IS REVUE LEADER

Act at Loew's Includes Several Natives of Ontario in Cast.

Stuart's Scotch Revue, an act of exceptional merit, playing at Loew's the remainder of this week, includes severa! Londoners.

Mrs. Edna Stuart, wife of Donald Stuart, leader of the troupe, was before her marriage Edna Bray of this She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bray, 74 Orchard street. Playing with her is her sister Gertrude Bray, also of this city.

Other members of the revue include Pauline Mann of St. Thomas and Doris Langley and Loretta Ryordon, both of Toronto. Mr. Stuart, although of Scot tish birth, is also Canadian. musical and comedy numbers of the girls—all of a size—do an amaz-ingly rapid clog dance, four dance a Scottish oddity, and they all take part in the bagpipe band. Stuart has an excellent singing voice, and his diction is good. The six wear Highland costumes and are very entertaining. According to accounts of the act in the American papers, it is a show-stopper, and one of the best acts on Loew's circuit. The act has been on many of the prominent American vaudeville circuits, including the Orpheum circuit, the Pantages circuit and Loew's.

We are anxious to negotiate with you for a permanent settlement of the transportation problem. The question involved is of great importance to both the company and the city. Present and future service requirements, routes, fares and improvements should all be considered and in our opinion it will be possible to make a new beginning un-der fair and equitable terms and to have an understanding that will insure the establishment and maintenance of a thoroughly co-ordinated transportation system reaching all parts of London, serving the citizens efficiently oy means of street cars and buses, and thus pro-moting the general development of our To this end we will be glad to enter into negotiations with you or any Crown Prince of Kurdistan, also known committee that you see fit to appoint as Prince Mohammed Serdecheno, who to deal with this matter.

In the interim we are prepared, with the co-operation of the city council, to cived a sentence of a year's imprisondo all in our power to maintein our ment as an impostor,

There is no room for skepticism about it. It cimes straight from the society desk, where all day long they handle truth, the whole truth, and nothing else but. Furthermore, we were told about it by the same auburnhaired authority who tipped us off to the mistletoe shortage just before Christmas.

She is much in earnest about it. It was all in a magazine she read recently. No ordinary magazine, mind you, but a frightfully expensive one, costing $200 a year, and hence extremely rare among newspaper people.
