

the distances between centres of population. It would be perhaps necessary, therefore, to confine the movement for a time to places within easy reach of the University. There was no reason, however, why such a scheme should not be started in Montreal itself and other university towns, as well as places in the vicinity. It should certainly be tried, and it was to be hoped that something would be done next season in this direction." In conclusion, Prof. Cox expressed his disapproval of the idea of using these proposed university extension lectures as a means of obtaining degrees. The students who attended them should do so for the sake of the benefit they derived therefrom, without having any other object than that of self-improvement.

—The ceremonies connected with the dedication of Divinity House and the new College School at Lennoxville were of the most interesting character, and all who took part in them speak in the highest terms of the way in which the day was spent. We have elsewhere given a report in part of the Bishop's address, and from all that was said by the various gentlemen who spoke on the occasion, the prospects of the institution are brighter than they ever were. Dr. Heneker felt assured that every member of corporation, every friend of Bishop's College would rejoice that they possessed a hall worthy to be so named, handing down to posterity a tangible proof in solid material of brick and stone of their estimate of His Lordship's great and beneficial interest in higher education as carried on in this institution; while Dr. Adams, the Principal, gave a brief historical sketch of the enterprise which has led to the building of the Divinity House and the restoration of the School building. Among those who are mentioned as having given liberally towards the support of the institution in its present efforts are, Mr. Robert Hamilton, Hon. E. J. Price, Colonel King, Mr. Ives, M.P., and the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge. The people of the Eastern Townships have subscribed nearly five thousand dollars for the late improvements.

—We have just heard of changes that are likely to take place in Stanstead College and in St. Francis College. It is reported that Principal McAmmond has finally withdrawn from the former, and in face of the success which has attended his efforts in behalf of that institution, we are inclined to regret his decision to return to the ministry. Last year has been one of the most successful the school has seen, and to Mr. McAmmond is due for the most part the prosperous condition in which he leaves it. It is said that Mr. McAmmond's successor has been appointed in the person of Principal Bannister, of St. Francis, a
