

preparations are being made to have our first "field-day" next autumn. Now that the initial step has been taken, we trust that the committee will be successful in making all necessary arrangements for the coming event. It will be a new phase in college life, and should meet with the hearty approval of all.

On return from reception:

X—"Are you bumming to-night, Thom?"

G. W. T.—"I'm neither a bummer, nor on the bum, but I've been bummed."

We were favored on February 23rd by a special visit from Drs. Robertson and Warden, who gave us very stirring and interesting addresses on home mission work, especially in the Northwest. Several of the city ministers were among those present to hear the learned gentlemen. Prin. MacVicar referred in glowing terms to many of the Alumni who were doing noble mission work, which brought forth loud applause from the students.

Mr. W. J. Inglis, who has been on the sick list for the past few days, owing to the "grippe," has so far recovered as to be up and doing. Mr. A. G. Cameron, who also was gripped with its relentless grasp, is, we are pleased to say, now fully recovered.

Mr. E. Turkington, who was in the hospital, undergoing an operation, has quite recovered, and is back on the North Flat again.

A shrewd little fellow, who had just begun to study Latin, astonished his teacher by the following definition: Vir-a man; gin-a trap; Virgin-a man-trap.—Ex.

The following clipping may prove of interest to some:

Mr. Donald Stewart, of the Presbyterian College, Mont-real, who occupied his father's pulpit at Laguerre, February 19th, preached an excellent sermon from the text: Heb. 12: 1, to a large and appreciative congregation. Mr. Stewart will be heard with pleasure again.
