At my stable there I now have Girofia, Sutler, Hopeful, Deceiver, Harold and Mr. Pickwick. I've got another horse entered for the Derby, which I shall buy if he shows sufficient speed. I lost $60,000 on the last races, but I'm go-ing back in April to have another bout with the bookmakers."

Wallace Ross can, when fit and well, and on a fine day, row three miles with a turn on still water inside 20 minutes. This dison still water inside 20 minutes. This dis-tance is about equal to the Thames cham-pionship course, which, though about four miles and a furlong, has at least a quarter of its distance neutralized by the strong tide which runs through the British water highway. The Reason Why. From the Montreal Witness.

The elevation of Tennyson to the peer-age places the late and present premier on an equality as regards the conferment of hereditary dignitaries, though Gladstone's term of office has exceeded that of Lord Beaconsfield already by nineteen months. In his first term Lord Beaconsfield made or advanced eleven peers; Gladstone in his first, thirty-five. It his second Lord Beaconsfield promoted forty-five, including himself, and Mr. Gladstone, since he last accepted office in 1880, has added twenty-one to the list.
