INJUNCTION AGAINST LONDON MOTORS

Prohibited From Cashing Bond Secured from Warwick Man

Toronto, Sept. 20.—The story revealing how Robert Wilkinson, aged 95 years, was induced to invest a $5000 Victory Bond in shares in a way that is described as "grossly foolish and imprudent" is told in a judgment written by Justice Fisher. His lordship directs that the papers in the case be laid before the crown attorney for Lambton for that officer to take what action he deems proper.

Robert Wilkinson lives in the Township of Warwick, Lambton County. He was a shareholder in London Motors, Limited. On July 23 last M. Lewis and a man calling himself Conley called upon him and induced him to take further shares. He decided to invest an additional $1,000 in shares, the judgment states and went to his bedroom to get his check book. Conley followed him and on the drawer being pulled out a $5,000 Victory Bond was exposed. The old man gave checks aggregating $1,000 and his visitors departed.

Two days later Lewis appeared again and with him was W. R. Stansell, president of the company. "They were after the $5,000 Victory Bond," says Justice Fisher. They asked the old man to let them have the bond and they would not only return it to him in 30 days, but would pay over to him $2,500, the judgment continues. Lewis took the bond and gave a receipt to the effect that it had been received in payment for shares.

Shortly afterwards a bank manager at Forest, the judgment says, telephoned the old man's son that an effort was being made to cash his father's bond. The son at once took action and secured an interim injunction restraining the holders negotiating the bond.

Justice Fisher continues the injunction to the trial.

"If this company," he says, is not able to exist without the aid of money secured as the bond and checks were alleged to have been secured in this transaction and not denied, it then seems to me the shareholders would be considering their best interests by holding an investigation of the methods adopted in selling its shares."

for May was $53.29 and for June $32.18, while deposits in May 1922 amounted to $86.08 and June $56.79. The highest average of any school in Canada was secured by Guelph with 61 cents per pupil.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Marsh was the centre on Thursday evening of a gathering of the Sunday school workers of the St. James Presbyterian church, who came to say goodbye and to show their appreciation of the services of Miss Effie Marsh, in the work of the Sunday school both as pianist and teacher.
