Prominent Men in Danger London, Jan. 15.—The only news of the earthquake at Kingston, Jamaica, thus far received in London is confined in brief despatches from New York. In addition to a great number of English-men in business at Kingston, there is at present a party of distinguished persons on a visit there to attend an agricultural conference. There is much uneasiness on their account. This party left Bristol, England, on Dec. 30, on board the steamer Port Kingston for Kingston. It was composed of about sixty prominent British statesmen and agriculturists. It formed an expedition to the West Indies in the interest of cotgrowing in the British colonies, on invitation of Sir Alfred Jones, the association. "The solid Liberal-Conservative will be returned on the 2nd of February in Vancouver." This statement is made by a prominent Vancouver manufacturer in a communication to a Victoria friend. He says that the Terminal City electors intend doing the same thing as they did four years ago. The feeling is strongly in favor of the endorsation of Premier-Mc-Bride's administration, he affirms, and he expresses confidence that it will be unmistakably evinced on polling day. A Greenwood correspondent writes: "The chances of the Conservative candidates in Greenwood and Grand Forks ridings are very promising. Nothing but a stampede will defeat Warren, and Miller in Grand Forks riding is almost a sure winner."

Work of a Great Premier. New Zealand's plunge into experi government were worked out by Right Honorable R. J. Seddon, premier of the colony, assisted by Sir Joseph Ward, leader in action leader in parliament, and others pron nent in official and business life.

Called to responsible position by a political upheaval in 1890, Mr. Seddon and his co-workers found the country in sore straits. Times were hard, farm lands were heavily mortgaged, a general strike had paralyzed industries, and strike had paralyzed industries, and many persons were leaving the country.

With the resolution and foresight of a statesman, Mr. Seddon applied himself to devising measures of relief. One by one, steps were taken in the direction of reform and the application of advanced ideas, until gradually the present class. ent elaborate system of government ownership and control was worked out.

One of the features of the new idea was the extension of suffrage to all, to nen as well as men, to Maoris as Strange as it may seem, the railroads of New Zealand are conducted for the benefit of the people. They cost the government over $100,000,000. Low rates are made for passengers and shippers, and these rates are reduced whenever possible.
