. He takes her at once for a Mrs. Dennison who is expected to meet Mr. Dennison later, and little Miss Brown is assigned to an expensive suite. How Mr. Dennison comes in later, goes to his own room in the apartment, how both come out to find themselves in a predicament made worse by the arrival of the real Mrs. Dennison, and the way in which they untangle themselves, is told in two more acts.

The company is splendidly balanced and every member gives a finished performance. William Morris, in the part of Richard Dennison, gives just the right comedy touch in his impersonation of the wrongfully accused husband and his work throughout is just what one would expect from so experienced an actor. Ned A. Sparks is very droll in the part of the house detective, also the day clerk, and Mattie Ferguson has the manners and brogue of a hotel maid down to perfection.

"Little Miss Brown" is worthy if crowded houses for the balance of the engagement, which includes a special Wednesday matinee.

MANY STARS OF STAGE WILL PLAY IN CALGARY

Program of the Local Theatres for the Summer Months Will Be the Best Ever in the West.

A handy pamphlet issued by the Green Room club of Calgary gives some information which will be much to the delight of the playgoers of the city. A brief sketch of the objects of the club is followed by a list of the various players and plays to be seen in Calgary before the end of July. If is to be doubted if ever in such a small city such an array of stars of the stage ever appeared in such a short range of time.

Rose Stahl, Maude Adams, Blanche Bates, Cecilia Loftus, Ethel Barrymore, Alice Lloyd and Vesta Victoria are but a few from a list which will serve but to whet the appetite of even the most jaded of theatre-frequenters. Added to these is a long list of the vaudeville stars who will appear in the course of things at the Orpheum, which has a way of giving of the best from even among the high class performers.

Perhaps of the whole list the greatest interest will be taken in the ever-young "Peter Pan," which will be played here by Maude Adams. This is the first appearance of Barrie's fairy play in the west, and there will be no end of interest taken by old and young in its coming. Rose Stahl, a Canadian, by the way, as the pamphlet points out, will play in her latest success, "Maggie Pepper," while the inimitable Eddie Foy will be seen in a whole musical comedy of his own with his kids and some extraneous aid. The Orpheum programs for the summer will include many stars from al lthe countries of the world.

DAYS OF CHIVALRY ARE PAST.

London, April 28.—The rotten egg is an ancient political argument, but it has never been systematized. No party organization has ever had a committee specially told off for the collection, maturing, and free distribution of hen fruit. Now, however, an English iconoclast has come forward with a proposal to meet suffragism with decayed eggism. His unchivalrous notion is that a committee should be formed to provide the necessary ammuhition; that this should be served out to pickets whose duty it would be to "shadow" all the prominent suffragettes and pelt them early and often with the malodorous missiles. He contends that if this were done thoroughly the ladies in question would be unable to go anywhere. No woman could endure constantly filthy clothes, and the horrible stench of the antique ovoids. Women could fast, he urges, because, after all, fasting can be learned, and anyhow the fatter varieties of the sex would welcome a little starvation, but no woman could learn to love rotten eggs. Of course, eggs are dear, but the iconoclast aforesaid has thought of that and proposes that the pickets should be systematically trained with dummy eggs, so as to prevent waste of the precious missiles themselves. Moreover, he suggests the use of a kind of catapult, like those used by the Japanese to throw grenades at the Russians. By this means, he considers, the suffragettes could be hit at great distances and the putrid projectiles could be hurled into their houses. They would always have eggs for breakfast, and garden parties would become impossible. What the suffragettes think of the character of the man who could devise such a discourteous scheme is not yet on record.

goes on steadily as provided for and stored close at hand in our warehouse on 11th Avenue for bringing down to our sales floors to fill up the drawals of each day's sales. We must not be "weighed on the scales and found wanting" when our regular customers look to us and the new people coming to our progressive city every day. There are many more and much finer goods than formerly and the majority are exclusive.

The Neilson-Karpen Alliance

The majority of the most beautiful pieces of upholstered leather furniture on our main floor are from Karpen Bros., Chicago. The fine workmanship is well known, yet it may be interesting to many people who have knowledge of this sumptuous furniture that Neilson's is the only store where these pieces can be found. A piece of Karpen furniture may be a simple leather rocker at $28.50, or the most elaborate 2-piece suite at $246.50

Yet throughout every piece there is uniformity of high quality in materials, construction and finish. All examination of these Karpen pieces on our main floor will be of keen interest to all choosers of furniture.

Draperies, Curtains, and Hangings Made to Order

NEILSON'S

Guaranteed Re-Upholstering Done

Home and Its New Draperies

Home holds first place in the heart at all seasons. The question of improving the home in order is as perfect as springtime itself. The feeling of change keeps time with nature: there is a longing for lighter textures and brighter colors.

Visit our 4th floor and see how carefully we have anticipated your moods and desires. The spring and summer things are here, the bright chintzes at 35c to 60c a yard, beautiful taffeta cloths at 80c, cretonnes at 25c a yard, and dimities at 50c a yard. Very worthy are the cretonnes in old Dutch patterns, in shades of pink, blue and brown, so appropriate for the nursery or a child's room. These are some of the new summery hangings we have to show you on the 4th floor.

A SPONGE BATH

Sounds cool and trickling, doesn't it? It is. A big, fat Turkish towel is indispensable to a refreshing summer tub, and Neilson's is loaded for "bare" with every imaginable kind, with an unequalled assortment of towels. For regular use is a medium priced towel, priced at 40c a pair, size 18 by 40 inches. Another kind—"the sandpaper species"—which leaves behind a glowing, healthy complexion. These are large size, 25 by 52 inches, and priced at $1.25 a pair, and then there are others just as good on the 4th floor.
