

Croup at Night

No longer causes alarm

WHEN the child seems croupy in the evening apply Vicks over throat and chest. It usually averts a night attack. If croup comes on without warning, use of Vicks often brings relief in 15 minutes—eases rough breathing, subdues the brassy cough. Vicks is ideal for all children's cold troubles—it avoids so much dosing. Just as good for grown-ups' colds, and for cuts, burns, bruises, stings and skin itchings.

the sick child by forcing him to swallow nauseous oils and mixtures. Children dread these remedies, and this leads them to hide the little ills until serious trouble results. Most of childhood's troubles originate in constipation and disorders of the stomach. To correct these conditions you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Tablets.

One tablet at bedtime will do the work and make your child bright and sunny the following morning. The liver is stimulated, the stomach cleansed and the bowels purified—safely and gently. Little folks appreciate them.

TAXATION AND MODERN COMMUNITIES

At a time like the present when one of the chief political cries in civic provincial and dominion affairs is a cry against taxation it might do nobody any harm to reflect that after all taxes are necessary, and have to be levied and must be paid. There ought to be a distinct recognition of the inevitable nature of taxes, and no one ought to be carried away by partisan denunciations of official "extravagance," or by fulminations against iniquity of specified taxes being imposed by reckless governing bodies upon oppressed and overburdened taxpayers. In our community there must be taxes and the taxes have to be considerable, and efficiently collected, the criticism against government would be a great deal more vigorous than it is at present. But our administrative bodies must at all times keep the cost of these services, which are now considered necessary, at a minimum.

The society in which we are living is the most complicated and exclusive in the history of the world. You cannot lift your eyes without seeing some work, some service, some utility which we simply would not do without, but which is a charge on the public revenues, and a heavy charge at that. If we pay heavy taxes, we get heavy service in return; and the point is that even under highly efficient and economical administration taxes in a modern community are bound to be high. We can get nothing that is not paid for; and the enormous body of public undertakings which constitutes the backbone of our civilization are all charges on the community at large and would constitute a tremendous expense even if administered without the waste of a single dollar.

It is worth while recollecting the foregoing facts, trite and obvious as they are. They may help us to retain the correct perspective about taxes which the heated criticisms from opponents of various taxes might otherwise distort. There can be no escape from heavy taxation by communities such as ours, the problem lies in economic administration of the public revenues, and the distribution of the taxes over the general body of the population in accordance with their individual ability to pay.—Canadian Finance.

Ten Commandments Of The Curler

By Broomstick

1. Thou shalt have no other game before me, for I am the Roaring Game which was in the beginning (even in the stone age) is now, and ever shall be.

2. Come not upon the ice with the old house broom for thou canst not quicken the pace of a dying rock with a last year's broom.

3. Thou shalt learn thy turns both in the in and the out, for the skip will not hold his guileless that throweth a wrong turn.

4. Play not a running shot when thou art asked for a guard lest thou raise thy own shot, so sending the skip in the air; such play getteth his goat, queereth his game, causeth him to swallow his gum, and to revile thee openly.

5. Thou shalt harken diligently to the defeated skip when his voice is lifted up in lamentations against the punk ice, and thou shalt not turn thy face from him when he blameth his third man. Even so shalt thou secure a listener against the day of thine own defeat.

6. Thou shalt not strew straws from thy broom in the path of thine own or thine adversary's rock, neither shalt thou spit in front of them causing them to halt in their course and to die suddenly and become Pork, for even as Pork is an abomination to the Jews, so also is a Hog in the sight of the skip.

7. Thou shalt have no discourse with thine adversary while his foot is in the Hack and his hand on the rock, but if thou wilt thou canst pray for him.

8. Thou shalt not push or kick a rock into the house from behind stealthily, for the opposing skip will know of a surety and his anger will be kindled against thee and he will rise up in righteous indignation over thee and he will smite thee with his broom handle, and thrust thee thence from the sight of the Curlers and the days of thy curling will be ended, for

Most headaches due to lack of internal cleanliness

WHEN you are constipated, poisons form in the accumulated food waste. These poisons, absorbed by the blood, are carried throughout the body. Headaches follow. Biliousness, sleepless nights, lack of energy, all result from constipation. Each of these takes away piecemeal something of your health and strength. In time, intestinal poisoning due to lack of internal cleanliness may cause the breakdown of some vital organ.

In constipation, say intestinal specialists, lies the primary cause of more than three-quarters of all illness including the gravest diseases of life.

More Important Than Soap and Water

Laxatives Aggravate Constipation

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.
